Millage decision

Whether voters in the Plymouth-Canton school district will be asked to approve new millage in the June 8 election will be decided at tonight's budget workshop.

The session is set for 7:30 p.m. in the board office at 454 S. Harvey in Plymouth.

The board of education has been considering a short-term, one- or two-mill levy to help make ends meet in 1992-93, when the district expects to face a deficit of up to $5.1 million.

The revenue shortfall is anticipated in light of legislative actions that include the property tax freeze, a cap on social security payments to districts and tax-base sharing.

In order to place a millage proposal on the ballot June 8, the district must take action by May 11.

Who's who

Dr. Sid Disbrow — chiropractic physician, kinesiologist, marathoner and trumpet player with the Plymouth Community Band — has been included in the 1992-93 edition of "Who's Who in the Midwest."

Disbrow, who recently ran the Boston Marathon, also has been nominated for the forthcoming edition of "Who's Who in the World."

The Plymouth Township resident previously was named to "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities," "Outstanding Young Men in America," "Distinguished Leaders in Health Care," and "Who's Who in Chiropractic."

Disbrow has practiced in Plymouth for 16 years.

Hosts needed

Three French students ages 12-18 are looking for places to stay for four weeks in July in the Plymouth-Canton area.

A French chaperone will accompany the group, which hail from Lyon, France's second-largest city. For more information, call Barbara Schendel at 453-3905.

Academic All Stars

The 1992 all-star team will be profiled in a special section in Thursday's Observer. These students — 10 of 16 — named to the team — are some of the brightest young men and women graduating from high school this year. Read about their plans, hopes, dreams and who influenced their high school academic careers. Pictured are:

Observer to get new look

Your Plymouth Observer is about to launch a new era. On Thursday, you will see a redesigned newspaper, full of your familiar hometown news but with a contemporary look and fresh features that are more useful and enjoyable for you.

Two years ago, we hired the country's foremost newspaper designer, Mario Garcia, of the Poynter Institute in St. Petersburg, Fla., to give us the broad outline. Then we put the expertise of our entire staff to work to design a product we know will serve you better — regardless of whether you are a reader or an advertiser.

A key part of the redesign process was consulting a cross-section of readers and advertisers in professionally monitored focus groups. We listened closely and incorporated your suggestions into what you will see Thursday.

Your newspaper will look better, be easier to read and more useful than ever.

It will reflect more of your community — something of which we can all be proud.

Some highlights are:
• A scanner index that runs the length of the left-hand column on the front page. Think of it as a "roadmap" that will guide you inside to the major local stories in each section.

• Plymouth Pipeline in a new place — running across the bottom of Page 1.

• Summaries that tell the main points of stories and graphics to signal story content.

• A new, expanded calendar of events that is easy to find and easy to read.

• A whole new typeface and headline style.

• Bigger photographs.

• An opinion page that includes more of your views. Community Voice — in which we ask you and your neighbors for your views on current topics — will run near your letters to the editor.

This is just a glimpse of the changes you will see in your Plymouth Observer starting Thursday.

And just so you don't miss any of our changes, a users' guide will accompany the first issue to help explain them all.

Your Plymouth Observer will have a whole new look. As always, we welcome your opinions. Please call our Reader Response Line (313) 953-2042 and let us know what you think.

Some things do change for the better. Take a look Thursday and see for yourself.

Hoben wants extra year at schools' helm

By M.B. Dillon
staff writer

The contract of School Superintendent John Hoben, 68, expires next year, but he wants to stay on the job for an extra year.

While it's frustrating to watch the Legislature bludgeon the district's budget, Hoben, 68, says he isn't tempted to throw in the towel.

Plymouth-Canton Community Schools project a deficit of up to $5.1 million next year. The total budget will be in the neighborhood of $75 million.

"I see it as a challenge, to make some reason out of it and to salvage the best we can with the elements we have," he said.

There are so many unknowns that trying to budget for next year "is like grabbing a bowl of jello," he said.

"I'm also very much imbued with the technology process we're going through (to bring high technology into Plymouth-Canton classrooms), Hoben said.

"I'd like to bring home $6 million from the feds. So I am not discouraged at this point. I just know we have a lot of work to do, and we are having at it."

Hoben has lobbied for a U.S. Department of Education grant that would help equip K-12 classrooms with interactive TV; laser and video discs; satellite capability and other forms of information access.

John Hoben

Hoben, who earns $109,128 annually and receives a car allotment of $7,200, announced at last week's school board meeting he would take a pay freeze in 1992-93 in light of the district's financial woes.

Meanwhile, the school board is evaluating Hoben's performance.

That's the potential outcome if a downtown Plymouth upscale apartment project were removed from the city's downtown development district, as is being considered by a project partner.

Jack Wilcox said he and business partners planning to build a four-story apartment project on his downtown property are considering asking the city to have the property removed from the downtown development district.

"We're thinking about that, yes," said Wilcox on Friday. He earlier discussed the possibility with down-

'Labor of love'

Trout released in Rouge tributary

By Jeff Counts
staff writer

Brown trout are facing upstream in the Rouge River system for the first time in recent history.

The more than 4,500 trout were planted in Johnson Drain, a Rouge tributary, on Wednesday by the state Department of Natural Resources in cooperation with the Western Wayne County Conservation Association.

"It was a labor of love," said Liz Hay-Chmielewski, a DNR fish biologist, who studied the stream for three years before determining that it was clean, cool and unpolluted enough for trout.

"I wanted to try brook trout, but the water just wasn't cold enough," she said.

The planting of trout in the Rouge River system is an environmental victory for Wayne County because trout unlike other species of fish need cool, fast running, unpolluted water that has a high oxygen content, according to Bob Laich of the Wayne County Conservation Association.

About a dozen local officials and about 50 spectators were on hand for the historic planting, but even with the election year handshaking, the trout still took center stage.

