Tax Raise Certain-But Total Is Mystery

For the first time in some years the people in the Plymouth community are faced with a tax increase — but how big still is a mystery and depends on where you live.

According to the officials who are working on the budgets the jump could be anywhere from one to three mills, depending on how the City Commission decides to handle its proposed street improvement program.

If the Commission decides to go on a pay-as-you-go plan for the projected $150,000 cost of the improvement, it will mean that the taxes will have to be raised at least two mills.

This two mill increase would take care of approximately $100,000 of the cost.

The two-mill increase or pay-as-you-go program is being recommended by City Manager Richard Blodgett. A year ago the indebtedness was bonded.

The first definite announcement of an increase came last Monday night when Melvin Blunk, assistant superintendent of Schools informed the members of the school board that the budget for 1968-69 would be increased approximately $996,000 and that he would be forced to use the one mill voted by the people that had been held in escrow. This would affect the taxpayers throughout the school district.

"I tried to figure at our old rate of 19.65," he said, "and it didn't work out. So I had to go to the 20.65. This mill is part of the two mill increase approved a few years ago. Only one mill of the amount was used until now."

So, in the face of these figures, there is definitely an increase of one mill — and it could jump to three mills if the City Commission adopts the recommendation of the City Manager.

LIVONIA — Residents of Arbor Estates subdivision in Livonia trooped to City Hall for the third time in a number of weeks Wednesday night to protest rezoning of their residential area to allow for the building of a new 25-acre apartment and shopping center complex. The multi-million-dollar development would be constructed at Hix and Joy Roads. City Council voting on the issue was postponed again. Home-owners in Arbor Estates say they'll attend every Council meeting in the future to voice their protest "no matter what."

LIVONIA — The city will elect a mayor, clerk, treasurer, four city councilmen, two constables, and either approve or reject a charter revision proposal at the polls Monday. Incumbents are seeking reelection, except for one councilman. The day will be a holiday for city employees, and liquor sales will be curtailed while the polls are open.

FARMINGTON — The Farmington Township group fighting for road improvements voted Wednesday night to affiliate with the Oakland County protest group WHAR (Why Have Awful Roads?). More than 200 people jammed Gill Rd. Elementary School in the township to hear WHAR Chairman Ben East assail the County Road Commission as being unresponsive to the public needs.

FARMINGTON — The Farmington Board of Education approved a tentative school budget of $10,903,482 last week with indications that it might submit a millage increase proposal to the voters in June. In November, the voters turned down a five-mill request. That was the first such millage defeat in the history of the school district.

REDFORD — A charge of "assault with intent to kill" has been issued on a warrant for Ellis Ross, 30, Detroit, suspected of shooting a Redford Township policeman while fleeing from capture after armed robbery of $10,730 from a Redford Township bank. The policeman, Patrolman Christopher Horn, suffered a fractured upper leg bone. Ross has also been charged with armed robbery by federal agents.

REDFORD — Redford Union schools will seek an increased operational millage of four mills in June, three of which will be a new levy and one to be picked up from debt levy. Total levy will then hit 39 mills in that primarily residential community.

Battle Of Budgets Opens On All Fronts

By W. W. EDGAR
The Battle of the Budgets will open on two more fronts this week when the Plymouth City Commission and the Township Trustees begin the annual struggle to keep their finances balanced. Unless the City Commission agrees to a delay of a week to give City Manager Richard

Blodgett more time to prepare the figures, the city budget will be presented Monday night. Twenty four hours later Township Supervisor John McEwen will unfold a projected spending plan to the Trustees. And what will happen in either case is anybody's guess. The real battle started last Monday night when Assistant Superintendent of Schools Melvin Blunk informed the Plymouth Community School Board that the 1968-69 budget would be increased by approximately $996,000. Further, he pointed out, that this figure was arrived at without any sort of salary adjustments for the teachers. HE THEN gave a signal of what might happen along the line when he announced that he was forced to use the one mill that was approved by the taxpayers and which has been held in escrow until now. "I had no other choice," he confided. Meanwhile City Manager Blodgett confessed that he was knee deep in figures and may not have the tentative budget ready by Monday night—the time set in the charter for the annual presentation.

"It has been postponed before," he said. "We just got a bad break that the first of the month came on our meeting night."

The city manager let it be known that the budget would show an increase over a year ago, but how much he wasn't prepared to say until he could finalize some of the studies over the weekend.

"We are increasing our services this year, or planning to," he said, "by getting started on our street program and we hope to have an entry in the budget for recreation."

"Both of these are sizable expenditures," he went on, "and there is no telling just what effect they will have."

"ASIDE FROM that we have granted wage increases in the DPW, along with fringe benefits, and, no doubt," he continued, "we will have other increases along the line."

"How much higher we will be," he sighed from beneath the piles of paper, "I don't really know. But we'll give it a good fight."

In the Township, Supervisor McEwen also was working frantically to get the figures prepared for Tuesday's meeting. "I can only give you approximate figures," he explained, "but it looks as though we will have about an $85,000 increase in the budget. It looks like the final figure to be presented will be about $350,000—and this is up $85,000 or almost 25 per cent."

Asked what caused the increases he quickly pointed out that salary increases brought about part of it.

"We also have added four new positions—two in the DPW, a building inspector and another employee in the clerk's office." He explained that the work in the DPW is being divided and the building inspector now will be on his own in the DPW.

"A $20,000 ADDITION to the Township Hall, $5,000 for work along Tonquish Creek and $5,000 toward recreation accounted for much of the rise."

"One thing is sure," Little Jack remarked, "we are ready to wage a real battle and there'll be no deficit spending."

That was the cry all along the line as the battalions formed to open the real battle of the budgets.

THE ANNUAL SPRING PROBLEM — Never a Spring goes by but what the firemen in all areas are called to fight brush fires. Here the Plymouth Township firemen are shown waging a struggle in an area near Haggerty Road.

Township Turns Back Request For Apartments

What appeared to be a minor technicality, has caused the Plymouth Township Board to delay approval of two rezoning requests one of which would open the way for 192 more apartments.

Although the petitioners asked to have their requests considered separately, the board decided to treat the petitions, of Harold Fischer and Alan Tann which were initiated last February, as one package.

Fischer's petition asked that property fronting Plymouth Rd., running west from Leo Calhoun Ford to Haggerty Rd. and south from Plymouth Rd. approximately 250 feet be changed from M-1 (industrial) to C-2 (commercial).

Tann's petition asked that property adjoining Fischer's southern limit to Edward Hines Park and going east from Haggerty Rd. to an apartment complex already in existence behind the Plymouth Bowl be changed from M-1 to R-2-A (garden apartments).

However, when the petitions came before the township planning commission that body decided to treat these as one package since they were so closely linked.

Originally the package included two other petitions. One was from Leonard S. Herman who wanted a portion of his commercial property behind the Plymouth Bowl changed to R-2-A.

The other was on the planning commission's own motion to change the zoning of the property directly behind the Plymouth Bowl from R-3-A to R-2-A so that it would conform with that around it.

Herman became disgruntled at the long delay given to his request and was about to withdraw it Tuesday night if the board didn't act on it separately. The board then granted his petition, and Herman now has the garden apartment zoning he needs to be able to add two containing 24 units to his existing complex. Continued on Page 2A

City Starts Own Garbage Plan In Business Section

Starting next Monday, April 1, the City of Plymouth will take over responsibility for collecting garbage and will put into effect a revised plan for all commercial customers.

With the inauguration of the plan the customers will be given a choice of three services.

Under the new plan the city will bill the commercial customers directly each month and all service questions and complaints should be submitted to the City Manager.

SEEKS HIGHER HONORS — Last year's spring clean-up of the Middle Rouge River, done in conjunction with the Sunset Area Boy Scouts, has been recognized as the best pollution control project conducted by the Michigan Jaycees in 1967. The Plymouth Chapter now is hopeful of gaining national recognition and Dr. Robert Turck, Reports and Recognition Chairman, is shown here preparing to send the report to National Jaycee Headquarters.

Hinck Gets Top Post At Western Electric

Clarence E. Hinck of Northville has been named to fill a newly created managerial post at Western Electric on April 1.

As manager, Michigan area, his responsibilities will include all installation functions and distributing house operations for the Bell System in Michigan.

He will remain located at the company's Michigan Service Center, 909 N. Sheldon, Plymouth. He previously served there as manager of the company's Detroit area installation unit.

His career with Western Electric spans 35 years and covers installation assignments from coast to coast.

He joined Western Electric as an installer in Portland, Ore., in 1932.

He and his wife, Dorris, have a son, John, in his junior year at the University of Arizona, and a married daughter, Karen, who teaches in a Milan school.

Hinck is past president of the Northville Estate Civic Association, is active in the Detroit United Foundation, and served for three years on the City of Northville Planning Commission.

Both he and his wife, who reside at 21237 Summerside Lane, have been active in church work. Mrs. Hinck serves as a volunteer at the Northville State Hospital.

Romney Picked--For One Ballot

Even though he officially has withdrawn from the race, Gov. George Romney has been cast in the role of a favorite son candidate for the GOP presidential nomination at the national convention by the delegates from the Wayne County-2nd Congressional District—at least for the first ballot.

This action was agreed upon unanimously at the district GOP meeting on Wednesday evening at GOP headquarters on Main Street in Plymouth.

At the same time, seven delegates were named for the state convention at Cobo Hall on April 26-27, along with a like number of alternates.

The official delegates will be E.O. Weber, Jean Allen, Carl Pursell, Marty Kornegger, Fred Harrison, Richard Allen and Cecilia Phelan.

The alternates will include James E. McCarthy, Eugene Stermer, James Lewicki, Richard Wolf, Jack Podbielski, Robert Rowland and Florence McCarthy.

porting Romney read: "Resolved that the Wayne 2nd Congressional District delegates pledge their support to Gov. George Romney as their favorite son candidate on the first ballot at the national convention."

It was agreed that the pledge would end after the first ballot and the delegates would be free to make their own choice.

In contrast, no other district in Wayne or Oakland County went on record pledging support for Romney.

Junior High Boundaries Changed

With a new middle school scheduled to open next fall, boundaries for the two Junior High schools had to be changed to proportion the children evenly to the three schools.

William Harding, assistant superintendent for secondary education, said that he has proposed new boundaries for Junior Highs East and West, except for ninth grade students who will remain at Junior High East for one more year.

Harding said these proposed boundaries still have to be approved by the school board.

The new boundaries are recommended as follows:

EIGHTH GRADE BOUNDARIES
Junior High School - East
 Beginning at a point directly north of Harvey St. and proceeding east along a straight line through Hardenberg St. (including students living on the north and south sides of Hardenberg St.) to the intersection of the C & O Railroad and Eckles Rd.

Then south on Eckles Rd. to Joy Rd. Then west on Joy Rd. (including students living on the north and south sides of Joy Rd.) to Rocker St. Then north on Rocker St. (including students living on the east and west sides of Rocker St.) to Ann Arbor Rd.

Then west on Ann Arbor Rd. (including students on the north and south sides of Ann Arbor Rd. to Harvey St. Then north on Harvey St. (including students living on the east and west sides of Harvey St.) to the point of beginning.

Junior High School - West
 Beginning at the intersection of the C & O Railroad and Sheldon Rd. and proceeding north on Sheldon Rd. to the northern school district boundary. Then east on the northern school district boundary line to Eckles Rd.

Then south on Eckles Rd. to the intersection of the C & O Railroad. Then west on a line through Hardenberg St. (not including students living on Hardenberg St.) to a point directly north of Harvey St. Then south on Harvey St. (not including students living on Harvey St.)

Legend: S, means number of students and T, means number of teachers.

Apartment Request Turned Back

The board, also approved the planning commission's own motion for change in zoning to conform with surrounding property.

However, they would not grant Fischer or Tann their petitions because the Tann property did not have a 60-foot-road with direct access to Plymouth Rd.

Even though Tann showed plans that his apartments would have two exits and entrances onto Haggerty Rd., the board felt that this was not enough.

Besides, the board said, one of the Haggerty Rd. exits was unacceptable.

Tann's representative, Tom Notebaert, explained that the property did have a 20-foot easement through Fischer's property to Plymouth Rd. but planned to use it only as a fire route.

Notebaert said that if the board would require a 60-foot-road through Fischer's property it could be arranged but Fischer would lose about 40 feet of commercial property by selling to Tann.

Fischer, stated that for the record he would sell Tann the necessary 40 feet so that the zoning request could be acted on.

The board countered that it wanted more than agreement and would require a firm commitment in writing.

In this light, the board delayed any action on the rezoning petitions for one more week.

Middle School #3 - All other 8th grade students not living within the boundaries established for the Junior High School East and the Junior High School West will be assigned to Middle School No. 3.

SEVENTH GRADE BOUNDARIES

Junior High School West - Beginning at the intersection of Beck Rd. and the school district boundary on the north and preceding east on the northern school district boundary to Eckles Rd., then south on Eckles Rd. to Plymouth Rd.

Dems Ask Open Housing Support

James R. Walter, chairman of the Second Congressional District Chapter of the Michigan Conference of Concerned Democrats, announced today the support of that organization for open housing and urged the voters of Plymouth affirm that city's ordinance in the April 29 referendum.

Walter's statement follows: "In accordance with the statement of purpose of the Michigan Conference of Concerned Democrats which believes: '...that the first order of business for local, state and national government must be the removal of all social inequalities, in particular those which are the product of racism, beginning with the areas of housing, education and employment,' we of the Second Congressional District Chapter of the Michigan Conference of Concerned Democrats urged that the citizens of Plymouth approve their open housing ordinance in the April 29 referendum election.

"We look upon this referendum as an opportunity for the people of Plymouth to affirm their commitment to equality and justice for all citizens. Such action would be in the tradition of other major cities in the Second Congressional District--namely, Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti and Monroe--which already have open housing ordinances on the books."

The Stroller...

Ralph Cole, the angular sun-tanned attorney for Plymouth Township, who has all the characteristics of Daniel Boone, pushed aside his coffee cup at lunch the other day and for no reason at all remarked that we are in the early stages of what could be an underground revolution.

His remark had a stunning effect on the others who felt that the revolutions, political and otherwise, on the surface, were enough without going underground to find more.

"I don't care what you think about the action on top of the ground at the moment," Ralph countered. "I am interested in the one below the surface because it is going to be a real boom for attorneys—and that's my profession."

He soon realized that his remarks had a puzzling effect, so he started to clarify his statements.

"You know," he began, "for the past dozen years or so, we have had a revolution on top of the ground—and I don't mean the Vietnam War or any sort of tragic maneuvers."

"It's been a battle for space. Sure, we've sent astronauts into the wild, blue yonder and caused quite a stir. But that's not what I mean, either."

IT'S A BATTLE IN THE AIR

"I'm thinking about the battle for building space. With the population explosion our residential areas are becoming crowded, with the result that in the larger cities there is little room left to build—except in the air."

Now Ralph's thoughts were coming through with more clarity and his listeners sat up and paid more attention.

"One of the biggest changes in trends," the Township official went on, "came with the selling and purchasing of air rights. This is the system whereby you retain the ground, but sell the air, say from the third floor on up. That's what they're doing in places like New York City."

"Now, another change is coming, and that's what I started out to tell you. This one has to do with buying 'underground rights.'"

Just what did he mean?
"I have in mind the big utility companies," he pointed out. "They have need only to lay their pipes or conduits or crocks for cables," he explained, "and there is no need to purchase all the land on the surface."

"Now, there is where the fun starts," he chuckled.

SPOKEN LIKE TRUE ATTORNEY

Then, like a true attorney, he started to build his case by asking, "Do you know what is in the ground under your property?"

"I'll bet very few of you do—and yet there might be a fortune in oil or precious stones or gas, and some priceless mineral that would have an effect on the selling price."

"And because you don't know those things," he went on, building up his case, "you'd be foolish to sell unless you got the advice of a good attorney to draw up the contracts."

"This very thought of riches under the ground can be an interesting subject. You may never have the cash to explore and attempt to find out. But, at the same time, you wouldn't want to learn—after a sale—that you sold a fortune for a mere pittance."

"That's why I am convinced there is a revolution taking place at the moment—and it all deals with the underground."

"And it promises to be a great day for attorneys in the future."

It was a sobering thought and just a bit more evidence of the things you hear and learn during a lunch hour.

BEHIND THE SMILE

The Stroller got quite a kick out of a picture in the paper the other day.

It was a picture of Herald Hamill, the Township Engineer, looking down at his drawing board with a tinge of a smile on his face.

It brought back a few memories and the recollection of a harrowing moment to The Stroller.

Years ago, he was cutting his eye teeth in politics as a member of the Livonia City Council. At the time, Hamill was the engineer of the new city, and was busy drawing up plans for a sewer and water system.

Like many others, The Stroller became anxious—yes, overanxious—over prospects and wanted to see the plans and get some action.

A CHALLENGE BACKFIRES

One night at a regular Council session when the plans were not forthcoming, The Stroller addressed the engineer and said, "Herald, I'm becoming of the opinion that you are not doing your best and are delaying the project with so many meetings with the state health department."

Hamill listened, then said, "Well, why don't you go to Lansing with me the next time? Let's see what you can do."

The challenge was accepted.

So, off we went to Lansing, and in a short while The Stroller was seated across from the state officials and was introduced as Livonia's spokesman.

"If you folks in Livonia had a one-inch rainfall in an hour, how long would it take to drain off?"