And even politicians lent a hand when DNR workers needed a line of people to pass buckets of fish from a tank truck to the stream.

BUT WHILE THE DNR and members of the conservation club are eager for the trout planting to be successful, the verdict won't come for another year. That's when Hay-Chmielewski and other DNR officials will check the fish population to see if the trout survived.

The fish were released at five sites in western Plymouth Township, including at a bridge over Napier Road.

"Trout are very territorial," said Laich. "We'll have to come back next year, trap them and move them to other portions of the stream."

He said the fish will stay in one spot unless moved.

The trout planting was a result of the annual Rouge Rescue during which people spend the day cleaning the river that drains portions of Wayne and Oakland counties.

The idea to plant trout was hatched at such a clean up seven years when Laich and others from the conservation club were working on a portion of the Johnson Drain that runs through the club's property in Plymouth Township.

"We really didn't find that much junk in the stream during the first clean up. It was mostly natural stuff," said Charles VanVleck, a Plymouth Township fire official and conservation club member.

But while there wasn't too much junk, there was trout water. And when Laich realized it, the Westland man started to dream about the day when trout could be planted in the water.

LAICH AND other club members eventually approached Hay-Chmielewski about the planting. At first she was skeptical, but after doing some historical and stream research, discovered that not only were the stream conditions there for trout, but also that the water had once held brook trout.

At one point Johnson Drain once had a fish hatchery, established in 1874 by Nelson Clark.

She also discovered that the stream also produces the insects needed by brown trout for food. She said mayflies, caddis flies and stone flies all hatch in the stream.

For the first year, the five-inch fingerling trout will be allowed to feast on the insects without being chased by fishermen. But after that Hay-Chmielewski will determine what type of fishing season will be allowed. A catch and release system is favored, she said.

Future of downtown postal service unclear

By Kevin Brown
staff writer

It looks like the downtown post office is about to be sold to Plymouth's downtown development authority.

But that doesn't guarantee that postal service will continue from that building on Pennington.

The site continuing as a post office is "not at all clear at this point," said city manager Steve Walters.

What's more clear is who the U.S. Postal Service is likely to sell the building to. After negotiating for several months, "I think we've gotten far enough along where we have an understanding of where we are and where they are," Walters said. He's "95 percent" sure the city will buy the building.

DDA members last fall raised the idea of buying the building put up for sale by the postal service, as it is in a prominent location downtown and has architectural and historical value for Plymouth.

THE POSTAL SERVICE has moved main local operations to a new facility in Plymouth Township. Post office officials have said they would maintain a smaller site downtown, and once sought information on potential downtown properties they could rent.

Post office officials have said they would maintain a smaller site downtown . . .

But they suspended their search last fall, when the DDA and postal service began talking about the DDA buying the building.

Although city officials want the downtown post office to remain in its long time locale — "We would be inclined to give them a favorable rental rate," Walters said — postal service regulations could require a location with more handicapped access and other features, he said.

No matter what postal officials choose, "It's still confirmed by them they will have a service window downtown," Walters said.

He said the city anticipates taking possession of the building in July or August.

City officials want to keep the downtown post office where it is for two reasons. For one, that's the spot residents and business people prefer. And with the post office operation taking up around a third of the 11,000 square feet of space in the building, that would encourage another business to rent there.

"It could be a very acceptable to a tenant because of the foot traffic they generate,"

Walters said.

Postal service officials were unavailable for comment on how close they are to selling the building to the city.

Observers and the city's downtown development consultant say one likely use for the remaining floor space is a restaurant.

Walters declined to specify the price the city and postal officials could agree to. Earlier, the postal service listed the property at $390,000.

The money to pay for the building would come from taxes the DDA raises in the downtown development district. That tax revenue to the DDA is at around $600,000 annually.

Hoben wants to continue on whether Hoben should stick around.

Here's what they had to say:

• Dennis Williams, president of the Plymouth-Canton School Council: "The key question is not Dr. Hoben's age, but what the district needs at this time, and what the best way is to use Dr. Hoben. It may be better for us to contract with him to be a specialist on statewide things, and let someone else take over the actual superintendency in terms of really building on the things that need to be done today."

• Plymouth Township Supervisor Gerald Law: "I found Dr. Hoben to be very knowledgeable about issues affecting education and the Plymouth-Canton school district. He kept pace with legislation and how it would impact them. As far as evaluating him, I can't speak to that. The only thing

I'd say is that it's very important to have a good superintendent, so it is probably good for any school district, let alone Plymouth-Canton, to have a good phase-in period to replace a superintendent. A smooth transition would probably take a major district a good year to interview candidates and get them prepared to step in."

• Dorian Soper, of Plymouth Township who helped found the Plymouth-Canton Parent Academy to help parents grapple with educational and developmental issues affecting their children, said: "With the district facing the unpleasant prospect of laying off 156 teachers, not renewing Hoben's contract would be reactive."

• A veteran teacher who asked not to be named said: "It's not like he has a big crushing thing to go do. I bet he will stay on. You know what I think is sad is that Dr. Hoben has always managed to get a board that thinks they work for him. He has never had a board that sees him as an employee, and that to me is a sad thing. Supposedly, these people out there have been elected by the citizens of this community and have a sensitivity to what should be going on. Barbara Graham does, but I don't think the rest have such a sensitivity."

• A para-professional who requested anonymity said: "There is a change needed, because the district won't change until he is gone. We need someone who is more of a people person."

"To me, a superintendent has to be PR person, as well as keep a reign on everything going on. I know the board wants labor peace, but I don't know that we are going to have it. I don't know how much Dr. Hoben is involved with any of this. Maybe he isn't that involved, and maybe he should be."

downtown development authority members.

The DDA has never considered that we're a part of it," said Wilcox. Reasons for considering a request to have the property, just east of the Park, removed from the district.