That was enough. The Stroller was stuck and had to turn to Herald Hamill for an answer. No wonder he's still smiling.

Time Of Year Arrives For Taxpayers To Keep Eyes Peeled On Spenders

Several months ago Mrs. Martha Griffiths, Michigan's very able Democratic Congresswoman who is a member of the powerful Ways and Means Committee, sent a most enlightening letter to her constituents.

At the time there was a great howl across the country because of the ease with which Congress raised the national debt ceiling and she was the recipient of many complaints from back home.

Her letter, in essence, turned back the complainants with the explanation that the time has passed to be critical "because the raising of the national debt ceiling is done only to pay bills." Then she cautioned the folks back in her home precincts to "watch the spenders" and pointed out that the real cause for complaint was the manner in which the appropriations are considered.

She intimated that many of the lawmakers, trying to make impressions on their constituents, backed large vote getting projects that cost great sums and then howled when money was needed to pay for them.

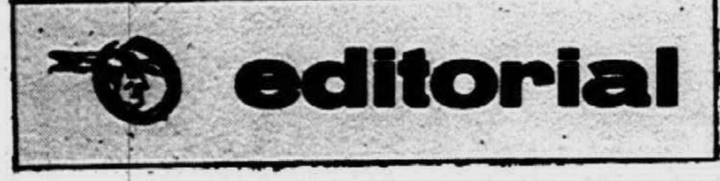

"Watch the spenders," she emphasized.

Her warning is recalled now because the time is here to submit the budget in both the City of Plymouth and Plymouth Township, along with the school board. This is the time of the year when the spending program is set and your tax money is appropriated for the various departments and projects. And this is the time of the year to pay close attention to what is being planned with your money.

If you pay little attention now, it will be too late to complain if you wait until the budget is passed and the bills are starting to be paid.

AS CONGRESSWOMAN GRIFFITHS warned, "Watch the spenders."

This is not meant to imply that there will be any "pork barrels" in any of the three budgets. On the contrary, officials at the grass roots level are more conservative than any other group because they are closer to the people and the least "shot" at them. The members of the three bodies must work with the knowledge that the federal branch of the government takes its share and the state gets another slice and neither group meets the taxpayer face to face every day. They can be more daring.

But on the home front it is different. Here, in many cases, the men who help to design the spending program are your neighbors and you can talk with them, or argue with them if you like.

Theirs is not an easy job. They are the last of the officials to get a crack at the taxpayer and they must attempt to stretch the dollar as far as possible.

That's exactly what they will be doing in the next few weeks. They'll be trying to stretch the dollar far enough to give you the services you want. They'll be considering requests for such things as pay raises for police and firemen and the teachers in the schools. They'll be trying to stretch the money to pay for such things as badly needed street improvements, garbage pick-up, and recreation programs.

IT WON'T BE AN EASY job in face of our spiraling economy. With the cost of labor going to new heights and the spiraling price of materials they'll be hard put—and they may not find enough money to do the job.

Already, the school board has been informed that the 1968-69 budget may be $996,000 higher than it was a year ago. And this figure does not include any wage adjustments for the teachers.

The City Commission already has granted pay raises to the men in the Department of Public Works. It is almost certain that increases will have to be given to the police and firemen—and the other employees. The same is true in the Township, where the firemen will be looking for higher figures on their pay checks.

Aside from this, the City is planning a street improvement program and a recreation set-up, both of which will be new items. As a result, the budgets in both communities are apt to soar and a tax increase would be the only answer.

The Board of Education already has been told that the extra mill that was voted and held in abeyance will be used this year. That means that the school tax will increase one mill—or approximately $181,000 over the entire district.

There has been some feeling that the City Commission should raise the tax two mills to pay for badly needed street improvements. And one of the township officials recently remarked, "If our firemen and other employees demand raises at this time we're in trouble."

ALL THESE THINGS are important because the money they'll be appropriating is your money.

No doubt the officials on the home front will attempt to spend the money wisely with a balanced budget as a goal.

But the words of Congresswoman Griffiths keep echoing:

"Watch the spenders."
It will be too late to complain after the budgets are passed.

Letter To Editor

Concerned Mother Decries Youth Dressing Habits

EDITOR:

There have been times when I have resented the statement—"The parents are to blame"—for many of the things their children do. However, I have changed my mind in a number of cases. It amazes me how parents can allow their children—under 21—to appear in public in their various degrees of disrepute.

I firmly suspect that many of today's parents are the products of the "let-them-express-themselves" era of some years ago, remember? Surely, any parent of sound thinking has the authority, and the duty, to insist that his child obey the rules of society, both written and unwritten.

I am not so old-fashioned that I can't understand the desires of young people to want to be different—or alike, but there should be a limit. Since when has decent behavior and respectable appearance been declared old-fashioned? Teaching a child respect for himself, his parents, and others is never out of date, regardless of the changing times!

There are many of us who try to teach our children that good grooming and respect for people and property are goals to achieve and not to be held in contempt.

THEY ALSO KNOW that regardless of how mature they think they are, they will be restricted or punished just as quickly at 20 as at 13, if their behavior warrants it. However, if we have started early enough, our older teenagers will not need it.

I happen to work in a place where I see quite a number of "mangy"—looking high school students every day, and I feel a tremendous anger. What a waste of precious youth and freshness which can never be regained.

And, what a source of embarrassment!

It is impossible to go anywhere without encountering them, either in stores, eating places, or on the street. They are rude, obnoxious to look at, and in some cases, so dirty and smelly one hates to sit next to them. It does no good to say again, as has been said so many times, that the fine, decent ones are in the majority, because the less desirable ones are so much in the limelight and make so much noise, that they cast a shadow and blot out the others.

I realize that it would be difficult to pass laws to deal with these social misfits, and it would not be the whole answer; but surely there must be some kind of pressure within existing laws to be used on these families. Too many people are misusing their "rights of expression" to inflict themselves on the public, and in doing so, are imposing on the rights of others.

Raising children properly is difficult enough under any circumstances, but trying to teach them to be good while we must put up with the problem kids is a bit too much! Come on, folks! How about rounding up a few garden-hoses and soap, some clippers, and some razor strops? You might not have a woodshed to go behind, but most people have a garage or a basement.

Obscene Mail Becomes Problem In Congress

Obscene mail has been a very unpleasant and unfortunate problem for many years in this country. Until this year our laws provided no adequate protection for the thousands of families who have been plagued continually by the delivery of unsolicited smut mail to their homes.

Last year alone, the Post Office Department received one-quarter million complaints with reference to the receipt of pandering advertisements. Since I have been a member of Congress, dozens of my constituents have written to find out what they can do to prevent this mail from coming to their homes.

I feel, as they do, that this practice represents a serious invasion of privacy and an offense against the rights guaranteed in the First Amendment. The rights of any mailer dealing in sexually provocative advertising must, in all decency, be limited by the equal right of any person to object—with the force of the law—to receiving such material in his home.

WITH MY STRONG support, legislation was passed in Congress last year which will go a long way to correct this long-standing violation of decency and still remain within guidelines established by the Supreme Court. This legislation, Title III of Public Law 90-206, will go into effect April 15. I want to explain the provisions of this new law for the benefit of those who have been trying to find a means of protecting themselves and their families against smut mail.

son who receives unwanted mail which he—in his sole discretion—determines to be objectionable, may ask the Postmaster General to issue an order for the mailer to refrain from further mailings to the named addressee. These are the steps which may be taken to secure such an order:

(1) If you or any member of your household receives an advertisement which you judge to be obscene, you should submit the entire advertisement, including the covering envelope, to the Postmaster General, Post Office Building, Washington, D.C. Include a statement of your objection to the material and request that your name and the names of any other members be removed from the mailer's list.

(2) IF YOU continue to receive questionable mail more than 30 days after the order is given, you may then request the Attorney General to seek a court order against the mailer. The bill provides that court orders and enforcement against obscene mailings may be secured in the U.S. District Court in the area where it is received or the court in the area where it originated.

This legislation allows every parent to provide his own mailbox. It gives the American householder with an effective, enforceable law against the invasion of privacy by smut peddlers using the mails. It will only be effective, however, if objections are made known. If you wish to make a complaint to the Postmaster General and would like any further details on this law, please do not hesitate to contact me in Washington.

MRS. WALTER HOFFMANN AND JESSICA -- Jessica calls her dress "mini-mod" and loves the whipped cream that tops her mother's Peach Delight dessert.

Peaches And Cream With A Cherry On Top

Mrs. Walter Hoffmann's home on Provincetown Lane is filled with the antiques that she and her husband have collected. A huge coffee grinder, the type used in the general stores of yesteryear, dominates the kitchen counter while several smaller ones stand on cabinet shelves in the living room.

The Hoffmann's interest in this field has inspired Mr. Hoffmann's parents, who live in Pennsylvania, to open an antique shop. Meanwhile, the Plymouth branch of the Hoffmann family has temporarily curtailed their antique-hunting trips to raise their two-year-old daughter, Jessica.

MRS. HOFFMANN, a former high school and grade school teacher, realizes the importance of time spent with very young children. "Being a mother is a full-time occupation—I've seen too many first-graders that lacked attention in their pre-school years, and I vowed mine would have a mother at home," she explained.

The family has lived here two years and chose Plymouth when Mr. Hoffmann accepted a position as a Psychology instructor with Schoolcraft College.

Mrs. Hoffmann's recipe, Peach Delight, has been in the family since her grandmother's time and could be considered an antique—a delicious one at that.

PEACH DELIGHT

- 28 1/2 graham crackers
- 4 egg whites
- 3/4 cups of soft butter
- 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
- pinch of salt
- 4 egg yolks
- 2 tablespoons cream
- 1 cup drained peaches

Mash graham crackers with rolling pin and set aside. Beat egg whites until stiff and set aside.

In separate container blend butter, sugar, vanilla and salt until fluffy. Add peaches to butter mixture and stir until peaches are mixed throughout in small pieces.

Place egg yolks and cream in saucepan and cook on low heat until slightly thickened (do not overcook). Pour cooled egg yolk mixture into peach, butter, sugar combination and then fold entire thing into egg whites.

Place alternating layers of graham cracker crumbs and peach mixture in refrigerator dish (two empty ice cube trays work very well) making sure the top layer is made of crumbs. Freeze until set. Remove 15 minutes before serving and place whipped cream and a cherry on top. Serve as a dessert.

Peach Delight can also be served as a salad on lettuce leaves without the topping.

Glenney

Tomorrow is April Fool's Day, or if you prefer--All Fool's Day.

By making this statement and consequently alerting many otherwise unsuspecting people, I've probably made a few would-be practical jesters unhappy. Because this is their day. You know them. They love to substitute the toothpaste for the shaving cream or put salt in the sugar bowl.

They arrive at work in the morning with their arms in false slings. They liberally scatter messages throughout the office instructing people to return Mr. Lyons' call and when the receptionist at the Detroit Zoo answers, they go into gales of hyena-like laughter.

If you are interested in how the rest of the world observes this day--we'll look at just a few:

In India, victims are sent on fruitless errands on the last day of the Huli feast, which happens to be March 31. December 28 is April Fool's day in Mexico and it is said that objects borrowed on this day, south of the border, do not have to be returned.

In Scotland the custom is known as "hunting the gowk". The gowk is none other than the cuckoo bird.

American slang defines cuckoo as "crazy, silly or foolish" and I'm afraid that will describe many peoples antics tomorrow.

THE WOMEN'S CLUB Council is perking right along, at least that's the word from Judy Shuman, and the calendar printed herein is a pretty piece of proof.

Judy tells me that last Monday night representatives from more than 12 clubs gathered to sort out various women's activities. Even the men got into the act. It seems the ladies of the Plymouth Grange #389 couldn't attend, but sent two very brave husbands to represent them.

I WAS CHATTING with Mrs. Donald Ware, from over Northville-way the other day, and learned that there are still a few tickets available for "Overture to Opera" Saturday, April 6 at 8:30 p.m., in the Northville High School Auditorium.

Mrs. Ware may be contacted for tickets, 349-2232, and if you're interested in the Detroit Grand Opera Association's presentation of Menotti's "The Medium" and the first act of "La Boheme," why not give her a call.

MEANWHILE BACK in Plymouth, the Symphony League is sponsoring another Spring and Summer Golf League. Mrs. R. W. Brandt says that the group will tee-off Tuesday, May 7, at Hilltop Golf Course, 47000 Powell Road, Plymouth.

Those who want to brush up on their back-swing can do just that without spending a penny. Three free golf lessons are being offered to league members and will be given the first three weeks in May, compliments of Hilltop's Chris Burghardt.

An initial $10 for the Symphony and then $1.75 weekly greens fee is all that has to be "borrowed" from the grocery money--you can't miss.

Mrs. William Kleckner, 550 Pacific, Plymouth, 453-0481 may be contacted for membership.

BERMUDA HONEYMOON -- Mr. and Mrs. Berry D. Bassett enjoy the island of romance and sun. The newlyweds will make their home in Warrensville Heights, O. Mrs. Bassett is the former Pamela Vandiver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Vandiver of 1262 Woodland Place, Plymouth.

Newcomers Plan Spring Luncheon

The Plymouth Newcomers will hold a Spring Luncheon Thursday, April 4. Hospitality will be from 12-12:30 p.m.

Robert C. Hayman, president of the Plymouth Centennial Association, will discuss the background and current status of the proposed community center-ice rink.

WCTU Meets

The Women's Christian Temperance Union will meet Friday, April 5, at 1:30 p.m. in the Fellowship Hall of the Church of the Nazarene, 41550 East Ann Arbor Trail.

Mrs. Dunbar Davis has been scheduled as guest speaker and the meeting is open to the public.

Reservations may be made with Betty Porter, 455-0678 (A-M) or Dorothea O'Neal, 455-1765 (N-Z).

Achievement Day Planned By 4H Groups

The Northwest, Northeast and Southeast District 4-H groups will hold an Achievement Day, Saturday, March 30, in Plymouth Junior High West.

Judging of the many 4-H projects will begin at 9 a.m. with a Dress Review and Fun Festival at 7 p.m.

THE MISSIONARIES were home and the chapel of the Calvary Baptist Church, 43065 Joy Road, Plymouth, was filled with displays of their lives and work prepared by the church's young people. The Japanese display above is one of several creative displays.

"a little child shall lead them"

How can a child learn to find his place in the world, and make it a better place to live? We would answer, by having the great treasures of the Bible opened up to him, and learning its lessons of love and spiritual power. That's what goes on every Sunday at the Christian Science Sunday School.

Displays Tell The Story Of Missionary Endeavor

The missionaries supported by the Calvary Baptist Church came home last week for the church's 21st Annual Missionary Conference.

Displays created by the church's junior and senior classes were an important part of the eight-day conference. Each class set up an exhibit of a mission country and its family, with written material, artwork, and biographical sketches.

The preparation of the displays enabled the children to learn a great deal about the missions clearly indicated the need for continued support.

Patrick Clifford, pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church, explained, "Judging the displays will be difficult, but we think we have solved the problem."

"The missionary families have agreed to select the three prize winners. They will judge the contest on Sunday and leave the country on Monday," he chuckled.

Solomon couldn't have handled the situation with more wisdom.

AAUW Women Spend Day In Lansing

Eight members of the Plymouth Branch of the American Association of University Women attended the organization's annual Legislative Day held in Lansing last Wednesday.

The women heard a speech by Alex Canja, administrative assistant and legislative and publications consultant for the Department of Education in Michigan.

Mrs. Kenneth Hulsting, local AAUW member and president of the Plymouth School Board appeared on a panel concerned with the financial crisis in public education.

Mrs. John Haas, president of the Plymouth AAUW, Mrs. John Anderson, Mrs. Roger Cory, Mrs. Arthur Haar, Mrs. Joseph Taber, Mrs. Clifford Smith and Mrs. Richard Fritz attended the conference.

Optimists Set Wild Life Presentation

The Plymouth Optimist Club will sponsor a wildlife film narrated by Will Rogers Jr. to be shown in the Plymouth High School gymnasium April 2.

The film, "Alaska Wildlife Wonderland," shows such dramatic moments as the struggle of giant Alaska moose fighting to protect harem; caribou fighting almost to the death; a surefooted Dall sheep tumbling down a cliff after losing its foothold, and bears so cooperative they charged to within 30 feet of the camera crews before being dropped or shoed away.

The show is a Ray Loesche production. He is a veteran of 25 years guiding, bush plotting and hunting the Alaskan wilds.

Advance tickets can be purchased by calling 453-5026. The prices are adults $1.50 and students $1.

The Top Side of Life

By FATHER ROBERT SCHADEN

"Join the Army and See the World."

Slogans are one thing—even Uncle Sam has a right to advertise, and there are not too many loyal Americans who will say that he shouldn't.

However, the recent display in a Chicago museum by this same Army is quite something else, and a rather brutal blot on the land of the free.

Those who put the display together must have been proud of their electronic genius. It enabled them to rig a machine gun on a real helicopter in such a way that when the trigger was pulled a light beam caused a bulb to glow on the huts or other objects situated in a mock-up of a Vietnamese countryside.

NEEDLESS TO SAY the majority of those who tried their hand at this neat little game (or shall we call it mechanical propaganda) were at the age when they should be outside riding their bicycles or hitting baseballs instead of 'enemy houses'.

I find it hard to see where May Day in Moscow is any more frightening.

There seems to be a certain imbalance in our morality. We become very upset over the attitudes on sex and drugs in our young people, but at the same time we continue to teach our children that killing is a way of life.

A few months ago, in this column, we mentioned the 'shoot Hitler games' that were sold in the dime stores in the forties. Perhaps the past twenty years have not taught us very much.

MOST OF US can be thankful that our children did not have an opportunity to visit the Chicago museum and play this educational game, before the display was closed under protest.

But on the other hand, what are they learning on the television programs that take up more than a couple hours of their week?

Many parents are quick to protest if the programs available to their children offend in the area of sex, nor would they be satisfied with the explanation that the story was only fiction.

Why is it that we can be so easily snowed when the plot deals with the violence and the killing, the brutality and the bloodshed that are a part of so many programs?

This is true all the way across the video tape from the kiddie cartoons to the more sophisticated renditions of man's inability to get along with man.

Granted, it would seem that we have enough protesters in our world, but maybe we need a few in areas other than bus-line picketlines.

Lake Pointe Garden Club Sets Meeting

The Lake Pointe Village garden Club will meet Thursday, April 4 at 8 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Joan Anderson, 42115 Lakeland Court.

Mrs. Philip Wernette, Ann Arbor Garden Club member and first vice president of the Michigan division, will speak on "The Over-all View of the Garden Club."

The club will also hold an election of officers. Co-hostesses for the evening are Mrs. Jean McAllister and Mrs. Joyce Wrobel.

Susan Hayman On Honor Roll

Susan Carol Hayman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hayman, Ivanhoe Drive, has earned a place on the Honor Roll at Kansas University in Lawrence, Kansas.

She is a sophomore and recently was honored with a place on the Dean's list.

Many have heard the legend of the dogwood, but as spring gently comes to Plymouth and we observe Easter, the story of this fragile flower seems worth repeating:

Centuries ago the dogwood tree grew tall and strong among its brothers in the forest. The dogwood's stature was so impressive that when the Cross of Crucifixion was fashioned, it was the wood from this tree that was chosen.

The dogwood's distress was in some way communicated to Jesus, nailed fast to its wood, and He was moved to say, "Because of your great pity for my suffering, I promise that you shall never again grow large enough to be used for a Cross."

"Henceforth, you shall be a slender tree with bent, twisted limbs and blossoms in the sign of the cross; two long and two short petals.

"Nail prints shall mark the edge of each of your petals and in the center, brown with rust and stained with blood, there will be a crown of thorns.

"All who look upon you will know that it was upon a dogwood tree that I was crucified. You shall be cherished and protected as a reminder of my agony and death upon the Cross."

That in substance is the legend of the dogwood. Students of nature attribute the unusual blossoms to late spring frosts. How then, do they explain those grown indoors?

Schools See Student Rise

Plymouth School District administrators have predicted that the entire school population will rise 12 per cent over this year when school opens next September.

The present total enrollment is 8,366 and this is expected to jump to 9,354 students.

A report given to the school board last week said that enrollment in the kindergarten will go from 661 this year to 729 in 1968-69.

It said enrollment in the 1st grade will go from 715 to 710, 2nd grade will go from 634 to 798, 3rd grade from 638 to 715, and 4th grade from 663 to 723.

The 5th grade is expected to go from 714 to 721, 6th from 680 to 792, 7th from 670 to 755, 8th from 604 to 718, 9th from 653 to 725, and 10th from 585 to 671.

The enrollment in the last two will be 11th from 539 to 576 and 12th from 439 to 529.

Karen Shultz Stages Her First Art Show

Recent visitors to the Dunning-Hough Library may have wondered what art class created the fine pen and ink drawings, water color still lifes and dramatic batiks that adorn the library walls.

These hangings are the work of 18-year-old Karen Shultz, a Plymouth High School senior and were on display during the latter part of this month.

This is Karen's first art exhibit, although her work was on display at Crowley's Department Store in Detroit during the stores annual Scholastic Art Awards. One of Karen's colorful batiks earned her a certificate of merit in the contest.

"I've always enjoyed art, as long as I can remember," she replied when asked how long she has been drawing and painting. "In fact everyone in my family is interested in art," she commented.

Karen is very excited about her "one-woman" art show and hopes to make a name for herself in the art world. Preparation for her career will begin this fall as she enters the University of North Carolina, Chapel College, where she will major in art.

Karen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin B. Shultz, of 1367 Elm Ave., Plymouth.

The hushabye heat.

Soft and low. Gentle and quiet. That's electric heat. It's the quietest heat you can get. If it's radiant, there's no sound at all. If it's a warm-air furnace, the fan runs at a lower speed. Gives only a gentle hum, soft as a lullaby.

What else? Electric heat is clean. No fumes. No soot. No draft. No chill one moment nor a burst of hot air the next. The humidity stays in the comfort range.

It's better for your nose and throat. Better for your home. Call Edison for the name of your nearest Edison-approved Electric Heat Contractor. He'll give you a no-obligation survey. And we'll see that you get a $100 trade-in allowance on your old heating plant.

Mother's Drive Forced Township Boss Toward Top

By HENRY J. TEUTSCH
If it wasn't for newspapers and his mother, John D. McEwen would never have become Plymouth Township's Supervisor.

for $1,200 cash. Well, his mother, bless her heart, put a stop to this because her son worked only three hours a day and besides he did little of the work himself.

He had just graduated from Western High School when his mother told him to get a "real" job. He enrolled in the Detroit Business Institute and also was appointed a photostat clerk to the Wayne County Board of Auditors.

A LITTLE LATER, "Uncle Sam beckoned me to join in an engagement called World War II," the former teenage mogul commented.

At the age of 35, and still single, McEwen was drafted and later sent to Natal, Brazil, where he was a master sergeant and an inspector of bases throughout the country.

JOHN E. MCEWEN
He worked with the Air Transport Command, South Atlantic Wing Division, whose sphere of operation was from Miami, Fla. to Dakar, India.

THE FORMER MASTER sergeant bragged that there was no major city between Miami and Natal that he hadn't seen and visited during his three years, three days and three hours in the service.

He returned to Detroit in 1945 and was promptly promoted to the budget department of the Auditor's office and began classes at the University of Detroit Law School.

A year later, 1946, his mother was killed by a truck in a brutal accident and McEwen lost all the family he had known.

For some reason, McEwen said, he never finished law school but all the time he was moving up in the ranks in the Auditor's office.

TWO YEARS AFTER HIS mother's death, McEwen married Victoria Chargo, of Northville. They have no children and live 44475 Gov. Bradford Rd., Plymouth Township.

McEwen, continued to move up through the staff and in 1955 was made supervisor of the new Auditor's records-management program.

He explained that his job entailed the creation, recording, management, reproduction and preservation or disposal of all county documents for the past 125 years.

At the age of 55, he gave up his county career, that had covered 34 years in the Auditor's office, and became clerk for Plymouth Township.

HE FILLED THE VACANCY left by the death of Fred L. Miller and later ran for election, where he officially was given the post, the following February. This was in 1962.

Three years later, McEwen was appointed to fill the vacancy left by the death of Township Supervisor Roy Lindsay and was subsequently elected to the post in April, 1966.

That term expires in Nov. 1970. A past president of the St. Andrews Society of Detroit, little Jack's short, stocky, kilted figure is a familiar one to those whose hearts remain in the highlands, on their annual excursions to Bob-Lo Island.

So it all boils down to the fact that if it wasn't for newspapers and his mother, John D. McEwen might now be running all the corner newsstands in Detroit and would lay down cash for a new car every year.

Home Fire Caused By Faulty Chimney

A fire, caused by a faulty chimney that was connected to an overheated space heater, was quickly brought under control by City of Plymouth firemen last Saturday.

Miss Rosemary Joughkin of 298 N. Harvey, told Fire Chief George Schoeneman that flames began to shoot out from between the chimney sleeve and the flue leading from the heater back into the room. She called firemen immediately.

When firemen arrived, the chief explained, the whole house was enveloped in smoke. There was fire on the first floor, and flames were just starting to come out of the front second floor window.

Schoeneman said that the fire was extinguished shortly, and the wall around the heater and flue was damaged. The ceiling on the second floor was also damaged. He placed the loss at approximately $1,000.

Miss Joughkin reported that some clothes she had hanging near the second floor window were also burned.

Nothing Great Was Ever Achieved Without Enthusiasm.

Area Product Sought For Michigan Week

All manufacturing plants in the Plymouth area have been invited to submit an entry in the annual contest to determine "The product of the year," which is one of the features of Michigan Week, May 18-25.

Those invited have been told to meet the entry deadline of April 13.

Arnold Pykas, principal of Gallimore School, who is Plymouth chairman of the Michigan Week program, has announced the following committee chairmen, who will serve along with him and Terry West, the assistant chairman, and Harold Fischer, director of promotion:

Agricultural Development of the Year Award -- Dr. Clifford McClumpha.

Volunteer Leadership Award Program--John Herb.

Product of the Year Award Program Wolverine Frontiersman Award Program--Harold Guenther.

Community Achievement of the Year Award--Carl Pursell, Amateur Radio--Stan West.

Native Sons & Daughters Honors--Mrs. Norma Saunders. Michigan Sports Hall of Fame--John Sandmann. Michigan Minutemen Program--Al Morgan.

Plymouth High School Musicians Win 18 Ribbons

Plymouth High School music students--19 of them--won a double victory last Saturday.

First, they conquered the snow storm to reach Ann Arbor for the annual State Solo and Ensemble Festival.

Second, 18 of the 19, won first place blue ribbons, and the 19th was awarded a second division rating.

Solo winners were: Gary Hill, Snare Drum Proficiency I; Steve Kane, Piano Proficiency I; Linda Gyorkey, Violin Proficiency.

Ensemble winners were: Bob Van Meter, Ted Randall, Cornet Duet; Bob Goodhand, Jack Johnstone, Euphonium Duet; Ann Wehmeyer, Paul Gilmore, Debbie Westfall, Debbie Knipschild, Ken Byornbak, Woodwind Quintet; Kathy Gotsball, Sue Christol, Ann Wehmeyer, Janice Rowland, Stephanie May, Cheryl Cather, Lynn Dunn, Kyle Micol, Flute Octet; Craig White, Gary Hill, Snare Drum Duet.

Ken Moyer, ill for the entire week preceding the contest, received a second division rating for his snare drum solo Proficiency I.

Legal Barrier Not In Way Of Ice Rink

No legal barriers are in the way of the City of Plymouth joining with Plymouth Township to form a recreation authority, Township Attorney Ralph Cole told township trustees Tuesday night.

Cole gave a verbal report of his findings on the feasibility of establishing a joint effort between the two bodies.

He said that he has had one telephone conversation with Charles Lowe, Plymouth city attorney who promised to meet with Cole to discuss the project. Cole said he hasn't seen him yet.

However, Cole said he had satisfied himself that there were no legal barriers to a combined project.

He explained that the best way to institute this type of program would be to create a joint authority.

On the other hand, he said that the most ticklish angle is how to pay for the arena that will be built and operated by the authority.

ORDINANCE NO. 14.02 '68 AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND THE ZONING ORDINANCE OF THE TOWNSHIP OF PLYMOUTH BY AMENDING THE ZONING MAP.

THE TOWNSHIP OF PLYMOUTH ORDAINS:

Plymouth School Bond Sale Shared By 17 Dealers

First of Michigan Corp., headed a group of 17 dealers who purchased $8,500,000 Plymouth Community School District bonds.

Proceeds of this issue will be used for the expansion of the present school plant. The school district includes all of the City and Township of Plymouth, and parts of the adjoining areas.

These bonds--interest exempt from Federal and Michigan state income taxes, Michigan city income taxes and from Michigan intangibles tax--were purchased at a net interest cost of 4.985 percent. Coupon rates are 4.9 percent and 5.0 percent. They are re-offered to yield 4.1 in 1971 out to 5.1 per cent in 1992 and 1993.

Participating in this account with First of Michigan Corp. are Northern Trust Co., Chicago; John Nuveen & Co., Mellon National Bank and Trust Co., Pittsburgh; Detroit Bank & Trust Co.; Mercantile Trust Co., N.A., St. Louis; Franklin National Bank, New York; Clark, Dodge & Co., Kenower, MacArthur & Co.; City National Bank of Detroit; Paine, Webber, Jackson & Curtis; Hartford National Bank and Trust Co., Hartford, Conn.; Watling, Lerchen & Co.; McDonald & Co., Cleveland; Manley, Bennett McDonald & Co.; Charles A. Parcels; and Channer Newman Securities Co., Chicago.

The largest Michigan-based underwriter of common stocks and corporate and municipal bonds, First of Michigan Corp. maintains executive offices in Detroit and at 2 Wall Street, New York. Branch offices are located in Chicago, Columbus and nine Michigan communities.

Conrad Burkman, vice president of Plymouth Finance, 839 Penniman, recently announced the establishment of a new branch office located in Northville.

The first major expansion in 10 years, the new office located at 1055 Novi Road will open Thursday, March 27, in a seven-store shopping center.

"We believe this to be one of the most modern finance offices in the area and at the present time we have plans to open 10 or 11 additional branches in a 50-mile radius within the next five years," Burkman stated.

Robert L. Sawyer, Plymouth's assistant branch manager, will manage the Northville office.

The firm's other offices are located in Allen Park and Detroit, with the home office based in Plymouth.

That term expires in Nov. 1970. A past president of the St. Andrews Society of Detroit, little Jack's short, stocky, kilted figure is a familiar one to those whose hearts remain in the highlands, on their annual excursions to Bob-Lo Island.

So it all boils down to the fact that if it wasn't for newspapers and his mother, John D. McEwen might now be running all the corner newsstands in Detroit and would lay down cash for a new car every year.

Dr. Clark Sues Asks Fee In Death Case

By FRED DeLANO

The legal affairs of Dr. Ronald E. Clark, the Farmington physician who is accused of manslaughter in the death of a patient, have taken a new turn.

Dr. Clark, who informed the court that he now resides in Ann Arbor although still maintaining an office in Farmington, has started an $80,000 law suit against the estate of a second patient who died under his care.

His action in Wayne County Circuit Court against the estate of the late Mrs. Hannah Winsper Bowerbank includes a request for payment of $1,000 for medical services rendered Mrs. Bowerbank and her mother.

Mrs. Bowerbank, 55, who had worked for Dr. Clark for several years, died in her home at 14643 Hubbell, Detroit, on March 30, 1967. Circumstances of her death still are under investigation by Oakland County Prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson.

ing Mrs. Neil's death by administering an overdose of sodium pentothal, the so-called "truth serum," while treating her for a heart ailment.

Like Mrs. Bowerbank, Mrs. Neil also was employed by Dr. Clark and according to police investigators was at Mrs. Bowerbank's home at the time of the latter's death a year ago.

WAYNE COUNTY Circuit Judge Charles Kaufman has issued an injunction preventing the Bowerbank estate from being closed in probate court pending settlement of Dr. Clark's claims. Only exceptions to the injunction are such payments as taxes, funerals and administrative expenses. Mrs. Bowerbank's brother, William H. Winsper, of Marshall, is executor.

Dr. Clark, through Atty. Stephen G. Lucky, has petitioned that he be declared the owner, instead of Mrs. Bowerbank's heirs, of:

1. The two Farmington Township lots at 30735 Grand River, on which he places an estimated value of $20,000.
2. A total of 955 shares of stock in 13 separate companies which he claims are worth $43,253, plus unspecified dividends which have been paid on the same stocks dating back as far as 1951.
3. Cash amounting to $5,000.
4. Bank balances of $400.
5. Jewels worth $1,200.
6. A coin collection valued at $3,000.
7. A 1964 Plymouth Fury valued at $1,200.
8. Medical expenses of $1,000.

MEANWHILE, it has been revealed that although Dr. Clark signed the death certificate as Mrs. Bowerbank's attending physician he didn't report the death until three months later.

No autopsy was performed at the time, and law enforcement officials still are weighing whether to have Mrs. Bowerbank's body exhumed and an autopsy conducted now.

No disposition of this question is anticipated until after Dr. Clark stands trial in June on the manslaughter charge resulting from the death in his office at 30735 Grand River, Farmington Township, last Nov. 3 of Mrs. Grace Neil, 43, of 20225 Renssler, Livonia.

Dr. Clark is accused of caus-

Ravitz Outlines Rebuilding Plan

By MARGARET MILLER
Women's Editor

Detroit City Councilman Mel Ravitz would give odds about 60 to 40 against repetition of last summer's rioting.

"And if we can get through this summer without major incident, and use the 18 months we gain to make some meaningful changes, we have a chance to build a better Detroit," he told a Farmington gathering Wednesday night.

Ravitz, also sociology professor at Wayne State University, spoke at the First Methodist Church and outlined several steps he feels the city must take toward solution of its race problems.

"WHEN I SAY 'city,'" he emphasized, "I mean, of course, the whole metropolitan area. The idea that the City of Detroit should do it alone and then all will be well with those who live outside its borders is sheer nonsense."

Necessary rebuilding steps he listed included:

- Commitments from employers for many more jobs--"not the 10,000 jobs they've been talking about, but at least twice that number."
 - An end to all discrimination in employment.
 - Better lines of communication on a continuing basis with the people who live in the inner-city.
- "WHILE THE SUBURBS are circulating reports that the inner-city Negroes are going to come out here with guns," he said, "the rumor in the ghettos is that we're going to invade them with guns."
- He commended Southfield police for urging people to put their faith in law officers and "if you're afraid, don't get a gun; get a dog."
- Ravitz deplored the recent rash of gun purchases and said his own great fear is that "some trigger-happy gun-owner may unintentionally start serious trouble."