ALSO, HE SAID the schools, which have announced layoffs of 156 teachers due to budget cuts, are another consideration. Should Wilcox property be removed from the downtown district, the schools would get it.

But Steve Walters, city manager and DDA director, said neither the DDA nor the city commission is likely to approve such a request, if Wilcox decides to make it.

To lose the apartment project — construction has yet to start — "There would be a significant revenue reduction," Walters said.

The DDA would lose $200,000 from its annual budget of $650,000.

"I would take issue with Jack Wilcox that his property doesn't benefit," Walters said, from the streetscape renovation plan.

Downtown, especially with new sidewalks and streets, "Would be a major appeal to renters based near the center of downtown," Walters said.

"We're going to need the Wilcox property."

He said that because the DDA and city commissioners are likely to agree with that conclusion, removing the property from the downtown development district isn't likely.

For the property to be removed, Wilcox first would have to make a formal request to the DDA.

The star still shines

At 78, Hollywood legend Dorothy Lamour thrills luncheon guests

By Ralph R. Echinaw
staff writer

One woman attending a Canton Economic Club luncheon for former movie star Dorothy Lamour wondered aloud why Lamour continues to work at the age of 78.

She had her answer when Lamour walked into the room and received a standing ovation from the group of perhaps 150 in attendance at the Mayflower Meeting House in Plymouth.

Once Lamour was seated, three or four photographers crowded around to snap pictures of her. And just before she left for the Tonquish Creek Seniors Center, fans lined up for autographs. Someone even made off with the remains of three cigarettes Lamour smoked (Vantage ultra light 100s).

Plymouth master gardener Ernie Archer was perhaps the most elated guest to be amidst the presence of Hollywood royalty. Thanks to Plymouth city commissioner Dennis Shrewsbury, Archer was permitted to sit beside Lamour during lunch. Shrewsbury bid $300 for the privilege of being adjacent to Lamour, then made a gift of the seat to Archer, a longtime fan.

AFTER LAMOUR HAD gone, Archer admitted a debt to Shrewsbury. "I'm in bondage now for the rest of my life," he said.

Two women approached Archer to say, "I want to shake the hand of the man who sat next to Dorothy Lamour." The 77-year-old gardener puckered up and said, "She kissed me, too!"

Archer added that he told Lamour a story about a doctor he knows who named the three things he needs to be mentally motivated: "Cadillacs, champagne and Dorothy Lamour."

But how did Lamour measure up in regard to Archer's expectations? "I'm star struck," he revealed. "(But) for some reason I thought she was a bit taller."

Lamour also received gifts from Archer and Canton Township Supervisor Tom Yack. Archer gave her a corsage. Yack presented Lamour with a glass vase left over from a dinner dance three years ago.

Plymouth Mayor Pro-Tem Doug Miller read a proclamation from the mayor honoring Lamour. Said

About her sarongs, Lamour said, "The first one is in the Smithsonian. Somebody told me it's next to The Spirit of St. Louis. The rest of them were auctioned off for charity."

Lamour, "All I can say is thank you from the bottom of my heart, and where's my proclamation?" Miller handed it to her.

LAMOUR ANSWERED questions for five minutes.

Yes, she hears from Bob Hope occasionally. She has no favorite "Road to . . ." movie, but "my least favorite was the 'Road to Hong Kong.' It was the least favorite of the audience, too."

An interview uncovered the following: How was she chosen to appear in all those "Road to . . ." films? "They needed a girl in the middle, so I was it." Who was her favorite leading man? "They're all my favorites."

Then one of Lamour's press people asked this reporter, "Are you done yet?" So the interview concluded, and Lamour, whose back was bothering her, was whisked off to the seniors center to spend eight minutes there. (That's what the schedule called for.)

Although Thursday's diners were mostly enamored of the former movie star, waitress Marybeth "Patty" Schaldenbrand (who also answers to Skippy) hadn't heard of Lamour before.

Mettetal could be grounded

By Kevin Brown
staff writer

The joint Plymouth-Canton townships effort to get federal and state grants to buy the Mettetal Airport — so local government could run it — is apparently close to failing.

"It appears that the federal government or FAA is not too willing to accept those 10 conditions," said Plymouth Township trustee Abe Munfakh.

He was referring to conditions Canton and Plymouth townships agreed to in accepting a federal grant. The one federal officials were most wary about was one allowing Canton to sell the airport in 10 years. If the airport was losing money or if officials were tired of having it around.

Canton supervisor Tom Yack said that remained a sticking point with federal officials, whom he last talked to in January.

"MY LAST IMPRESSION from them, which was pretty plain, was they were not going to support the 10-year language. My impression is they're not interested," Yack said.

"We've been waiting and waiting and hearing nothing . . ."

— Abe Munfakh
Plymouth trustee

Munfakh is asking Plymouth Township trustees at their May 12 meeting to set a date to quit seeking the grants, if the FAA doesn't come through.

"Enough is enough," he said. "If the FAA or the state is not willing to do anything with it, let's forge ahead and move on to other things."

"I guess there's some validity in establishing a date by which it's resolved in terms of coming to an agreement," Yack said, adding, "I don't know what position my board will take."

Munfakh had sent a memo to Plymouth Township trustees saying he wanted the issue discussed at the April 28 meeting, but decided to put it off until this month so he could talk with Yack, who represents the other community taking part in the airport buying effort.

"I would like one last ditch attempt to possibly talk to the FAA and the state of Michigan," Munfakh said. "We've been waiting and waiting and hearing nothing, we don't need to sit down and wait forever."

SHOULD BOTH townships drop the airport-operation effort, thousands of dollars spent on legal fees related to the airport acquisition and other expenses would not be recouped through airport operation proceeds as trustees have sought.

"Much of the money was really to defend ourselves from the lawsuits," Munfakh maintained, from airport opponents and Canton, which originally opposed the public ownership of Mettetal Airport, at Joy and Lilley roads in Canton.