Wayne 19th GOP Blocks Conservative Bid

By DENNIS L. PAJOT

Conservative and moderate Republicans supporting the national "Let's Win in '68" unity theme easily gained control of the Wayne 19th District Convention Wednesday, overpowering a minority group of precinct delegates.

Superiority in numbers, despite an alleged lack of a strict quorum, enabled the unity to elect William Duffy permanent chairman at the outset. From there, it was cut, dried and sterilized of strong position taking.

Typical of the tenor of the convention, the resolutions committee did not introduce resolutions on the floor of the convention that might bring embarrassing dissenting votes.

ALTHOUGH REPUBLICAN officeholders in general and U.S. Senator Robert Griffin, U.S. Congressman Jack McDonald and State Legislative leaders Robert Waldron and Emil Lockwood were praised by name in resolutions that passed unanimously, the committee deferred a resolution to endorse Gov. George Romney as a favorite son presidential candidate.

Instead, it was the committee's decision to let the 19th District caucus prior to the state convention determine the stance on presidential backing.

The only other issue supported by resolution was endorsement of reflectorized auto license plates. And this received a smattering of "nay" votes on the convention floor.

DUFFY, WHO HAS been a party leader since 1954, won the convention chairmanship with 33 votes to 12 for John Timison.

Duffy had the backing of the total 19th Republican district party (Cartwright) leadership. He was nominated by Mrs. DeLores Kory, Wayne 19th chairman.

Timison was nominated without speeches.

The roll call vote revealed that only 44 of 92 precinct delegates had been seated in time to voice opinions on permanent chairman.

As later pointed out by the parliamentarian, however, the temporary chairman had declared that a quorum was present without receiving challenge, and it was therefore legal.

MARY DUMAS, vice chairman of the total 19th District Republican organization, had started the convention. Her appointments of temporary convention vice chairmen Dave Leapley, Rhys Lewis and Bea Carlson, and temporary secretary Marion Donaldson were later confirmed by unanimous vote for permanency.

When the credentials committee reported that a working quorum had by then assembled, with 64 precinct delegates present, and that 19 delegates were known to have departed their 1966 residences, the earlier quorum was challenged.

Marty Sietz, a Timison supporter, entered the challenge, but was ruled out of order.

Chaired by Redford Republican Committee Chairman Warren Hunter and Livonian Ben Thomas, the delegate committee gained approval of its 20-person slate and an equal number of alternates. Only two dissenting votes were heard to the voice vote on the slates as a whole.

LIVONIA'S 15 state convention delegates will be: Mary Dumas, William Duffy, James O'Neil, Len Hippler, Art Hogarth, Dave Leathley, Dave Merrion.

Marvin Pridgeon, Art Sippola, Henry Sladek, Betsy Tagami, Ray Tent, Ben Thomas, West Todd and Gil Vogel.

REDFORD delegates will be

Mrs. Kory, Al Bellaire, Tom Barnhart, Charles Cole, Marion Donaldson, Lillian Doty, Eldon Funk.

Jay Hughes, Rhys Lewis, Margaret Neilson, Vaughn Oswald, Bob Reisdorf and Tom Sawyer.

man. NEXT event will be a 19th District Republican caucus April 26, just prior to delegate seating at the Republican State Convention Saturday, April 27 in Cobo Hall, where delegates to the national convention will be picked. cratic conventions are slated for May 17.

MRS. JOHN E. SHIRE
(Judith Ann Borst)

Judith Ann Borst Wed By Candlelight

Judith Ann Borst became the bride of John E. Shire in a double ring candlelight service Friday, March 15, in Mayflower Congregational Church, Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert C. Borst, of Farmington, are the bride's parents, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Harold Shire, of New Rochelle, N.Y., and the late Mr. Shire. The Rev. Jack S. Cassidy officiated.

GIVEN IN MARRIAGE by her father, the bride wore an ivory satin princess gown, with hand-carved alençon lace trimming the bateau neckline, sleeves and hemline.

Her veil was a cathedral-length mantilla bordered with matching lace, and she carried a cascade of gardenias.

Four attendants wore ivory satin gowns with floor-length skirts appliqued in a deep border of red and green tapestry flowers. They wore green velvet bows in their hair and carried cascades of deep red roses and ivory star mums.

MARILYN BORST was her sister's maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Charles Borst, Carol Evans and Helen Moon.

Assisting the bridegroom were his brother, Donald Shire, of New Rochelle, as best man, and ushers William Sulinski and Thomas Michaels, both of New Rochelle, Charles Borst, brother of the bride, and Lt. Steven Forbes, of Wyoming.

Young Robert Borst, nephew of the bride, was ring-bearer.

Mrs. Borst chose a hot pink peau de soie and satin gown for her daughter's wedding, and Mrs. Shire's gown was ice-blue crepe.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Zwald Jr., of Grand Rapids, served as master and mistress of ceremonies for the reception at Vladimir's restaurant.

FOR THEIR HONEYMOON, the newlyweds flew to San Francisco and planned to motor down the Pacific coast. They will be at home in New Rochelle after April 1.

The new Mrs. Shire is a graduate of Farmington High School and has been a stewardess with American Airlines. Her husband, who graduated from Franklin and Marshall College, is employed by Arthur Young Co. in New Rochelle.

Soviets Mourn Cosmonaut; Czechs In Dispute

MOSCOW -- The Soviet Union is in deep mourning for the first man ever to orbit the world in a space capsule. Yuri A. Gagarin, 34, was killed in a light plane crash last week. He made the trip in order to hold onto his flight qualifications.

Gagarin made world history on April 12, 1961 in his 89-minute flight nearly all the way around the world in the Soviet spaceship Vostok I.

Although the U.S. generally used its astronauts for addi-

Specifically, the Czech government protested an East German politician's speech criticizing sweeping reforms within the Czech Communist party.

WARSAW -- The U.S. is miffed at the Polish government's failure for five days to explain the expulsion of an American graduate student, Edward Holmes of Pittsburgh.

The strong language of a U.S. protest reflected deteriorating relations between the two countries.

Another indication is Poland's refusal to permit the U.S. to pay benefits to 3,100 recipients living in Poland in Polish Zlotys rather than dollars as part of the U.S. gold saving program.

SANTIAGO, Chile -- Thousands of public employees, including teachers and hospital workers, walked off their jobs at mid-week for two days in another of a series of strikes protesting government proposals for wage increases.

LONDON -- Conservative candidates humiliated the governing Labor Party by winning four parliamentary by-elections last week.

Even in ordinarily Conservative districts, the Labor vote dropped drastically.

Analysts called the vote a protest against the Wilson government's policies. These include failure to get into the Common Market, withdrawal from the outposts of the empire, devaluation of the pound and tight budgets.

PARIS -- A highly placed French civil servant, Maurice Picard, has been charged by his government with communicating with foreign agents in a way that could harm France's interests.

The foreign agents haven't been identified by nationality, but the Paris press is openly speculating they are West Germany, the U.S. and East Germany. Picard is said to have been on good personal terms with West Germany's late leader, Konrad Adenauer.

MOSCOW -- The Soviet Union denies attempting to restrain Czechoslovakia's wave of reform, accusing the west of "slandorous concoctions" aimed at splitting the Communist bloc.

Pravda describes the end of 20 years of Czech authoritarian rule as a process of "activation."

World Roundup

tional flights, Gagarin never made another trip into space.

BONN -- West German Chancellor Kurt Kiesinger has proposed to Poland that their governments "exchange thoughts" on a possible border dispute.

Kiesinger says his government cannot permanently recognize the Oder-Neisse River line as the frontier, as Poland regards it.

The border dispute is emerging as an internal political matter in West Germany. Foreign Minister Willy Brandt, who heads a rival party in the coalition government, said his group "recognized and respected" the Oder-Neisse line.

LONDON -- Fifteen-year-old Oliver Knussen will conduct the London Symphony April 7 in an age when London has been noted for producing teenage pop stars.

Young Knussen has been writing music since he was six and has produced 60 works so far.

PRAGUE -- Czechoslovakia, increasingly becoming estranged from the Communist bloc, has protested that East Germany is interfering in Czech affairs.

Griffin Fairly Liberal

Michigan's Republican Sen. Robert Griffin received a relatively liberal 46 per cent mark from a conservative political organization which examines lawmakers' votes, and Democratic Sen. Philip Hart got his usual zero.

Making the ratings was Americans for Constitutional Action (ACA), which gives good marks for votes against federal spending programs of almost any sort.

To a liberal, the zero is a good score; to a conservative, a 100 is ideal.

GRIFFIN, NOW in his third year in the Senate, got the 46 per cent for his votes during the first session of the 90th Congress. It brought his lifetime average to 54.

Griffin's moderate rating was comparable to those of Illinois' Charles Percy (41) and Oregon's Mark Hatfield (44).

This is considerably less conservative than South Carolina's Strom Thurmond (100) or Minority Leader Everett Dirksen (68).

But Griffin is still a moderate Republican compared to Massachusetts' Edward Brooke (24), New York's Jacob Javits (17) or New Jersey's Clifford Case (11).

HART, A 10-YEAR veteran of the Senate, has consistently been in the lower reaches of the conservative ACA ratings.

Hart's record for 1967 was zero, and his lifetime ACA mark is only 1 per cent.

Presidential contenders Robert F. Kennedy of New York and Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota scored about the same as Hart.

Kennedy received a 4 and McCarthy a 5 for their 1967 Senate votes.

For the most part, Senate Democrats got lower scores on the conservative scale, with a few notable exceptions.

Ohio's Frank Lausche got an 83, Mississippi's James Eastland and John Stennis got 77 and 78 respectively, and Nevada's Alan Bible jumped to 50 after compiling a relatively liberal record in his earlier years.

How To Watch An Obedience Trial

Part of every dog show—such as the Livonia Kennel Club show April 7 at Detroit Race Course—is a beauty contest, the bench judging for conformance to breed standards.

The other part—which tends to get ignored because people don't understand it—is the obedience trial.

Among dog fanciers, there's polite disagreement as to which type of show is the nobler art. And at the risk of slighting the breed show people, we concentrated on the obedience end of it, the theory and practice.

"THE IDEA IS that the dog and you work together as a team, with the dog happy and without expecting a puppy biscuit every time he does something. It's to make him a better dog at home. Our dogs should all be ladies and gentlemen," says Mrs. Barbara Wheaton.

Mrs. Wheaton, of Plymouth, is an officer in the Livonia Kennel Club, teaches obedience classes and is herself a qualified judge.

She means it when she says the dog should be "happy." You lose points if the dog forgets business to play or sniff, or if he "shows shyness or resentment," as it says in the judge's scorecard.

You also lose points if the handler adapts his pace to the dog's rather than the dog to the handler's; if the leash is kept tight; if the dog forges, crowds, lags, sits crooked, or fails to perform properly.

Each dog performs a series of about a half-dozen exercises during his trial. A perfect score is 200. Stormork Better Beware, a two-year-old Doberman who answers to "Duke" when called by Mrs. Alma Schroff of Livonia, earned spectacular 197s and 198s in getting his novice degrees.

THERE ARE THREE degrees a dog can earn, Mrs. Wheaton explained:

1. "Novice" corresponds to elementary school; and the degree is a CD, for "companion dog." To get it, the dog must compete in at least three shows before three different judges, earning a minimum of 170 points and getting half the possible points in each exercise.

Among the exercises are heeling on leash and off, recall, sit-stay (one minute) and lie-stay (three minutes).

2. "Open" corresponds to high school, and the degree is CDX, for "companion dog excellent." Anyone—not just the owner—should be able to handle the dog.

Among the open exercises are heeling off leash (word commands only), retrieving on the flat and over a high jump, sit-stay (three minutes) and lie-stay (five minutes). The dog must jump 1½ times his own height and broad jump twice his height. The "stay" exercises are performed with the handler out of sight.

3. "Utility" is college level stuff and calls for real work as well as obedience.

From a scattered batch of articles, the dog must pick out three — one wood, one leather and one metal—that the handler has scented. He must jump hurdles when given directions. He must respond to hand signals — no words allowed.

In each of the three classes, there are "A" and "B" groups, which designate the handlers rather than the dogs. "A" is for amateurs; "B" is for professional trainers and handlers.

The degrees are awarded only through the American Kennel Club, and the trial is open only to purebreds.

FRANK CRONE, of Livonia, who is show chairman, said there is roughly a 5-2-1 ratio between entries in each class. That is, for every five dogs in the novice trial, there are two in the open and one in the utility.

"You're liable to find any breed in the obedience trial," Crone went on. Most common are Dobermans, Weimaraners, standard and miniature Poodles, Cocker and Brittany Spaniels.

Poodles and dobs are the big winners.

RETRIEVING OVER JUMP is Captain Wheaton's Caravelle, a seven-year-old Weimaraner owned by Mrs. Alma Schroff of Livonia. Carey must go at first command, jump both directions, sit within reach, deliver dumbbell neatly.

'A HAPPY DOG' must neither jump exuberantly on the judge nor cower in fear. Mrs. Barbara Wheaton plays role of judge in "stand for examination."

SCENT DISCRIMINATION is a "utility" exercise, for dogdom's collegians. Carey must go at first command, pick out the article with her handler's scent, and deliver it neatly.

CORRECT 'HEEL' position is demonstrated by Mrs. Schroff and Duke, a Doberman. Note that Duke works without leash, doesn't move beyond the handler's instep, pays no attention to other dogs or the photographer.

IN 'LONG DOWN' the dogs must remain in place for three minutes with handler in sight for novice class, five minutes with handler out of sight in open class. Breeds are Doberman pinscher (front), Weimaraner (second, fourth and fifth) and Belgian tervuren (third).

BIG BILL RUSSELL, coach and center of the Boston Celtics, drives in for a short shot, after taking a rebound, as he led his team to its easy victory over the Pistons Thursday night. The triumph knotted the best of seven series and sent the teams to Boston Sunday afternoon for the fifth game.

Record 11,294 Watch Boston Blast Pistons

BOSTON -- Now it all boils down to a best of three series between the Detroit Pistons and the Boston Celtics in their National Basketball Association playoff battle.

Detroit had jumped into a 2-1 edge, but Boston bounced back to win at Cobo Arena in Detroit, 135-110, Thursday to even matters at two games apiece.

The fifth game will be played here Sunday at 2 p.m., the sixth in Detroit's Cobo Arena Monday at 8:30 p.m. and the seventh, if necessary, Wednesday back in Boston.

The Pistons had gained the lead in the series with a tremendous 109-98 win at Boston Wednesday in which they outscored the Celtics, 33-15, in the third period to overcome a five-point deficit.

THE PISTONS received a 27-point barrage from Dave Bing and stellar rebounding from Dave DeBusschere, Jimmy Fox and Joe Strawder.

In the third period, Fox hauled down nine rebounds while Bing and Eddie Miles collected 10 points each.

Then the scene shifted to Cobo Arena where the largest crowd ever to watch a basketball game there--11,294--saw the Pistons hop ahead by five points at halftime and hold a 77-71 edge midway in the third period.

With the picture looking bright for a third Detroit victory, the floor suddenly collapsed beneath them.

They could make only nine points during the rest of the period as Boston cut loose with a 24-point barrage in which such veterans as Bill Russell, Tom Sanders and John Havlicek led the way.

To begin the fourth period, Boston outscored Detroit, 9-2, and the Celtics merely coasted the rest of the way.

Havlicek wound up with 35 points while Sam Jones had 24, Don Nelson 22 and Russell 16 points, plus 21 rebounds. Dave Bing with 20 topped the Pistons while Eddie Miles contributed 20.

Plymouth Looks For Excellent Track Campaign

The wounds are mended and there's some extra joy at Plymouth High School when it comes to track.

The season hardly had started last spring when Bruce Cavender, a fleet halfmiler, suffered a broken leg and was shelved for the rest of the campaign.

Then came another tough blow for the Rocks--miler Dick Goepy broke his neck and was lost.

Both now are sound and back in action for the Rocks who were to get their first competition of 1968 Saturday night in the Huron Relays at Ypsilanti.

Coach Keith Baughman has his job cut out, however, this spring. Graduation losses hit the Rocks pretty hard.

But Steve Montgomery, who placed in both the dashes in the Suburban Six League, has returned. So has the versatile Dave Derr, who was second in the high hurdles, third in the low hurdles and tied for second in the high jump.

Dave Martin should assist Derr in the hurdles.

Raiders See Winner In Baseball

A brighter outlook for baseball at North Farmington!

A year ago the Raiders won only three out of 10. But with seven veterans returning and some fine prospects up from the junior varsity team, coach Tom Wasslis sees North Farmington making a stronger challenge for the Northwest Suburban League title.

There are four regulars back--Norm DeCourcy, who has been switched from third to first base; Scott Jentz, a nifty catcher; shortstop Tom Snyder and outfielder Rick Scott.

Leading the pitching staff will be Mike McCoy, one of the school's basketball stars this past winter.

Ron Weber and Steve Eversman, up from the JV's, should help on the mound along with Dave Negri, another graduate of the JV squad.

BOB GRAESSELE, who played a great deal of second base a year ago, is back, but is facing a tough fight from junior John Thomas, a very promising performer.