"You don't spend bad money after bad money, let's just take the hit and move on to other things," Munfakh said.

Airport owner Steve Klocko could not be reached for comment. Yack said that when he talked to Klocko earlier this year, "He was still committed to keeping an airport, but it's a big asset to carry."

Geake praises Engler on crime

State Sen. Robert Geake, R-Northville, on Thursday hailed Gov. John Engler's war on crime as an important step toward insuring the safety of all Michigan residents.

"The governor has identified the crime situation in Michigan as a serious problem, calling for extraordinary corrective measures," said Geake, whose 6th District includes Redford.

"Today I believe he laid the groundwork for a solid, workable plan that will go a long way toward making Michigan a safer state for us all."

The governor's address focused on several pieces of key legislation designed to stem the rising tide of crime in Michigan. Engler cited Geake's stalking bill as an important step in guaranteeing safety on the streets.

The legislation was passed unanimously by the Senate April 2 and is awaiting hearing in the House judiciary committee.

"It's no longer a matter of whether stalking is a problem; it's a matter of what we can do to stop it. I hope by endorsing the bill in his address today, the governor has provided the impetus for the bill's quick passage out of the House."

Engler also cited legislative tools in the fight against minors using drugs and alcohol. Under these bills, minors caught using, possessing or buying alcohol would lose their driver's license for 90 days.

"The governor's plan calls for tougher laws against the illegal use of substances, and he correctly recognizes that stiffer penalties will put more teeth in the laws," Geake said. "We need to make certain that our youngsters don't become a part of the drug and alcohol subculture so prevalent in past generations."

Geake said his package of bills (SB 11, 64, 65) awaiting hearing addresses the problem of minors' use of alcohol and controlled substances as well as license suspensions for adults using illegal substances.

Talbots opens store in Laurel Park

Talbots, a specialty retailer and cataloger of women's classic apparel, has opened a new store at Laurel Park Place mall, 6 Mile at Newburgh in Livonia.

The 4,700-square-foot facility is the eighth Talbots store in Michigan and fifth in metropolitan Detroit.

"We are delighted to continue our growth in the greater Detroit area with the opening of our new Talbots store in Livonia," said Arnold B. Zetzer, president and chief executive officer of Talbots.

"Research indicates that many of our catalog customers live in Livonia and opening a new Talbots store at Laurel Park Place will provide our customers with the convenience of shopping at a Talbots store in their neighborhood."

Stacy Smith is the store manager. Hours will be 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Saturday and noon to 5 p.m. Sunday.

Talbots was established in 1947 with one store in Hingham, Mass., a Boston suburb. The catalog started in 1948.

Talbots is a source for upper-moderate to higher price ranges with misses and petite sizes classified into weekend, classic, career and special occasion end-use categories.

The company employs 4,100 throughout the U.S. and abroad. In June 1988, Talbots became part of Jusco Co., a core company of Aeon Group, Japan's fourth largest retailer.

"All Talbots stores are consistent in design, yet each is interpreted to blend architecturally and culturally with its surrounding environment," said Smith.

"Each is decorated to convey a gracious, residential ambience, with entry foyers, antiques, traditional theme prints, maple flooring, wainscoting and fixturing and spacious dressing rooms. At each store's entrance is Talbots distinctive red door, the company's trademark."

In its 27th season, the 60-voice choir is offered through Continuing Education Services at the college.

Homeowners growing restless over jet noise

By Wayne Peal
staff writer

They've heard it all before. But suburban homeowners plagued by jet noise say they've lost patience over the lack of a solution. "This has been going on for three years," said Joe Schepis of Livonia. "It only took nine years to put a man on the moon." Homeowners continued their complaints Thursday during a Federal Aviation Administration hearing on flight noise. Changes in flight patterns are expected by October, but that's not soon enough for those who live with current flight paths. Despite several hearings on the issue, many of an estimated 100 speakers said they doubt the FAA and county are even interested in their problems.

"YOU PEOPLE may not realize that the citizens in this community are beginning to see through the mind games you are playing with those of us living in the cities surrounding Metro Airport," Westland resident Norman Patalon said. Patalon then presented the FAA hearing officer with petitions signed by 172 neighbors calling for a return to 1989 flight patterns. Flight patterns were changed in November 1989, spreading flights over a greater number of western Wayne suburbs. Noise complaints began immediately. "Why the change in flight patterns? To this day, there hasn't been one explanation," said Tim Bailey of Citizens Against Aircraft Noise North, a local homeowners group. Leaders of three Observer-area suburbs also called for changes during Thursday's hearing at the Romulus Ramada Inn. Westland Mayor Robert Thomas said he favored a return to flight patterns run during a 180-day test last summer. "I've been involved with a lot of issues, but none so talked about as the airport," Thomas said. Garden City Mayor James Plakas called for a series of noise reduction measures, including a nighttime curfew on older, noisier jets. The older jets, classified as Stage Two aircraft, are primarily flown by Northwest Airlines, the airport's biggest commercial carrier. Mayor Robert Bennett of Livonia said his city preferred a return to the 1989 patterns above all other steps.

Homeowners, though, said they believed northern and southern communities are already being pitted against each other. "We want something everyone can agree to," Bailey said. Susan Hubbard, chairwoman of the Wayne County Commission committee on airport noise, said her group would continue to press for alternative solutions. "The FAA should not consider the problem solved by these few measures," Hubbard said. Commissioner Kay Beard, D-Westland, said she would consider drafting an anti-noise proposal if the FAA-approved measures fail to reduce noise complaints. The FAA is accepting written comments through Friday, May 15. Comments should be sent to: Douglas Powers, manager, systems management branch, AGL-530, Federal Aviation Administration, 2300 E. Devon, Des Plaines, Ill. 60018.

MADD starts speakers bureau

Mothers Against Drunk Driving Wayne County Chapter has established a speakers bureau. Qualified speakers are provided to address civic and community groups, schools, churches and others interested in learning about MADD and the dangers of drinking and driving.

Videos, posters and a victim display board and literature also are available. To arrange for a speaker or for more information, contact Chris Schonfeld, victim advocate/volunteer coordinator from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. weekdays at 422-MADD.

FAA OFFICIALS, however, apparently have ruled that out. The 1989 patterns were deemed too dangerous during an evaluation of 20 potential noise reduction steps. FAA officials said the old patterns put too many flights in the same airspace. Routes over I-94 were also rejected because of safety concerns. The FAA is drafting an environmental impact study on airport flight patterns. The earliest — and heaviest — concentration of noise complaints

S'craft, U-M offer engineering program

Bob Bauer may not be playing rock'n'roll these days, but he hasn't faded out of the radio scene. Now, he's host of "BackTalk!," the latest dial-and-chat show on WXYT-AM.

He swaps discs for chat on XYT

By Larry O'Connor
staff writer

He says he's not a hippie, yuppie or puppy. Nor is he a Republican, a Democrat, a conservative, a liberal or a lifetime subscriber to any particular ideology.

Bob Bauer is a radio talk show host, and therein lies a few of the ironies.

The longtime rock'n'roll dee jay has turned to the dialtone squall of talk radio, debuting recently with "BackTalk!" 5-9 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays on WXYT-AM 1270. Like most dial-and-chat shows, "BackTalk!" is designed to cause some listener static, rattle a few phone cords along the way and, in Bauer's case, inject some humor into the proceedings.

Unlike most radio talk show hosts, though, Bauer presents himself as a philosophical Svengali or a social Napoleon. He's not belligerent or condescending either.

"I'm not here to change the world," said Bauer, who left WLLZ-FM last year after 13 years at the AOR station. "When we set out to do this, I really didn't see myself being anything to anybody."

"I'm not here to deliver the word. I'm here to open up conversation between people."

NOT JUST anyone, mind you. "BackTalk!" target audience is the 30s to mid-40s demographic range, the one that leaves advertisers to salivate.

A guy dressed in blue jeans and a sweatshirt whose fraying long hair is held up with a rubber band and whose previous calling was growling out the name of Led Zeppelin's tunes may carry instant credibility with an audience already suspect of government and authority figures.

At least that's what station executives are banking on.

"I think talk radio for the next generation will have to be a combination of entertainment and information," said Michael Packer, director of operations at WXYT-AM. "Across America, we have a lot of talk show hosts who are very informative but not necessarily entertaining."

NONETHELESS, there is a sense of wonderment with Bauer, who views talk radio as a welcome career change.

"I was just bored with doing rock radio," Bauer said. "I did rock radio for 13 years and I've been in the rock business for 23 (years). I still enjoy rock'n'roll. I still like all that stuff."

"As far as the broadcasting goes, I got tired of playing the same old Stones, Zeppelin and Seger tunes day in and day out. I wanted to progress."

A Vietnam veteran, Bauer started in the business doing news for Armed Forces Radio while in the Navy. His first job out of Specs

Final Cut looks to be cut above

By Larry O'Connor
staff writer

The Final Cut's Tony Srock likens his hard-edged alternative outfit to being prophets in their own land.

"William Tucker (of Thrill Kill Kult) said it best, 'Napoleon wouldn't have been anything he conquered France,'" said Srock, squinting amid the gray smoke produced from puffs on his Merit cigarette at the Metro Music Cafe.

Understandable, if not commendable. The trademark Detroit rocker by previous definition has been a leather-clad, beer swigging dude who's driven by "Got-a-gig-gonna-get-signed-to-a-record-deal" state of mind.

More so, there's always the descriptive sound — grungy, fast, loud — derived from worshipping of local music dieties MC5 and Iggy and the Stooges.

With The Final Cut, the old image quickly becomes skewed — kind of like when the TV's horizontal hold going on the fritz.

Drum beats direct from the dungeon, savage sounding guitars welded like machetes, cryptic vocals, primal lyrics, anchored with judiciously used technology — this is The Final Cut. This is also a Detroit band with the sought-after record deal, a new record and a whole lot of new friends including the aforementioned William Tucker.

"Consumed" is being released Tuesday, May 5, on Vancouver-based Nettwerk Records. The LP features guest appearances by members of hardcore techno's advisory board, including vocalist Chris Connelly of Revolting Cocks and vocalist Ogre from Skinny Puppy.

"WE DIDN'T plan to have Ogre on the record," said Joe Lafata, who is a former member of the Aristocrats and joined forces with Srock, in 1989. "We just had a big party at the studio and he was there. We asked him and he said, 'Yeh sure.'"

Lafata hastens to add some of Ogre's vocal tracks for on "Broken" were incomprehensible due to the celebratory nature of the moment and had to be cut.

Guest appearances are merely a sidelight on "Consumed." Perhaps they lend credibility, but the foundation for The Final Cut's tuneful assault was already well laid.

Srock formed The Final Cut with fellow DJ Jeff Mills in 1988, releasing a pair of techno dance floor hits "The Bass has Landed" and "Take Me Away" on their own label Full Effect Records. A European-only LP, "Deep into the Cut," followed and further endeared the outfit in dance clubs.

However, Srock and Mills parted company. Mills went on to front techno outfit Underground Resistance while Srock followed his muse with Lafata, who shared in similar interest in hard-edged alternative music.

"I WAS A white kid from the suburbs and most of the Detroit techno was coming out of the inner city," Tony Srock and Joe Lafata are The Final Cut, a hard-edged alternative outfit which will perform Friday, May 8, at the State Theatre.

said Srock, who calls Mills one of the most creative and talented people he knows. "I'm not saying that was a definitive problem. I was outside to begin with because I wasn't around the people who created that scene. I found it hard to be accepted as one of them."

"Then I got into the harder edged alternative stuff. It came to point where Jeff Mills and I were at a creative impasse."