Negri looks like the starter at third when he's not pitching. Weber will get an outfield call on a regular basis since he clubs a mighty bat. He led the JV team last year with a .350 mark.

The Raiders are slated to play their 1968 opener against Redford Union at North Farmington next Friday.

Pitching Bothering Tigers

SPECIAL TO OBSERVER

LAKELAND--Time is running out on the Detroit Tigers and the other major league baseball teams in preparing for the start of the 1968 season.

The curtain lifts with two games a week from Monday and for the other clubs it'll be "play ball" on Tuesday, April 9.

The Tigers have drawn the defending American League champion Boston Red Sox as their opening foe at Tiger Stadium.

The home stretch poses its usual problems for Tiger manager Mayo Smith, who must decide who to keep and who to cut.

Biggest headache is in the pitching department. Smith figures to carry 10 or 11 players north a week from Sunday and it could be that the list will include two rookies.

Smith has no doubts about his first four hurlers. He'll likely lead off against the Red Sox with Earl Wilson and then follow with Dennis McLain, Mickey Lolich and Joe Sparrma.

Behind the front four, Smith has Denny Ribant, obtained from Pittsburgh; Pat Dobson, Fred Lahser, Johnny Hiller, Mike Marshall and Hank Aguirre, all of whom hurled for the team last season.

IN ADDITION, Smith has four rookies who have impressed in camp--Darrell Patterson, a righthander, and southpaws Leslie Cain, Jim Rooker and Jon Warren.

Patterson, Cain and Rooker hail from California, Warren from Ohio.

What's more, Patterson, Cain and Rooker all made their professional debuts in baseball as outfielders, because they had impressed the scouts with their hitting power.

But none could make it as flycatchers. So each was converted into a pitcher and has blossomed into a fine prospect with an encouraging future.

Patterson hadn't allowed a run in six innings of exhibition work while Cain, working in five games, one a start, yielded seven hits and only three earned runs.

Rooker is the oldest of the group. He operated in the minors for five years, but has pitched for three campaigns now. He was the top winner in the Carolina League last season, where he also pitched more innings than any other moundman.

Warden has looked good in each of his stints to date adding to the problem confronting Smith.

THERE'S ALSO Bob Reed, who spent the last week at Lakeland during a semester break at the University of Michigan. He turned in three scoreless innings of work last week, but he must return to Ann Arbor and won't be back with the Tigers until at least the end of April.

The best news of the past week for the Tigers was the return to action of catcher Bill Freehan. He had been sidelined with a shoulder injury, but made his re-debut a fitting one by slapping a homer and double.

However, the Tigers have been without Willie Horton, who hurt his shoulder during the week. It is expected Horton will return to action sometime this week to get ready for the season's opener.

Smith plans to carry two catchers, six infielders, six outfielders if he decides on keeping 11 pitchers.

Brown And Williams Twins Bolster Falcon Track Hopes

The Williams twins are back at Farmington High to agonize the Falcons' foes in track.

Returning, too, is Chris Brown, the Interlakes League's sprint champion for the past two seasons.

All of which helps to add up to an interesting season for the Falcons, who were to make their spring's debut Saturday in the Huron Relays in Ypsilanti.

Two more meets are booked for this week, a triangular affair with Garden City East and Franklin Thursday and then an appearance in the Spartan Relays sponsored by Michigan State University at East Lansing next Saturday.

The twins have been running side by side in track and cross country for two years at Farmington.

One's Gary, the other's Larry. Coach Jerry Young of the Falcons still has a difficult time determining which is which.

The brothers will switch from the half mile to the mile during the early part of the season.

BROWN, MEANTIME, has reigned in the league in the sprints both as a sophomore and junior and figures to continue to do so as a senior.

As a sophomore he won the 100 and 200-yard dashes, along with the long jump. Last year he won the two dashes, but went 21 feet, 5 inches in the jump and had to settle for third.

Going into the season, he looms as a triple winner in most of the Farmington meets.

Farmington also boasts some other stellar returnees.

Russ LeFevre placed second last year in the league in the high hurdles. . . Dave Bush third in the pole vault. . . Tom Atwell second in the 100-yard dash and third in the 220 and Mark Lynott fifth as a sophomore in the shot put.

COACH YOUNG looks for Lynott, a star on the Farmington basketball team this past season, to hit the 50-foot mark in the shot this season.

Several fine newcomers have joined the varsity.

Mark Bender will give Farmington a third excellent sprinter. Dan MacDonald should score well in the 440-yard and 880-yard runs. Dave Pardo and Tim Stoddard will bolster the Farmington contingent in the distance runs.

The addition of Don Babcock strengthens the hurdles while Bill Ellis should pick up points in the high jump.

Grid Clinic To Feature Duffy, Pont

Many of the area's high school coaches are going "back to school" next Friday and Saturday.

They're going to attend the Motor City Football Clinic, sponsored by Catholic High School Coaches Association.

The event will be held at the Bishop Borgess School on Plymouth and Telegraph Roads. Sharing top billing will be Duffy Daugherty of Michigan State and John Pont, who led Indiana to the Big Ten title and into the Rose Bowl.

The clinic also will feature Len Jardine, head coach at Brown; Bill Doolittle, the boss at Western Michigan and Fritz Shurmer from the University of Wyoming.

Coaches interested in attending should file their registrations immediately and send a check for $6 to Walter Bazylewicz, 14771 Mansfield, Detroit 48227.

Delvecchio Hits Puck Milestone

Livonia's Alex Delvecchio has hit another milestone for the Detroit Red Wings who end their 1967-68 season this weekend, hosting New York Saturday night and then invading Chicago Sunday evening.

Delvecchio caged his 350th goal Thursday in the Wings' 3-1 win over Chicago at Olympia.

Frank Mahovich clicked for the other two Wings' tallies while Gordie Howe picked up an assist to remain three points away from Stan Mikita of Chicago for the scoring championship.

Mikita picked up an assist on the only Chicago goal.

Despite the loss, the Wings are doomed for the last-place finish and will miss the playoffs which begin Tuesday night.

In the Eastern Division, Montreal's champion Canadiens will meet Boston in the first round while New York squares off with Chicago, barring a sudden reversal of form this weekend.

In the West, Philadelphia, Los Angeles, Minnesota and St. Louis figure to make up the field.

The tire industry has finally discovered radial tires.

Michelin invented them 19 years ago

They scoffed when Michelin introduced the radial ply tire in 1946. Just another gimmick, they said. Couldn't possibly last.

But now, most of the tire industry is burning the midnight oil to come up with new radial designs. The reason is that automobiles have advanced much faster than the tires that support them. The ever-more-powerful engines, power steering and brakes, and high-speed freeway driving are harder on tires than ever before. Which is why you're probably not getting the tire mileage you did 10 years ago. Here's why.

Under today's driving conditions, the tread on an ordinary tire squirms and squiggles on the road and grinds the rubber off faster. This is because the relatively stiff sidewalls won't flex and let the tread stay in contact with the road.

But a Michelin tire has radial plies—that is, the plies are perpendicular to the tread. This makes the sidewalls extremely flexible and keeps a larger area of tread on the road. Without squiggling or steering. And each Michelin tire has a tough layer of steel cord that circles the tire between the tread and the radial casing. This reinforces the tread and prevents it from distorting. It's the combination of radial construction and the layers of steel cord that makes Michelins so long-lasting. In fact, a set of Michelin X tires can easily last as long as your car. Many Michelin tire owners get 60 to 70 thousand miles from a single set. That's why we can guarantee that you'll still have tread left after 40,000 miles. That's also why Michelins are offered as optional equipment on two of Detroit's finest high-performance cars.

Well, we're glad we stuck to our guns. Because it's given us 18 years to make Michelin X radials the safest, most economical tire you can buy. Michelin whitewall tires are available in sizes to fit any car.

So before all the shouting starts about "new" radial tires, discover Michelin X—the original radial tire.

Turning On: An Addict Tells How

By CLAIRE DIETZ

Ben is a drug addict. Or rather, he was a drug addict until he learned what it meant to be really turned on.

This week he came to Farmington as part of a panel on drug abuse. The other panelists were from the Federal Bureau of Drug Abuse Control and the Oakland County prosecutor's office.

But the drug control agents never had a chance. Ben stole the show.

And he did it politely, quietly, with his own sense of self-possession and understanding of what the kids in the audience wanted to know.

"I THINK," BEN SAID after some introductory speeches and a few questions from parents, "that we're getting hung up on laws and pills when the kids want to know about being turned on," So he told them.

"Listen, let me tell you about mind expansion. For six years I thought I was turned on. I got high on everything from cough syrup to heroin. When I went to the junior prom, I was on morphine. For the senior prom, it was heroin. All the time I was closing myself in, I really didn't care about anything but myself."

Ben has been off drugs for three years.

"NOW I KNOW WHAT it means to be turned on. I paint a little, I sing, I care about people. Being turned on is being alive."

He is a member of an organization known as Synanon, which operates a house in Detroit. Synanon, which began in California and is based there, is an independent, non-profit group run by former addicts. For several hundred men and women like Ben, it has meant a whole new life.

But there's no jiffy cure for drug addiction, and Synanon won't call you a graduate until you've been there for three years. Ben is a graduate, but he's sticking around for a while to give other people a hand.

Questions from the audience of Farmington kids and their parents covered a wide range of curiosities about drugs. The majority were directed at Ben, but the drug control agents answered several from parents and teachers.

SOME HIGHLIGHTS of the Q and A period:

A long-haired, slightly scurvy teenager sitting on a table asked: "What about the kid who goes to a party and blows some grass and finds out that it's not so bad—that he's not a criminal or anything?"

Ben: "Well, OK. There are two things. In the first place, he is a criminal. He's broken the law, and he's taking the risk of having a criminal record."

"Then there's the other thing. Anybody who takes pot for a kick is going to be looking for a bigger kick. You may not think you're going to get hooked, but you're taking an awfully big chance.

"You know, nobody ever convinced me I was hooked on dope until I practically died in a drug coma. I kept telling people I took the stuff because I liked it. Pretty soon I couldn't live without it."

"WHAT ABOUT banana peels? Ed Maciejewski, one of the FBDAC agents, answered that one. "The Food and Drug Administration is a serious, scientific agency, and when people first began talking about banana peels, we put an investigative team on it. If somebody told us the Farmington water supply would give you a trip, we'd check that out too.

"A group of scientists went through every test in the book on banana peels. They roasted them, burned them, broiled them—everything. And they found that banana peels—burned or any other way—are nothing but banana peels."

A MOTHER ASKED Ben how she'd know if her kid was taking pot or something else.

Ben: "Well, if you've got a real serious kid who studies a lot and is real quiet and all at once he starts rolling on the floor—I'd be suspicious."

Teens Make Difference For St. Mary Hospital

Some of them think they might like to be nurses some day. Most of them find they enjoy new experiences during their teen years.

All of them know they want to do something to help others. So more than 30 girls in this area, 14 and 15 years old, put in several hours a week as candy strippers in St. Mary Hospital, Livonia.

In trim blue and white uniforms—many of them take care of ironing them on their own—these young ladies help with clerical work, sort supplies, give assistance to patients.

ST. MARY is one of few hospitals that accepts 14-year-olds as candy strippers.

"We realize," said director of nursing Rita Radzialowski, "that by the time girls are 16 they want to get paying jobs, and we've been very gratified with the way these younger girls have fit into our hospital."

One of the current crew of candy-strippers agrees that it's a good idea. Karen Kobe is 14, lives in Redford Township and attends Marshall Junior High School. At the hospital, she files X-Rays and escorts emergency room patients to the X-Ray lab.

"When you're in the ninth grade you are beginning high school," she said, "and it's time to think about what work you want to do. This is a good way to see what a hospital is like."

TWO 15-YEAR-OLDS, Bambi Waalk and Susan Singer of Livonia, are thinking of nursing careers and find they are learning a lot at the hospital.

Bambi helps in the pediatrics ward Monday evenings, playing with the young children, feeding them sometimes, running errands for parents and staff members.

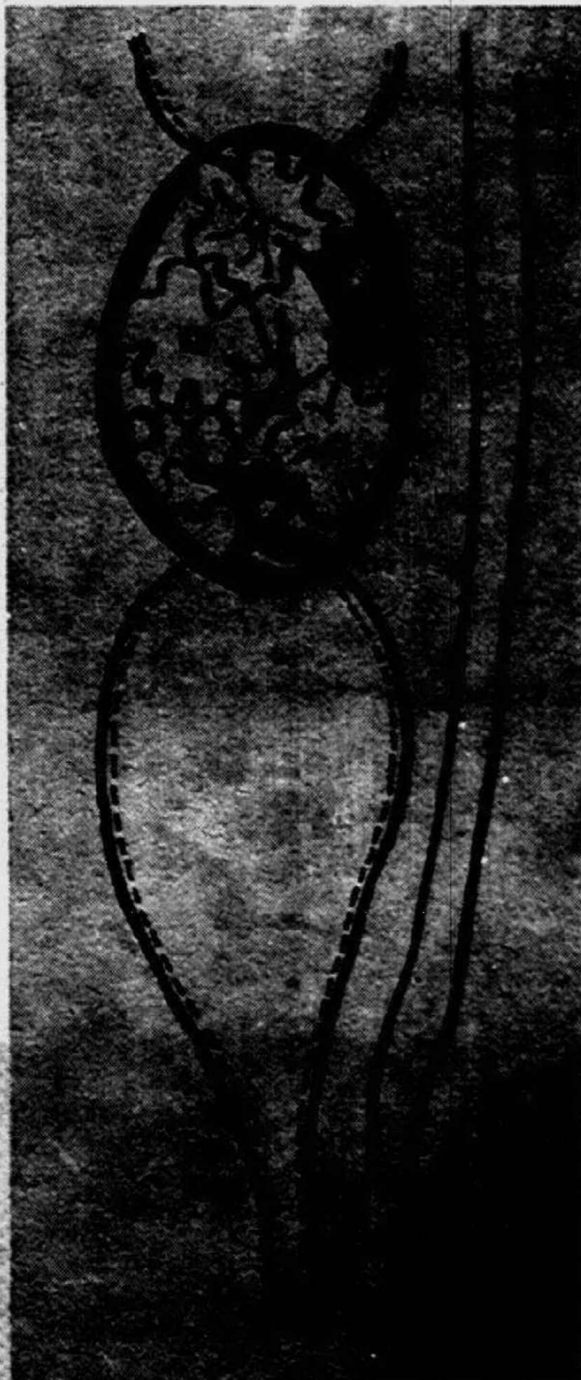

A student at Our Lady of Sorrows, in Farmington, she thinks her present troubles with mathematics may throw a roadblock into her hopes to don a nurse's cap.

"You have to have so much science," she said.

SUSAN, A TENTH-GRADER at Ladywood High School, is a member of the Future Nurses Club there and keeps busy in the hospital washing, drying and wrapping specimen bottles, packaging gloves and packing cotton balls for the nursery.

The candy strippers will stay on their present jobs for this year. If they stay on next year, with the new girls who join the group next fall, they may switch posts.

All agree that being a candy stripper is an experience they wouldn't have missed.

THE ROMANTIC bows and ruffles on the new spring clothes and the return of the waistline are going to require a new look in accessories. Here: a feminine belt from Paris which could top an evening midi skirt and a romantic white glove with a ruff of tiny flowers at the wrist.

Drug Agents

'The Job Used To Be Simpler'

After the panel, the three drug control agents talked a little about their job.

Ed Maciejewski and Abraham Azzam work for the Federal Bureau of Drug Abuse Control (FBDAC). They represent one-half of a four-man team which works out of Detroit.

F. Gerald St. Souver was appointed in January by Oakland County prosecutor Jerome Bronson to set up a drug abuse bureau. "Actually," he says, "the title of chief investigator sounds great, but right now I'm the whole bureau."

"THERE WAS a time not so long ago," Azzam explained, "when an agent's job was a lot simpler. We worked almost entirely in the ghettos; our targets were the gangsters and the pushers."

"Now we're likely to spend our time trying to track down somebody who is selling marijuana on a suburban elementary school playground or nabbing college kids with an illegal supply of LSD."

"For myself, I sort of liked it the old way. If you grab a gangster, you know what you've got. But you get a 13-year-old kid with his pockets full of pot, and that's something else."

ST. SOUVER isn't working much with gangsters either. In fact, one of his big projects now is setting up a drug abuse seminar for Oakland County junior high and high school counselors. He's not worried about the counselors, but he knows they are a lot closer to the kids than the local police department.

In addition to setting up educational programs, the drug agents have had to educate themselves. All three have gone to see what Dr. Timothy Leary had to say.

"When we went to hear him at Wayne State," Maciejewski said, "we thought we might look a little out of place, but the majority of the people there weren't any more impressed with what he had to say than we were."

"I HEARD HIM when I was in Haight-Ashbury," St. Souver added. "The man is really gone. He has absolutely blown his mind."

The agents were asked about drug abuse in area high schools. "It's hard to tell," Maciejewski answered. "Certainly it varies from school to school. And it is a problem. Once drugs were an inner-city problem, involving a small group of people. Now it's all over."

All three men nodded. They were thinking about the good old days when they would have been out on the streets of a Detroit ghetto nabbing a big-time pusher instead of in a Farmington junior high school trying to talk kids out of buying 75 cents worth of pot on the playground.