The Final Cut veered more to humanistic approach opposed to solely using technology, opting for live guitars, bass and drum to reveal a personality to the music. Songwriting was still largely based on finding a sinuous rhythm and constructing lyrics and guitar lines around it.

But only after a deal fell through that would've made Full Effect Records a division of Relativity Records, Srock and Lafata concentrated solely on making The Final Cut successful. Full Effect also had local acts such as the Lab Animals and Substation on its roster.

"I always loved the label more. Joe always loved Final Cut," said Srock, who hasn't given up the notion turning Full Effect into an epicenter for Detroit alternative music. "I get just as much satisfaction releasing someone else's album as I do my own."

Nettwerk Records (Skinny Puppy and Sara McLaughlin) noting the band's success in Europe signed The Final Cut. The band immediately went into the studio to record "Consumed," which has Srock and Lafata buzzing.

"The brilliance about Final Cut is no one can pigeonhole us," Srock said. "There's so many diverse songs. There's so many different avenues this band can take."

Undoubtedly, one will lead out of obscurity.

The Final Cut will perform Saturday, May 9, at the State Theatre, 2115 Woodward, Detroit. For information, call 961-5450.

River Phoenix rises to the challenge in 'Dogfight'

Turn a group of immature swaggering, young jarheads loose on a town the night before they are shipped overseas and you might be able to predict the kind of joints they'll visit and the trouble they are liable to get into before they drag themselves back to the base the next morning.

In the film "Dogfight," River Phoenix and a group of fellow Marines have a game to see who can find the most unattractive date for their party, the winner taking a cash prize. It's obviously a cruel and callous joke on the unsuspecting women, whom they have coaxed, flattered and manipulated into accepting their date.

Phoenix has been striking out and getting very frustrated until he wanders into a little restaurant to get out of the rain. He spies a waitress, played by Lili Taylor, who might fit the bill. Set in 1963, she's an aspiring folksinger so he bluffs his way through a conversation about Woody Guthrie. After some hesitation on her part and boyish coyness on his part, Taylor agrees to the date.

TAYLOR'S FACE is marvelous as she excitedly starts getting dressed up for the date, then turns to panic as she tries on everything in her closet. One very '60s detail I noticed was her plastic pop-bead necklace.

pass the popcorn LeAnne Rogers

Phoenix keeps checking his watch and puffing cigarettes, wanting to get to the dogfight. With her hugely teased hair and chiffon dress, Taylor is rather a sight when she finally emerges.

Heading for their date at a local club, Taylor pours out her love of folk music, her frustration at spending most of her time working at her mother's restaurant and her hope to have an effect on the world, maybe through joining the Peace Corps.

Taylor's wonderful as this smart, open and idealist girl, who is so excited about being asked out that she doesn't notice her date is barely listening to the conversation.

Some of her chatter must have been sinking in, though, because Phoenix rather mildly tries to divert her from the party and once inside weakly suggests they not dance, the dance floor being used for final judging in the dogfight. When Taylor finds out about the game and confronts him, Phoenix comes out on the short end.

ALTHOUGH HE confesses to not knowing why, Phoenix shows up at Taylor's home later trying to make amends. A Marine since he was 16, Phoenix plays a basically immature young man who is starting to experience some personal growth. The rest of the film explores the relationship that develops between the pair. Phoenix and Taylor are both very good, developing rounded characters who aren't cutouts even though they represent the societal polarization that developed during the course of the U.S. military involvement in Vietnam. The movie brings those divisions down to a human level.

When Taylor says folksingers can change the world, Phoenix suggests she join the Marines. Shooting changes the world.

As it turns out, neither was completely right. And life doesn't necessarily turn out like one expects.

"Dogfight" is available on video cassette at area video stores.

Bauer hones his dial-and-chat skills

Howard included working for WMVO-AM in Mount Vernon, Ohio.

His trials in rock radio are well documented. Bauer worked at WABX-FM and later WLLZ-FM, where he also became known for his involvement in an annual canned food drive.

When he left WLLZ-FM, Bauer received a call from Dan Koti at WXYZ, whom he had worked with in the past. He put Bauer in touch with executive producer Pat Sheehan, who was familiar with the dee jay's work at WABX-FM.

HE STARTED out hosting "Open Line Detroit," but was deemed a natural for a talk show for a younger audience. Through years of spinning "Stairway to Heaven," though, Bauer became tuned into a disenfranchised generation.

"I know where they're at. I know how they feel about things," Bauer said. "I know what they're worried about. They're still my people."

"The people who listen to me on rock radio I considered friends. I talked to them on the request lines. They cried to me about their girlfriends leaving them and their boyfriends leaving them, losing their jobs."

'I'm not here to deliver the word. I'm here to open up conversation between people.'

Foreign film winner has a belated Detroit premier

Let's call it nepotism. After all, had it not been for good old uncle Oscar, this year's winner for best foreign language film probably wouldn't have made it to Detroit at all.

And it may not have been that tragic a loss. "Mediterraneo," an Italian anti-war comedy headed for an exclusive run at the Maple Theatre in Bloomfield, gives you the impression that Academy members choose international winners by sticking a pin in the map. Although given to occasional clever moments, it doesn't have nearly enough charm to hold together an entire film. It wisely keeps the running time to under 80 minutes.

During World War II, a motley crew of Italian soldiers land on a small Greek island with the intention of occupying it. A sweep through the city finds no one living there — or so they think.

Soon the local women, children,

John Monaghan

and senior citizens start to venture from their hiding places. German invaders have recently taken their men, yet the Greeks treat the new soldiers with open arms — "one face, one race," they say to their Italian brothers.

TO TOP IT off, a beautiful woman named Vasilla offers her services as a "puta," or prostitute. Instead of figuring out who pulls guard duty, the men concoct an elaborate schedule delegating by rank who sleeps with the woman and when.

Ultimately, their three-hour tour of duty develops into a three-year shore leave. The castaways hardly care whether or not the Axis powers are winning the war and abandon efforts to fix their radio to signal passing ships and planes.

"Mediterraneo" desperately wants to capture the magic of the great Scottish film "Local Hero." It beckons us to enter uptight and bask in the simple pleasures of faraway lands.

Unfortunately, director Gabriele Salvatores has such a light touch that you have the constant feeling that something really wonderful is being lost in the translation from Italian.

Some scenes do stick with you. The daily soccer game on the beach is interrupted by the arrival of an airplane, whose image shimmers on the sun-soaked beach and sneaks up

Crime rises in county, state

Major crime increased in Wayne County in 1991, according to recently-released Michigan State Police statistics.

There were nearly 195,880 major crimes reported in the county last year, roughly a 2 percent increase from 1990.

The number of major crimes reported in neighboring Oakland County rose to 51,229, an increase of 3.7 percent.

Figures are based on state police "index offenses" including murder, non-negligent manslaughter, rape, robbery, aggravated assault, burglary, larceny, motor vehicle theft and arson.

Figures for both counties are incomplete. Not all communities submitted crime information to the state police.

Statewide, major crime was up 3.4 percent last year — the biggest increase in a decade.

"I SUPPOSE the first thing we all look at is the economy and unemployment and the continuing drug problem, the same thing we've been talking about for years," said Tom Hendrickson, executive director of the Michigan Association of Chiefs of Police.

Roughly two-thirds of Wayne County's offenses were reported in Detroit.

Here are the figures, by crime, for western Wayne communities:

• Canton — murder/non-negligent manslaughter, 0; rape, 33; robbery, 25; aggravated assault, 80; burglary, 388; larceny, 1,666; motor vehicle theft, 259; arson, 21; Total, 2,472.

• Garden City — murder/non-negligent manslaughter, 1; rape, 5; robbery, 15; aggravated assault, 59; burglary, 208; larceny, 1,029; motor vehicle theft, 98; arson, 12; Total, 1,427.

• Livonia — murder/non-negligent manslaughter, 0; rape, 22; robbery, 101; aggravated assault, 164; burglary, 653; larceny, 2,883; motor vehicle theft, 498; arson, 0; Total, 4,321.

• Plymouth — murder/non-negligent manslaughter, 0; rape, 0; robbery, 0; aggravated assault, 2; burglary, 29; larceny, 144; motor vehicle theft, 11; arson, 0; Total, 186.

• Plymouth Township — murder/non-negligent manslaughter, 0; rape, 0; robbery, 5; aggravated assault, 14; burglary, 135; larceny, 522; motor vehicle theft, 79; arson, 1; Total, 756.

• Redford — murder/non-negligent manslaughter, 2; rape, 37; robbery, 146; aggravated assault, 128; burglary, 531; larceny, 2,209; motor vehicle theft, 574; arson, 0; Total, 3,627.

• Westland — murder/non-negligent manslaughter, 3; rape, 45; robbery, 89; aggravated assault, 357; burglary, 928; larceny, 3,469; motor vehicle theft, 741; arson, 50; Total, 5,682.

Law enforcement officials said the twin evils of drugs and lack of jobs continued to spawn illegal activity.

Total crime reported in the state was up 2 percent from 1990, to 1,292,310 crimes. That translated into one crime for every seven Michigan residents, the state police said.

It was the second straight year of increases, following two annual declines. Last year's 1.5 percent increase was the second-largest in the 10-year period that began in 1982.

The Associated Press contributed to this story.

Ariel produces flavorful non-alcoholic wines

"Fetal Alcohol Syndrome (FAS) is seen exclusively in the offspring of alcoholic mothers with ponderously abusive consumption," contends pediatrician Dr. Wells Shoemaker, owner of California's Salamandre Wine Cellars.

"We're not likely to get confused with moderation here. Typical ingestion histories range from two or three six packs of beer to the better part of a fifth of distilled spirits daily. There have been no cases of FAS described with moderate consumption, and that's even more telling when one considers that patients nearly always understate their actual alcohol intake.

"Furthermore, there is no reported case of FAS in a mother using wine as a source of ethanol."

EVEN WITH these convincing statements, more and more women are abstaining from wine drinking during pregnancy. Is there an alternative?

California's Ariel Vineyards is producing premium wines without alcohol. In fact, Ariel is the only premium non-alcoholic wine to have won a gold medal against wines with alcohol. In 1991, Ariel sold 140,000 cases of its dealcoholized wines.

Diet watchers and teetotalers will enjoy Ariel's two sparklers, Prospero and Ariel Brut as a pleasant, flavorful and refreshing alternative to sparkling water, club soda or fruit juice. Non-alcoholic pours also make the perfect lunch accompaniment.

Ariel premium dealcoholized wines are made from select California grapes using traditional winemaking methods. Winemaker Barry Gnekow developed a method of cold filtration that removes alcohol from fine wines while protecting their complex and delicate flavors. Ariel dealcoholized wines contain less than half the calories of wines with alcohol.

Ariel wines are not less expensive than wines containing alcohol, since the process used to remove the alcohol isn't cheap. It is expensive to remove the alcohol from a wine while retaining characteristic wine flavors.

FROM A tasting of Ariel wines available locally, we prefer Ariel Blanc ($6), spicy and semi-dry for warm weather sipping with fruit, mild cheese or a light lunch on the deck. Ariel Riesling ($7) is dry and crisp with fresh apple flavors characteristic of a German riesling. Ariel Brut ($11.50) has very fruity aromas and flavors while the 1983 Prospero ($23) is a Blanc de Blanc sparkler made from chardonnay with complex toasty aromas and flavors of vanilla cream.