Banquet For Co-Op Students Planned

On April 5, 500 teens, their employers and coordinators will gather at Schoolcraft College's Waterman Building for the annual Livonia public schools cooperative education banquet.

Two Clubs Set Rally April 6

Two Observerland Christian clubs, the Plymouth High Voice of Christian Youth and Franklin High's Campus Life Club, will join forces April 6 to present a teen rally in Plymouth High's auditorium.

The program will include a movie, "Worlds Apart," and three folk singing groups: "The New Christian Minstrels," from Redford's Thurston High; "The Sands of Time" and "Michel and Faye," both from Plymouth. The rally is open to any high school student. There is no admission charge.

The Plymouth Club, which meets every Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the high school, has plans for several future projects, including a folk festival, a shaving cream fight, talent show and beach party.

Scholarships Announced

High school seniors who are children of Manpower, Inc., temporary employees are eligible to compete for 15 $300 scholarships offered by that organization.

Applicants must be graduating in June or January, under 21, and not previously enrolled in a full-time college program. Rules and application blanks may be obtained by contacting the Redford Township Manpower office at 532-8120.

Speaker will be Dr. Robert C. Lusk, director of educational services and personnel manager for the Automobile Manufacturers Association, Inc. The subject of his speech will be "Hire Education."

A graduate of the University of Michigan and Wayne State University, and a former teacher, Dr. Lusk has served for the past 13 years as a representative of the automobile industry in major educational activities and as head of the preparation and distribution of all teaching materials for the AMA.

This year will be the first time that all three Livonia high schools have participated in the event together.

Cooperative education seeks to give aspiring young adults a chance to try their wings in a career field while still attending school and is a fast growing and popular specialized program.

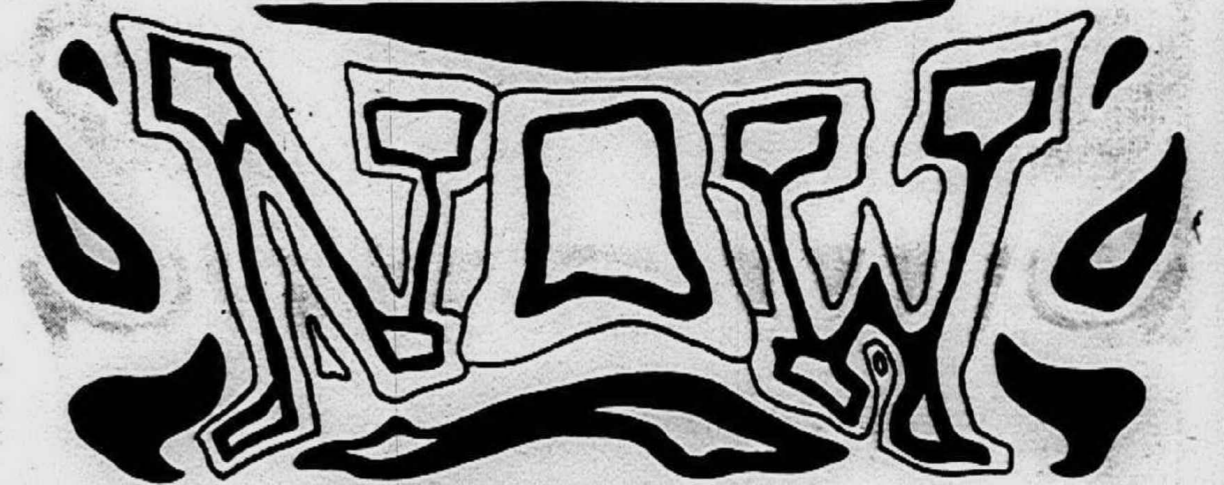

Students who participate in the program are given individual help in finding a position relating directly to their career goals by their school coordinators.

All students must have courses related to their positions during regular school hours.

THOMAS PLOMER, of Redford Township, is the new secretary of Delta Sigma Phi Fraternity at Central Michigan University. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Plomer. A 1966 graduate of Redford Union High, Tom is majoring in marketing at CMU.

GLENN A. PRIMROSE, the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Primrose of Livonia, has been named to the Dean's Honor List at Stout State University in Menominee, Wis. for the fall semester. A 3.5 point grade average is required for the list.

SADDLETRAMPS — That's the name of a new 4-H club begun in Livonia this month. The group is open to teens from 10 to 18 who own their own horses. Here, President Joy McCann (left) with her horse "Rusty" and Deborah Bengel, vice president, with "King Clay" saddle up for a ride. Interested teens may contact the group leader, Mrs. J. Singer, at 425-7210.

Conservation Conference Scheduled

If a planned conference on natural beauty and conservation at Schoolcraft College next Saturday is successful, it should produce a whole new set of projects for youth groups in southeastern Michigan.

The conference is for delegates of major youth organizations and student councils in the state. It's sponsored by the Beautification Council of Southeastern Michigan.

Guest speakers will be Michael Conboy, director of the Michigan Department of Commerce's Office of Economic Expansion; Milo Hector, president of Keep Michigan Beautiful, Inc.; John Stump, co-chairman of Michigan Youth Conference on Natural Beauty and Conservation, and Mary Damson, chairman of MYC and a Camp Fire Girls leader.

The program will include a slide presentation on the Philadelphia conservation program. After the main program, the 500 students expected for the conference will split into groups to plan projects such as cleaning lots and parkways, making bicycle trails or painting buildings.

Beautiful girls deserve Bernard WIGS others need them

Wigs... gorgeous, glamorous wigs. Do you know that there's simply no other beauty product on this green earth that can make you look as beautiful? You don't? If you're single, that's disastrous. Modern Househunter Seeks More Than Just A Shelter

Good design, good looks and good materials are making the difference in today's house sales.

Housing experts state that it's no longer enough to offer homeowners a house that provides shelter, especially if those homeowners are second-time buyers and have learned through experience what they want in a home.

COMMENTING ON modern homeowners' demands, the National Association of Home Builders says that good house proportions, attention to exterior line and beauty, and an emphasis on durability and low maintenance are sure ways of appealing to the buying public.

Homeowners' requirements also include: rooms that permit both family living and individual privacy; easily accessible--and private--outdoor areas such as an atrium or shielded patio; sensible room arrangements and good traffic patterns, and lots of convenient storage space.

The combination of low care, long wear, and good looks is easy to achieve -- inside and out--say the experts, through the proper use of building materials.

An interior example is the extensive use of hardboard paneling, which is attractive, sturdy and easy to clean, in hallways, recreation rooms, dining areas, and even bedrooms and living rooms.

TO MEET exterior requirements, many builders use asphalt roofing shingles which offer efficient weather protection and are designed by the manufacturer for many years of maintenance-free service.

Asphalt shingles have the added advantage of adaptable good looks, because they are available in a variety of colors, including white, black, pastels and blends which allow color coordination between the roof and other exterior elements of a house.

There are even "earth" and "forest" colors--shades of brown and green--which make it easy to harmonize the roof with the house site and surroundings.

OTHER EXTERIOR features that are getting attention from builders and buyers are: windows which add to good house proportion, permanent color and no-paint sidings, and authentic architectural styling--homeowners who want a contemporary house will no longer settle for one glass wall and a modern-looking planter.

NBD To Open In London

National Bank of Detroit has received permission from the Federal Reserve System to establish a branch office in London, England.

The London office will be opened in the latter part of 1968 under the direction of Gerald B. O'Neill, Vice President, who is taking up residence in London, where he will supervise NBD's European operations.

O'Neill has headed NBD's International Division since 1959. A banker since 1937, his experiences includes tours of duty in Toronto, Montreal, New York and London.

His affiliations include service as Chairman of the World Affairs Committee of the Greater Detroit Board of Commerce, Chairman of the Regional Export Expansion Council, Director of the Bankers Association for Foreign Trade, the World Trade Club of Detroit and the United Nations Association of the U.S.A.

STANLEY MARTINEZ, Vice President, has been transferred from the Metropolitan Division to assume credit and administrative responsibilities exclusive of the Division's foreign exchange trading, which continues under the direction of Edward Weall, Vice President. Richard H. Cummings, Senior Vice President, is responsible for the Bank's overall international activities.

Buy Quality For Long Life

"Quality pays in the long run." This is good advice to new-layers buying furniture and furnishings.

Also, it's the voice of experience heard from the veteran home owner who has ventured time after time into modernization projects to meet changing family needs.

"It may cost a little more, but the quality, brand name product you or your contractor install is worth every bit," says knowledgeable home owners. "After all, the major cost of an improvement is the labor, which can just as well be installing quality materials that will wear longer and look better through the years."

Leading lumber and building materials dealers are sources for brand name products on which home owners can rely. Among their lines best known for quality, including dent resistance, appearance and easy maintenance, are Masonite Royalcote decorator panels and X-ninety Siding products in a variety of types and textures.

Fabric blends contain two or more fibers, but a minimum of 25 per cent of any one fiber is needed to improve the fabric. A smaller amount is used occasionally for design effect. According to Michigan State University home economists, they should be washed or cleaned according to the most heat sensitive fiber.

Few Flowers Can Beat Marigolds In Color Effect

Few flowers beat marigolds for massed color effects, which will help to "beautify your corner of America." Tall, short and miniature plants with flowers from six inches across ranging down to half an inch in diameter--they're all available in numerous marigold varieties at your local seed supply dealer to make your garden more beautiful.

Marigolds also are among the very easiest flowers to grow. They're not particular about the type of soil; respond to fertilizer but grow well without it; respond also to extra water but do not demand it, and really ask only for a spot in the full sun.

NOT ONLY DO the bright yellow, gold and orange colors of marigolds attract the attention of passersby and visitors but this flower is so productive of blooms that bouquets may be picked for colorful display in your home.

There are too many varieties of marigolds to name them all here. However, if you need a flowering hedge (yes, that's right) buy seeds of one of the Jubilees-- Diamond (yellow flowers), Golden or Orange.

Primrose, Golden or Yellow Climax will fill the bill if you want tall plants. The Petites are available when extra dwarf ones are desired. Petite Harmony has a gold crest and a mahogany collar; Petite Spry is golden yellow with a maroon collar. Other colors are the usual orange, yellow and gold.

FOR "IN BETWEEN", that is neither tall nor extra dwarf, you might choose the Cupids, which reach 10 inches in height and come in all three colors. Or you might select the foot-high Spun Gold or Spun Yellow, or the 16-inch-high Naughty Marietta, which is gold and maroon.

As you see, there's lots of choice in sizes and types. Indeed a whole garden can be planted of marigolds alone to "beautify your corner of America."

Pack To Move And Save $$$

All "full service" movers will come into your house and completely pack your belongings at the beginning of the move and unpack at the other end.

However, moving specialists point out that you can help reduce the cost of your move by handling the packing and unpacking of unbreakables yourself. But be sure to do it in easy stages.

Another potential money-saver in a local move is knowing exactly where each piece of furniture is to be placed in the new home. As with most things, in local moving, time is money and every delay in unloading means a higher cost.

Kentucky Bluegrass Popular For Lawns

Bluegrass is synonymous with beautification, providing an attractive backdrop for home, garden and roadside.

No lawngrass is more important or more widely used than Kentucky bluegrass, the Lawn Institute declares. About 50 million pounds of economical fine bluegrass seed is used annually to build American soils, and enhance the beauty of gardens and the landscape, it adds.

Synthetic fibers do not absorb moisture, say Michigan State University home economists. This characteristic makes them less comfortable to wear in warm weather.

Tips On How To Beautify Home With Flower Baskets

"Break out" your wicker baskets, fill them with bright spring flowers now abundantly available at your neighborhood florist, and display them to advantage to "beautify your corner of America"—your home or apartment, suggests the Society of American Florists.

You can use almost any shape, size and weave of basket as a flower container. If you don't have some baskets stashed away, you can buy interesting and unusual ones, most having low price tags.

Place or attach a glass jar, tin can or plastic container in the bottom of a foil-lined basket, insert crushed chicken wire to hold the flowers securely, add water, and insert the flower stems.

If the basket is shallow or of unusual shape, cover the sides and bottom with heavy-duty aluminum foil, and attach a pre-saturated-with-water foam flower holder into the already anchored water container. If necessary, cut the foam block to smaller size so it will be surrounded with water. Then insert the flower stems into the foam, which is obtainable at florist shops.

HERE ARE THE Society's suggestions for arranging and displaying baskets of flowers:

An old-fashioned straw mail-holder, filled with carnations, pompons, delphiniums, ivy, for example, and hung beside your front door, will add a touch of beauty and create an air of warm welcome for visitors.

Hanging baskets of fresh flowers can brighten your entrance hall, porch, kitchen, dining area or patio.

Large baskets that normally hold magazines are wonderful for large displays of green foliage, such as magnolia leaves, rhododendron and others.

A tallish raffia basket is a very appropriate container for the long, rangy gladioli or snapdragons. This arrangement, mixed with shorter stemmed flowers—freshly cut pompons or zinnias for instance—and some large, dark green leaves, would be attractive in front of a fireplace or on a low table.

THERE ARE MANY baskets of unusual shape made especially for hanging on walls. The sprightly daisy is a perfect partner for all of them. Alone, or mixed with ivy, daisies can't help but paint a live portrait of spring. Try them in a dark hallway or corner and watch it come to life.

Take a hint from the Society of American Florists and carry spring indoors in flower-filled baskets.

Give Potted Plants New Life Outdoors

Flowering and foliage plants that can be spared from their job of decorating house interiors should be given a vacation outdoors—when the weather becomes settled and warm—to strengthen them for the winter months indoors, says the Society of American Florists.

Now that spring is here, the Society suggests plant owners undertake these preliminary steps:

Discard plants that have outlived their usefulness, including those too big for their indoors niche and that cannot be reduced in size by pruning.

Prune, to promote symmetry or to reduce a plant's size, several weeks ahead of the time when it is safe to set plants outdoors.

Repot in larger pots those plants needing more room in which to grow.

If the pots are to be put into the earth, first use an insecticide to combat any insect pests on the plants, the Society advises.

IT IS BETTER to group house plants together in an outdoor bed location providing a variety of conditions—full sun for desert plants (cacti and succulents), amaryllis and geraniums; partial shade for azaleas, Christmas cactus and orchid cactus; and shade for foliage plants in general.

A spot near a high-headed tree or shrub whose foliage is not too dense, or in the vicinity of a building, may provide these various conditions. If not, the plants will have to be scattered in flower or shrub borders.

Research That Move, Keep Cool And Save

There's no getting around it, moving can be a chore. There are so many things to do, things that are time-consuming and bothersome.

However, there's a lot you can do to make moving easier. The secret lies in advance planning, according to moving consultants of Aero Mayflower Transit Company. Start programming four to six weeks before your moving date.

Your first consideration is what firm is going to do the moving for you. If you're knowledgeable of moving companies, check your telephone book's yellow pages under "Moving." Chances are that those having display ads and stressing long-distance, national or international service will prove most reputable.

In any case, get more than one estimate, and be sure it's a visual estimate. No one can intelligently estimate the cost of a move by telephone. Compare not only cost, but the service each mover offers. Check their reputations locally and be sure that the one you select has a representative in the community to which you're moving. Finally, don't be overly influenced by the "low bid," because remember this is only an estimate, not a firm bid.

RESPONSIBILITY for insurance is yours, not the movers. So check to be sure your goods are fully protected. The mover's liability won't begin to replace an expensive object that might be totally damaged.

Getting an early start on a move is extremely important. At least a month ahead of time, select the mover and set the date. This is particularly important if you're moving at month-end.

You'll want water, electricity, gas and telephone turned off at the old address and the service resumed at the new. The earlier you let the utilities know, the more likely you are to get prompt service on the desired date. Don't overlook services like milk deliveries and newspapers either.

Give the post office your new address and remember, magazines take four to six weeks to change their subscription addresses.

TO AID in accomplishing this host of chores, Mayflower offers a "Movers Check-Off List" which covers the many notifications that have to be made.

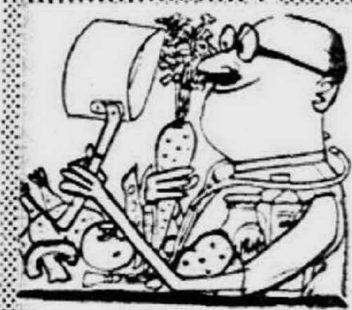

You'll have to make other arrangements for transporting frozen foods, pets, plants and flammable liquids. Movers won't handle them.

Consult with your mover to determine just what you're going to pack and what he will do. While some items can be left in furniture drawers, in general the best idea is to store everything in containers. Check with your mover for advice.

While there are some items you are sure to want to pack yourself in easy stages, your best bet is to leave fragile, breakable items to the movers.

Mayflower, and other major movers provide complete packing services and you will want to consider using them. The cost is moderate and well worth it in terms of the responsibilities that are lifted from your shoulders.

Doctor in the Kitchen®

by W.W. Bauer, M.D.
Consultant, National Dairy Council

This may never have happened, but even so, it is a good story, and right in character.

A mother was preparing her sulky little boy to attend a birthday party for one of his playmates.

"I don't wanna go!" he said, jerking himself away from the maternal hands trying to adjust his shirttail.

"It'll be fun, darling," mother replied with patient insincerity. "You'll see. There'll be good things to eat, too."

"Will they be good for me?" "Of course, dear."

"I don't wanna go...it'll be carrots!"

It didn't turn out to be carrots after all, because the hostess had learned how to make children like party food and still not stuff themselves with too much sweet stuff or refreshments that contribute little to nutrition except calories and spoil the appetite for a good dinner in the bargain.

The kids had a ball with hot dogs or individual pizzas. They had a choice of strawberry, chocolate or plain milk shakes, plus nibbles from a lazy Susan with salted nuts, raisins, several kinds of cookies, chunks of cheddar cheese on colored toothpicks, and shiny red apples.

If they didn't eat a lot of dinner that night, it made no difference provided the parents inquired what the party snacks had been and made allowances. Children will eat and like many kinds of truly nutritious foods in a festive atmosphere, if they are not bothered with too much talk about what's good for them. Even grown people have been known to eat as they please, rather than as they should.

Oak Is Costly? Not This Kind

Many prospective home buyers mistakenly think of oak floors as expensive. This is probably due to the reputation such floors enjoy as a mark of quality construction in a house. Actually, they are among the most economical of residential flooring materials.

A room can be floored with a top grade of the popular strip style of oak flooring, for example, at less cost than for some substitute materials, including those which seek to imitate oak's appearance.

Much Traded Colavito Dislikes Deal To Coast

VERO BEACH, Fla.—Rocky Colavito, the former Detroit Tiger, Cleveland Indian, Chicago White Sox and what have you slugger, isn't sure he'll report to the Los Angeles Dodgers or retire from baseball. It's an old cry from the off-traded outfielder who was purchased Thursday from the White Sox by the Dodgers for a reported $25,000. Rocky said the deal came as a great shock and that he'll have to think a while before he decides what steps he'll take. Colavito's 366 home runs place him fifth among active American Leaguers but he hit only .231 last season—a career low.

TEANECK, N.J.—Arthur Brown, owner of the New Jersey Americans, has indicated the Americans will seek the resignation of George Mikan as Commissioner of the American Basketball Association at the league's meeting in Los Angeles on April 27.

Brown and Mikan have been involved in bitter controversy since the Commissioner ruled the Americans out of the ABA playoffs for forfeit last Sunday. Mikan banned the Americans from the playoffs when he found a court proposed for fourth place playoff with Kentucky was unsuitable for play.

GREENSBORO, N.C.—Bob Kaufman, a basketball star from Gullford College, said he will not participate in the NALA tryouts for the U.S. Olympic team at Adams State College in Colorado.

Kaufman, a 6'8" center who was named to the Associated Press Little All-American first team, said he had to decline the invitation because he was getting behind in his studies and wants to play professional basketball.

LOS ANGELES—Formation of a new club, the Los Angeles Stars, to replace the Anaheim Amigos in the American Basketball Association has been announced.

It is not a transfer of the franchise although the ownership group remains the same. The Stars will play in the Los Angeles Sports Arena vacated this year by the Los Angeles Lakers and will have new players, new coach and new colors.

SAN DIEGO—Elvin Hayes, college basketball's player-of-the-year, has signed a six-figure contract to play for the San Diego Rockets of the National Basketball Association. The signing of Hayes, University of Houston's "Big E," was announced by Robert Breitbard, Rockets' owner.

Terms of the contract were not announced except that it was a "multiple year" pact. It is believed the 6'9 1/2" All-American from Bayville, La. received in excess of $110,000 for each of the next four years. Earlier he had put his price at $300,000.

DETROIT—Joe Louis, former world's heavyweight boxing champion, underwent an operation for removal of gall stones in a Detroit hospital. Louis, 53, learned a year ago the gall stones were forming but last week while undergoing his regular medical checkup doctors told him the stones had enlarged and should be removed at once.

ANN ARBOR—There will be another Elliott to add to Michigan football annals starting in September—he is Bruce Elliott, nephew of Head Football Coach Bump Elliott.

Bruce, son of former University of Illinois Coach Pete Elliott, accepted a football scholarship to play with the Wolverines. Young Elliott will graduate from Champaign (Ill.) Central High where he starred as a 170-pound quarterback and also earned letters in basketball and baseball.

ANN ARBOR—Dick Vidmer, letterman quarterback for three seasons at the University of Michigan, has been awarded the Conference Medal, presented annually at each Big Ten institution.

The medal is given to the student demonstrating the greatest proficiency in scholarship and athletics. Vidmer is the 50th scholar-athlete to be so honored at Michigan since the award was established in 1914.

By George Maskin observing sports

A visit to Franklin High for the district basketball tournament suddenly found one submerged in a discussion on hockey.

"Why not help us get a varsity hockey team?" asked Franklin Athletic Director Bob Bentley. Others close by chimed in with a similar plea. "We're getting two artificial rinks in Livonia," Bentley continued as out on the floor the basketball action became hot and furious.

"One of the rinks will be right around the corner from the school . . . and when they open in the fall, few communities will be able to surpass what we'll have in Livonia."

That the rinks are in the construction stage naturally pleases the operator of this particular effort in the Observer.

We've been pounding away on the typewriter for something like six or seven years — urging Livonia, Redford Township, Plymouth, Farmington and all the rest of Oberland to do something about providing artificial skating rinks.

HOCKEY GOES hand in hand with such facilities. It's a booming sport for youngsters. This is proved by the hundreds and hundreds who make use of every rink.

"You know they have a league now," Bentley added. "There are 18 schools playing hockey—schools like Detroit Catholic Central, Ann Arbor, etc.

"They'd like to have Franklin in it. Also Bentley, and maybe even Stevenson."

The cost wouldn't be earth-shaking, according to Bentley.

"Most of the boys around here who play hockey already have the equipment. Their parents say that they'll do anything to make the sport go here.

"So, really, if we just had enough money in a hockey budget to pay for the officials, transportation and a few other items, we could get the team off the ground and prospering by next season."

ACCORDING TO Bentley, who will be moving to Livonia's fourth high school next fall, there is a big push on in all schools to increase athletic programs.

He noted that Stevenson turned to soccer last fall and that Franklin got a similar team rolling.

"I think that within a few years, you'll see soccer an integral part of our prep program, along with gymnastics and hockey," Bentley declared.

"It behooves us in the schools to provide activities that will give every youngster a chance to participate."

When we were in Boston last weekend, the state finals were held in hockey during the afternoon at the Boston Garden and then in basketball the same evening.

The hockey outdrew the basketball, 2-1.

Builders Seeking More Manpower

The building of homes has come a long way since 1918 and the construction industry has changed completely since the log-cabin days.

Today's elaborate homes, in which as many as 30,000 parts must be purchased, fitted, finished and fabricated into components, require skilled craftsmanship in many fields.

Some idea of the effects of the manpower shortage in the home-building industry are given by Irvin H. Yackness, executive vice president of the Builders Association of Metropolitan Detroit. He said:

"Apprenticeship programs have been inaugurated by a number of unions as well as in schools. It takes time to develop a good carpenter, an electrician, a painter or a plumber. That is why the home-construction industry suffers today from manpower shortages. There are jobs for more trainees than the schools can produce.

"In Michigan, a recent survey showed that 36 per cent of the building craftsmen were 45 years old and older. Losses through retirement and other causes indicate that during the next 10 years there will be a 32,000-man shortage in this state.

"Anyone with an aptitude for working with his hands, who is willing to enter a supervised training program, will find a career in home building that is satisfying financially and otherwise."

Information on such careers can be had by calling the Builders Association of Metropolitan Detroit, the U.S. Department of Labor, the Michigan Department of Labor or any of the unions in the building trades, all of which are listed in the phone books.

Now Is Time To Register Motorboats

LANSING—Nearly 400,000 motorboats are registered in Michigan with the remainder of 1968 to go on the current three-year registration, the watercraft unit of the Michigan Department of State reported. All motorboat owners with unregistered boats were reminded that "March and April are excellent times to register them at any branch office of the Secretary of State.

"Now that our auto license plate rush is over, branches are looking for business to handle during the lag between the end of auto licenses 'rush' and the peak of the watercraft business in late Spring and Summer," said Secretary of State James M. Hare.

According to U. S. Coast Guard statistics at the end of 1967, 385,124 motorboats were registered in Michigan, Hare said.

THE MOTORBOAT registering and numbering law, unrelated to the boat licensing law which must be handled annually for all boats 16-feet or longer which use the Great Lakes or connecting waterways, is set up in three-year cycles.

"Although we have never gotten much above the 400,000 level in total registration," Hare noted, "I'm convinced that there are around a half-million motorboats in Michigan.

REGISTRATION FEES for motorboats are as follows: Registrations for new boats or renewals.....$ 3.00
Renewal with transfer...4.00
Transfers between owners of registered motorboats.....1.00
Duplicates for lost registrations.....1.00
Changes of address......50

FCC Delays Cut In Long Distance Phone Rates

WASHINGTON -- The Federal Communications Commission has put off for another three months a $20 million cut in long distance telephone rates which had been planned for April 1.

The FCC said it was deferring the cut because of the uncertainty in settlement of a labor dispute involving the Bell system and because of a spending request for a surcharge in federal income tax.

Last July 5, the FCC ordered the Bell system to reduce its long-distance charges by $120 million, but two months later decided to defer $30 million of this to April 1, 1968.

WASHINGTON -- The Senate has voted to restrict the importation of woolen and man-made fabrics. This throws into even greater question the fate of the pending tax bill, to which the amendment restricting textile imports was attached.

The vote to impose quotas on textile imports came despite pleas from Sen. Everett Dirksen (R-Ill.) not to risk further delays of the tax measure by opening the controversial issue of international trade policy.

His pleas were based essentially on the deadline that faces the basic tax measure under consideration. That measure will extend excise taxes on automobiles and telephone service beyond the April 1 date, when they would automatically be reduced.

LORAIN, O. -- A California bank executive, who drowned on March 8, sent the bus-package bomb that killed a government physicist at his home near here on Feb. 24. That was the announcement of Lorain County Coroner Paul Kopsch.

Dr. Kopsch released parts of an FBI investigation report tracing the bomb package to Albert Ricci, 53, former vice president of a bank at Petaluma, Calif. The coroner said he considers the bomb death of Samuel Hammons, Jr., 42, now a closed case.

The FBI report said inquiries by agents "disclosed that Hammons was romantically involved with another woman who was also romantically involved with Ricci, a resident of Sonoma, Calif., and an assistant manager of a branch bank in Petaluma."

NEW YORK -- More than 160 idled ships have clogged the nation's biggest port as a longshoremen's strike dwindled fruit and foreign-car supplies and threatened to rot tons of perishable foods.

Luxury-liner passengers struggled with their own baggage and faced limited menus once they sailed because of the difficulty getting provisions aboard ships without dock workers.

The cost of the strike of nearly 10,000 longshoremen is mounting at a $3 million per day clip.

The strike is over the New York-New Jersey Waterfront Commission's plan to open the work register to 750 more men for new automated piers in New Jersey. The strikers say work has been diverted from New York to New Jersey piers, leaving the New York longshoremen underemployed or jobless.

ROCKFORD, Ill. -- A circuit court judge here said he will issue an injunction directing striking firemen to return to jobs. About half of the force, which totals 176, has been absent from each shift since Tuesday.

PITTSBURGH -- Four dissident steelworkers have filed suit in U.S. District Court to nullify the $5 monthly steelworker union dues increase approved at the recent Atlantic City convention. Donald C. Rarick, who is running for the presidency of the United Steelworkers of America, and three other union members charged that the voting on the dues increase was rigged.

WASHINGTON -- The Civil Service Commission has announced an automatic cost-of-living increase in annuities to retired federal employees and their survivors. The 3.9 per cent increase, effective May 1, will show up on the June 1 checks of more than 800,000 on Civil Service retirement rolls.

WASHINGTON -- Military spending dropped in February by 10.6 per cent to just under $6.2 billion, the Treasury reported.

At the same time, the department's monthly statement of income and outgo showed military spending for the first eight months of the fiscal year totaled $50.28 billion.

WASHINGTON--The U.S. Supreme Court has been urged to strike down laws that discriminate against illegitimate children, just as it has invalidated the laws that discriminate against Negroes.

The court heard arguments in two appeals involving the constitutionality of a Louisiana law that prohibits children born out of wedlock from recovering damages for the negligent deaths of their parents.

Louisiana courts have upheld the law on the ground that it "discourages" bringing children into the world out of wedlock.

Top Labor Mediator Called In Newspaper Strike

DETROIT--Dr. Nathan Feinsinger, nationally known labor mediator, has agreed to come to Detroit to discuss the city's long newspaper strike.

Dr. Feinsinger, professor of law at the University of Wisconsin, will review the situation and possibly devise a formula that might lead to an agreement between the Detroit News and the Detroit Free Press and the numerous newspaper unions.

Mayor Jerome Cavanagh, who is making arrangements for the intervention of Dr. Feinsinger, said he had not discussed with publishers or unions the visit of the Wisconsin professor but could envision no reason for objection.

LANSING--Michigan National Guardsmen will receive an additional 32 hours of riot training in two weekend sessions in the next two months.

The new training will emphasize small unit operations in manning roadblocks, anti-sniper actions and tactics to be used against looters and arsonists.

MONROE--The first tornado of the season sliced through a four-mile stretch of Monroe County, causing extensive property damage and barely missing a populous subdivision.

No injuries were reported. The twister was accompanied by high winds, hail and rain.

PONTIAC--A group of teen boys and girls went on a window-breaking rampage in the vicinity of Eastern Junior High. Police reported about 40 windows were broken at an estimated value of $700. Sixteen were reported shattered at the school.

LANSING--William J. Rogers, 40-year-old superintendent of schools in North Dearborn Heights, has been named superintendent of the Ingham Intermediate School District of Ingham County effective July 1. He succeeds Alton J. Stroud, who was tried and convicted in 1965 of murder and armed year.

LANSING--The Michigan Court of Appeals has ruled that extensive news coverage of a crime in itself does not prove that community opinion has been prejudiced against a defendant.

The decision was made on the appeal of Sidney Jenkins, who was tried and convicted in 1965 of murder and armed robbery by the Genessee County Circuit Court. Jenkins claimed that the jury was influenced by prior knowledge of the case through newspaper, radio and television coverage of the murder. The news reports implied his guilt, Jenkins argued.

WASHINGTON--Sen. Robert Griffin, R-Mich., believes the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) has usurped the policy-making functions of Congress and is so structured that it always comes down on the side of labor.

He has called for the abolition of the NLRB and its replacement by a U.S. Labor Court patterned after the U.S. Tax Court.

BATTLE CREEK--The Kellogg Co. will spend $20 million annually for the next three years in capital replacements and expansion projects. The company spent $17 million in improvements and expansion in 1967.

PONTIAC--Sally Herrington, a five-year-old girl suffering from a rare blood disease, is living on 50 pints of blood each week. Sally was admitted to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in September and has been receiving almost continuous blood transfusions.

A hospital spokesman said it has taken $1,200 of blood each week to keep the child alive. He said the family is about 400 to 500 pints behind in replacing or paying for the blood used.

Her doctors said they were hopeful. During the past two months, they have detected signs that the transfusions are regenerating her bone marrow.

HOWELL--A possible conflict of interest has prompted the resignation of Charles Showerman, Isosco Township supervisor. An associate real-estate broker with Howell Town and Country, he explained that the countywide real estate, insurance, appraisal and building business at times serves the county as a customer or client, creating a conflict of interest.

DETROIT--The Wayne County Board of Supervisors has approved a pay increase for county employees of 7 per cent or $420, whichever is greater.

General fund employees will get their raise on April 1. The boost for Road Commission workers is retroactive to Dec. 1.

ANN ARBOR--The Ann Arbor Board of Education negotiating team has rejected the latest salary proposal of the Ann Arbor Teachers Association--a $1.4 million salary and fringe benefit package.

The board reaffirmed its current proposal to the teachers. This includes $200 raises for those teachers beyond step 10 of the current salary schedule; normal yearly hikes specified in the current contract for those below step 10, fully paid health and accident insurance and continuation of the super-maximum pay plan which is a merit plan for pay increases for veteran teachers.

JACKSON--Jackson voters have approved a three-mill property tax extension, first voted on last year that authorizes some $500,000 for the city. The original approval enabled the city to provide additional police and firemen.

Gourmets Dine In Style In Plymouth 'Chaine'

By STATON LORENZ

Sunday, March 24th was the date for the first quarterly dinner of the Confrerie de la Chaine des Rotisseurs, Michigan Chapter, in 1968 held at the Mayflower Meeting House in Plymouth.

Members of this ancient international gourmet wine and food society, founded in 1248 and established in Michigan in 1950, comprises the heart of the region's food and wine connoisseurs.

Many of these people are professional restaurant operators or hotelmen, with wine and food enthusiasts, from all occupations, making up the balance of the membership.

The formal dinners of the "Chaine" are held in a member's restaurant somewhere in Michigan. There are several other state chapters throughout America.

The purpose of the founding fathers was to: "promote the proper care and handling of meat (to be cooked on a spit whenever possible), never to allow meat to spoil and to use the finest wines available," in the interest of advancing culinary knowledge.

Smoking of cigarettes and cigars is prohibited until after the coffee is served, no salt and pepper is permitted at the table, bread and butter is never served, liquor is taboo before and after the meal and a fresh glass is used for each wine.

Each dinner, including the champagne and hors d'oeuvres hour, takes five hours and consists of seven complete courses.

All good rules have a purpose, however, and it is fair to explain why they exist. Smoking is not everyone's habit and the wine is noticeably affected when clouds of smoke are being exhaled at the same moment the bouquet of a wine is inhaled.

Salt and pepper and other table seasonings are left to the discretion of the chef whose reputation is at stake. Liquor, you may know, tends to dull the taste buds and has no place prior to the consumption of up to ten different and delicate wines, and usually is not needed after such consumption.

Fresh, clean and correct wine glasses are placed on the table in front of each diner. Six glasses were on the table Sunday as six still wines were served with dinner requiring over five hundred glasses for the entire event.

Bread may be served with the cheese course only and butter is not needed, generally speaking. Neither appear at the dinners.

Appearance of each formal member is enhanced, to some degree, by the ceremonial ribbon or Chaine and the medallion, or coat of arms, of the organization. Ribbons are colored to signify rank, professional status in the industry and general membership.

Elevation of officers and induction of new members took place Sunday. Officers all have a job to do for each dinner, one selects the wine, another the menu etc. and then there is a rehearsal dinner for the officers using the wines and foods as they would appear for the final event.

Host and hostess for this dinner were Mr. Ralph Lorenz and his wife, Mabel, who artfully prepared the centerpieces for each table.

First order of business: Induction of three new members: Mr. Eugene Power of Ann Arbor, Mr. Martin Stein of Detroit and Mr. Edward McCall of Lansing.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Power own and operate the new Park Place Motor Hotel in Traverse City and are constantly returning from or departing to Europe. They take a great deal of pleasure in exploring the vineyards and cellars of the

Here's How The Experts Rate Wines Of World

Opinion is found everywhere and because most people have an opinion and because taste is purely a matter of opinion perhaps you would like to hear what guests who attended the Chaine Dinner had to say, briefly.

First let's take the opinion of one of the new inductees, Mr. Eugene Power. I asked Mr. Power what three wines he liked the best, and, without hesitation, the Chateau Montrose won out. Next was Nuits St. George, "very good for its youth," and thirdly the Barsac, Chateau Coutet.

A world traveler, Mr. Power feels that the best wines are found where they are grown. "Something happens when they are shipped to this country that detracts from their original beauty," he said.

"California, on the other hand, has some good values but seldom do you find a red wine that will improve sufficiently with age, such as the 1959 Montrose," added Mr. Power.

"I injected that perhaps that's just as well for most American wines are consumed the day they are purchased and seldom stored for improvement's sake due to the fact that they are more agreeable, when young, than their imported counterparts.

"Wines would be poured in numbered glasses and served to the guests and they would have to identify them without further assistance," he suggested. Sounds good—and it probably will come to pass as he holds the highest rank of any officer of the Chaine in the United States and sits on the World Consul.

THOSE OF YOU who know Ralph Lorenz, my father, will appreciate the effort that he exerted in bringing such a dinner to reality. This is the first time a Chaine Dinner has returned to a member's restaurant and reservations flowed in because his original dinner, two years ago, was a masterpiece—an exact duplication of the First Thanksgiving Dinner from Pumpkin Soup to Red Flannel Hash. He, again, was expected to, and did, do a great job.

His opinion, when asked which food was the best; "A dinner such as this is like a symphony, remove a single chord, line or sheet of music and the work is destroyed." He was a little more open about the wines and with reason, wines can be planned and carefully selected but they don't flow together the way several courses of food should. "I think the Chateau Montrose, the Wehlener Sonnenuhr and the Chateau Coutet were all outstanding and you know I don't care that much for red wines, son (Montrose is red)."

There you have it, just another chapter in the story of the "Gourmet Who Came to Dinner."

"IN MY HOTEL, the Park Place, we have French wines dated 1957, 1959 and right up through 1964 aging and selling well," he countered, "and I price the wine to reflect overhead, storage and investment costs rather than simple straight percentages of original cost, that's why we sell large amounts of older wines and people are really pleased to find carefully aged wines of merit.

"We buy American wines as we need them locally, rather than storing them in large quantity," he concluded.

Dr. Henry O. Barbour, Dean of the Michigan State Hotel and Restaurant school has an opinion to offer too. First let me interject, we are both graduates of Cornell's hotel school and occasionally he must be reminded of his alma mater, "far above Cayuga's waters," lest he forget while he directs state's fine school.

Dr. Barbour also preferred the Montrose and he mentioned the Chateau Coutet as being "pleasant." A man of few words, he took a few to praise the cheese tasting and expressed an interest in doing the same with wines for a future dinner.

famed Burgundy region of France.

The sherry, from Spain, was presented in one-ounce decanters and was added at the discretion of each diner.

The white California wine served with the soup was a milestone for this group and can be for you, too. Experiencing the FIRST wine made from a new winery and the vineyards of an experienced wine-maker is something like meeting the President...you may only get one chance in a lifetime, if that.

The chef, Curtis Langdon, with the hotel for 30 years, prepared his popular Eugenia sauce from ham stock for the finishing touch on the chicken. Bolla Amarone Recioto 1962 was selected for the chicken and again the membership was introduced to a largely unfamiliar wine of world fame. Amarone means bitter in Italian and Bolla is the brand name prefixing this premium Valpolicella wine from Romeo and Juliet's lovely Verona.

Center-cut steer tenderloin is seasoned with salt and pepper, brushed with brandy, larded with pate foie gras and wrapped in a blanket of pie dough and roasted till pink in the center. It is served with a garnish of rissole potatoes, steamed cauliflower, carrots and cherry tomatoes.

Eating this beauty is great fun for the golden pastry and the juices of the meat have married beneath the crust and when knife parts the crust only the eye can witness the goodness for a moment...the taste is unique, the mouth continues to water, the second bite craves a third and you learn that the flame or the grill never touched the meat and that's the difference. What flavor!

Salads and wines don't mix and the Kentucky Bib Lettuce with Bacon Rinds and Lemon Oil dressing was served as a separate course. Very fine and refreshing. Lemon juice, olive oil and avocado were blended till foamy and applied to the full head of carefully washed lettuce. Crisp bacon bits were sprinkled over the salad for color and crunch and flavor. Normal procedure calls for three or four cheeses, of different variety, to be served to prepare one for the dessert and to soothe the tummy. Departing from this rule, four cheeses of the Port Salut variety (a contraction of the name Port du Salut and meaning port of salvation) were selected. One each from France (Abbey), Denmark (Esrom), Wisconsin (Red Rooster) and Illinois (Geneva) were numbered and placed on trays, one for each table of guests.

A blind tasting is a realistic method of getting true opinions about wine so the same should prove true with cheese. The French are responsible for Port Salut cheeses, their Trappist

Monks invented it around 1233 and one might think they set the standard for the world. The Danes produce a much stronger variety and though they are both of the same type, one would see a difference as wide as that of steak and veal...both meats being beef, on the hoof.

The American varieties actually represented both the mild and the full-flavored type with the Chaine members selecting the two mildest cheeses as American and the remaining two stronger cheeses as Imported varieties. The actual results found that the mildest with the Abbey with Red Rooster very close in flavor and favor, the Geneva brand was decidedly stronger than the first two and the Esrom was the most flavorful and popular. All these cheeses are available in better shops in this area and at reasonable prices.

Chef Langdon and his crew of 30 professionals, comprised of cooks, salad and hors d'oeuvres girls, wine stewards, waitresses and their most capable supervisors, under the direction of catering manager Lorenz Petersen, received a standing ovation from the 52 Chaine des Rotisseurs members and guests...a tradition since 1248.

UM Series Tickets Go On Sale

Season tickets for the 1968-1969 International Presentations of the University Musical Society of the University of Michigan are currently on sale in Ann Arbor.

The 90th season of the program will feature music and dance from throughout the world. The series begins Oct. 5 with a concert by the Chicago Symphony Orchestra and will conclude March 23 with a concert by the Orchestra Michaelangelo Di Firenze.

Three separate programs are offered in the presentations. They are: the Choral Union Series in the Hill Auditorium; the Dance Series in the Hill Auditorium; and the Chamber Arts Series in the Rackham Auditorium.

Ticket information may be obtained by contacting the University Musical Society in the Burton Tower on the Ann Arbor campus.

Workshop Sets Spring Session

The Actors Workshops begins its spring training program Tuesday, April 2, in the Birmingham House. Starting time is 7:30 p.m.

Techniques used in slide film, motion picture, tv-radio commercials and industrial films will be examined and worked with during the eight week session.

The workshop has recently instituted a session on the technique of humor due to the trend to light, comic and satirical commercials.

Concert Features A. Butler

Angeline Butler, a newcomer to the singing world, will make her first Detroit appearance with the "Johnny Carson Show" March 30 in the Masonic Auditorium.

The "in person" performances by Johnny Carson, host of the "Tonight" show, will also feature dance team Bud and Cecil Robinson and Doc Severinsen.

Miss Butler, a 23-year-old Fisk University and Juilliard School of Music graduate, was the first Negro singer on the Buster Davies Singers on the Bell Telephone Hour. Later she made records with Bob Dylan and then joined The Pilgrims, a folk-singing group.

Two performances, at 7 and 10 p.m., are planned for the Masonic concert.

'Barefoot' Casting Completed

Norm Hosking and Eileen Waldecker have been cast in the lead roles in the upcoming Farmington Players production of "Barefoot In The Park."

The production opens April 19 in the Farmington Players Barn on 12 Mile Rd. in Farmington Township.

Others cast are: Ted Budgen as the man upstairs; Dorothy Millerd as the mother; and George Nahstoll and Al Stutson. Howard McFarland is the director.

Additional performances are scheduled for April 20, 26, 27 and 28 and May 3 and 4. Tickets may be obtained by contacting Noral McNeely at 476-2749.

Hilberry To Reopen April 3

Following one dark week between academic quarters, the Hilberry Classic Theatre at Wayne State University reopens Wednesday, April 3, for the last eight weeks of its 1968 season of repertory.

The first week's schedule includes "Hamlet" for the Wednesday matinee and Saturday evening performances, "A Flea in Her Ear" Wednesday evening, "The Devils" Thursday evening, "Becket" Friday evening and "Twelfth Night" at the Saturday matinee. Matinees are at 2:30, evening performances at 8:30.

Schoolcraft Honors Top Scholars

Gail Sayre; at right, Davis Sabo.

Schoolcraft College paid tribute last week to 48 of its top scholars at a reception hosted by President and Mrs. Eric Bradner.

The students are members of Omicron Iota chapter of Phi Theta Kappa, a national scholastic honorary society for community colleges.

It corresponds to the Phi Beta Kappa of the four-year colleges.

Among those honored were students from the college district's five local member districts--Clarenceville, Garden City, Livonia, Northville and Plymouth.

Co-hosts with the Bradners at the reception on Waterman Campus Center were:

Dr. Ralph W. Atchley, faculty adviser to the chapter, and Mrs. Atchley; John H. Brunne; vice president for instruction and Mrs. Brunne; Edward V. McNally, dean of student affairs, and Mrs. McNally; Robert A. Stenger, academic dean, and Mrs. Stenger; Norman E. Dunn, registrar, and Mrs. Dunn; Miss Barbara Gell, director of admissions; John R. Webber, assistant dean of student affairs; and Miss Jean Pike, director of student affairs.

MRS. NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Mrs. Peale Addresses Women

Mrs. Norman Vincent Peale will address women of church and community at 2 p.m. Tuesday, April 2, in the Church of the Savior, Livonia.

The wife of the well-known clergyman will be accompanying her husband when he visits the local Reformed Church for two addresses Tuesday evening.

Women of the community are invited by the Rev. Luther E. Ratmeyer, pastor of the Church of the Savior, to hear Mrs. Peale. The church is located at 38100 Five Mile, just west of Newburgh.

Mrs. Peale, mother of three, has maintained a close partnership with her husband in all his activities as pastor of the historic Marble Collegiate Reformed Church in New York.

She is president of the Denominational board of missions and serves with her husband on the boards of the American Foundation of Religion and Psychiatry and the Protestant Council. She also is co-editor of the magazine "Guidposts."

Dr. Peale's two addresses are scheduled at 7 and 8:30 p.m. and admission will be by complimentary ticket. The tickets are available by calling the church office, 464-1052 or 427-0122.

Archaeologists Of State Meet

The Michigan Archaeological Society will hold its 17th annual spring meeting in the Grand Rapids Public Museum Sunday, March 31.

Dr. Donald R. Hagge, of Northville, a surgeon with the Livonia Medical Community, is president of the group, which has a membership of over 800.

The scientific program will include a movie on excavations at Skegemog Point in Grand Traverse County, reports on diggings on Summer Island and the Fletcher Site near Bay City and a commentary on historic documents and the Indian trade by Dr. David Armour of the Mackinac Island State Park Commission.

In Oakland GOP Split

Cartwright Turnout Largest

Five Republican lawmakers, many of them sitting on the fence in the 19th Congressional District's intra-party war for the last year, last week made it clear they are supporting the moderate segment headed by Chairman John Cartwright.

Congressman Jack H. McDonald and four state representatives, including Raymond L. Baker of Farmington, wrote to precinct delegates asking them to attend the Cartwright group's Wednesday convention in Oakland County.

In an interview at the conservative convention, Kuhn said he expected the GOP state convention next month would once again vote to seat the Cartwright group. But the Pontiac attorney added that conservatives would probably carry their fight to the national convention in an attempt to gain the delegate seats from the 19th District.

"This is a holding action," Kuhn said of the conservative meeting. The conservatives, while refusing to admit publicly that the Cartwright group is the legal GOP organization in the 19th, are actually aiming their efforts at the Aug. 6 primary, when a new batch of local delegates will be elected from the precincts, he added.

ORIGIN OF the split is the 1966 district convention's disputed vote on election of delegates to the state convention. Powell, then chairman, ruled his supporters had won, 53-52, and adjourned the meeting.

The Cartwright supporters held the vote was improper and the adjournment premature, and continued the convention after Powell's group walked out. The GOP state convention seated the Cartwright group and has officially recognized it.

Only lawmaker who failed to endorse the Cartwright group was Richard Kuhn's brother, State Sen. George Kuhn. The senator didn't appear at either convention, although Richard was personally confident of George's support.

Conservatives suffered a blow when Sen. L. Harvey Lodge, a veteran legislator from Pontiac, attended the Cartwright group's convention although he did not sign the

Kuhn Asks Income Tax Limitation

State Sen. George W. Kuhn, R-West Bloomfield, has proposed an amendment to the state constitution to limit the state income tax on individuals to 2.6 per cent, on corporations to 5.6 per cent, and on financial institutions to 7 per cent.

"I feel strongly that if there is a need for any further increase in the income tax, it should be left up to a vote of the people," said Kuhn, who voted against the income tax law last year.

"It is also vitally important that we give corporations and banks some assurance that their taxes will not be raised without consideration by the voters.

"I have always been strongly opposed to an open-end tax policy. There must be some limitation and control of this tax by the people."

If Kuhn's resolution is approved by both houses of the Legislature and placed on the November election ballot, it will be paired with another proposal previously approved to permit a graduated income tax in Michigan. The constitution at present prohibits a graduate income tax.

legislative letter of support.

ALMOST ALL Farmington city and township precinct delegates ignored the conservative convention.

Mrs. Grace Richardson, a conservative stalwart, was considered part of the Powell group's strength and elected an alternate delegate to the state convention, but she didn't actually attend the district meeting.

Otherwise, no elected Farmington delegate attended the conservative gathering, and that group appointed seven Farmington residents to fill out the Farmington delegation.

THERE WERE 138 delegate posts that could have been filled in the 1966 primary; 108 persons were actually elected. Of these, 27 attended the conservative convention and 52 went to the Cartwright gathering.

Through the appointment process, both conventions filled most of the vacancies.

Shortly before last week's conventions, delegates received letters signed by five lawmakers asking them to attend the moderate convention. "The Republican Party in the 19th District has demonstrated the broad-base appeal which incorporates the many perspectives of Republicanism. That appeal has flourished under John Cartwright's leadership," the letter said.

It was signed by McDonald, Baker, and State Reps. Clifford Smart, Loren Anderson and Donald Bishop.

All but McDonald actually attended the Cartwright convention, and the congressman was represented by an aide from his Farmington office.

Also adding their support to the Cartwright group were a couple of Wayne County visitors -- State Rep. Louis Schmidt of Livonia and Sen. Lorraine Beebe of Dearborn.

BIG GUN at the conservative convention was State Sen. Robert Huber, of Troy, guiding light of the Republican Citizens Committee of Oakland County, a conservative group which feels it's being "excluded" from GOP affairs.

Huber charged there is an "unholy alliance" between Republican leaders in the Legislature and the most liberal wing of the Democratic Party headed by Sens. Sander Levin and Coleman Young.

Most legislation being produced, Huber said, "is Democratic legislation... We have defied the Democratic leadership."

He said there is now "a division" in GOP Senate ranks -- "a group of senators who are no longer buying the Levins and the Youngs" and are putting heat on Republican leader Emil Lockwood.

Huber urged conservatives to get politically active to "protect your life, your property and your pocketbook."

OPPORTUNITIES ABOUND IN REAL ESTATE

Did you know that more Ladies and Men, who have never sold anything in their lives, are making more money in Real Estate than ever before? Women, whose families are raised, and have had a desire to broaden their scope of life, as well as the want for some of the luxuries are being particularly well. Also men who have had good business backgrounds and have been disrupted are doing outstandingly well.

If you want to earn from $10,000-$20,000 per year, you will want to associate yourself with one of the leaders in the field. Call Mr. Miller at KE 7-0080. Next class in Real Estate starts soon.