Some Good News from Burgundy — prices for the 1990 vintage are down 25 percent. Burgundies are the most expensive wines in the world, but winemaker Jacques Lardiere of Maison Louis Jadot told us that recessionary times have hit Europe too. Therefore, the 1990 Jadot burgundies, available as "futures" in fine wine shops now, have more attractive prices. It is possible to find excellent red and white burgundies between $20-30 that cost $25-40 from the comparable 1989 vintage. Travels to French wine regions (or Euro Disney) need not produce sticker shock. If you're among the people who took advantage of low European airfares for summertime travel, you might want to check out both of the following reasonably priced alternatives.

If your trip will be three weeks or longer, Renault Eurodrive offers a brand new factory-fresh car, unlimited mileage and non-deductible collision insurance without a value-added tax (VAT) which runs as high as 22 percent in France. We've used this delivery system and it has been all that the program promises. A Renault-5 is available for $695 for three weeks. For more information phone 1-800-221-1052.

There are 4,200 associated hotel-restaurants in the Logis de France.

WINE SELECTIONS OF THE WEEK

1989 DeLoach Vineyards Cabernet Sauvignon ($18) is rich in chocolate cherry fruit with ripe, supple textures and a note of mint.
1989 Mouton-Cadet Red Bordeaux ($6.50) is easy to drink with pleasant blackberry and black cherry flavors and hints of wood aging.

1990 Honig Sauvignon Blanc, Napa Valley ($12) showcases grapefruit, pears and vanilla aromas in a complexly flavored wine that can be handsomely paired with seafood preparations.

WINE BULLETIN BOARD

Sweet club

Surprise mom with cheesecake

By Keely Wygonik
staff writer

If you're looking for a gift for your hard-to-buy-for, has-everything, doesn't-want-a-thing mom or dad, consider something sweet and good to eat.

"There's an alternative, you can send something unique," said Marian Sheridan of Farmington Hills based Gourmet Cheesecake Club.

Sheridan's cheesecakes have a delicious walnut crust. For Mother's Day she's featuring an Orange-Chocolate Marble Cheesecake. Key-Lime is the Father's Day cheesecake. Raspberry Ribbon and Traditional Style cheesecakes are also available every month.

You can order a single cheesecake that serves 10 for $21.95, plus $2.50 shipping charge, or one that serves 18, for $27.95, plus $3.50 shipping charges. Outstate shipping charges are a little higher, $6.50 for 10 serving cheesecake, $7.50 for 18 serving cheesecake.

If mom or dad really loves cheesecake, consider getting them a three month club membership, $61.50; five month, $102.50; eight month, $161.50; six month (bi-monthly), $124.50 or 12 month, $234.50, plus shipping charges.

Ordering is as easy as picking up the phone and dialing (313) 553-2883. Visa and Mastercard are accepted.

There's a different flavor for every month — January, Amaretto; February, Black Forest; March, Kalhua & Cream; April, Apricot Brandy; July, Praline & Cream; August, Raspberry Ribbon; September, Apple Bavarian; October, Chocolate Mousse; November, Pumpkin Spice; December, Rum Mocha.

Sheridan and her sister, Linda Ozog came up with the idea for a Gourmet Cheesecake Club about seven years ago.

"I've always enjoyed making cheesecakes," said Sheridan. "Every time there was a family party they would ask me to bring a cheesecake."

The sisters researched different types of packaging and sent cheesecakes to family and friends to see how they would hold up. "It's a very good cake for the price," said Sheridan. "We're interested in quality. The cakes ship well, and the walnut crust is just out of this world, it's become our trademark."

Orders placed before noon will be delivered the next day. Out of state orders are sent second day air. The cheesecakes are made by area caterers who follow Sheridan's recipes.

She offers these tips for making perfect cheesecakes. To stop them from cracking, put a tray of water in the oven under the cheesecake. Turn the oven temperature down, and cook the cheesecake longer at a lower temperature.

Here's one of Sheridan's recipes.

CHOCOLATE RASPBERRY CHEESECAKE

- Raspberry Glaze:

margarine to chocolate wafer crumbs to make crust. Press onto bottom and 1-inch up the sides of an 8-inch well greased springform pan. Combine and beat filling ingredients excluding the butter and chocolate. Melt chocolate and butter in the top of a double boiler. Slowly add the melted ingredients while continuing to beat. Pour into pan and bake for one hour over an 8x10 pan of water. Turn oven off and allow to sit an additional hour.

Glaze:
Crush enough washed raspberries to make a cup. In a saucepan mix the sugar and the cornstarch. Stir in the water and dissolve. Add the raspberries and bring to a boil. Boil for two minutes while stirring. Remove from heat and add remaining ingredients. Let glaze cool to room temperature.

Arrange remaining raspberries on cooled cheesecake, then pour the glaze over the raspberries. Refrigerate a few hours before serving.

Dish celebrates May 5, a national holiday in Mexico

Morel mushrooms are a spring delicacy, there's nothing quite like them.

Three upcoming festivals celebrate the morel mushroom season. Boyne City Morel Mushroom Hunting Championship, May 8-10. A carnival, mushroom hunt and luscious mushroom dishes served at local restaurants are highlights.

Mesick Mushroom Festival, May 8-10, features a mushroom hunt, craft sale, parade and flea market. Contests, fairs and the mushroom hunt, are all part of the Lewiston Mushroom Festival, May 9.

Cut morels at the base, never pull them out of the ground. Pick only unblemished morels and place them in a paper bag. Hunt with an experienced guide to avoid picking "false" morels. Cook morels before eating. Celebrate Cinco de Mayo, the fifth of May, Mexico's most enthusiastically celebrated national holiday. The day is filled with parades, feasting and fun, commemorating the 1862 battle in which the Mexican army, poorly equipped and outnumbered three to one, triumphed over troops sent by Napoleon to take over the country.

Here's a festive recipe from the Pace Picante Sauce Test Kitchens.

ENCHILADAS ROJAS Y VERDES (Red and Green Enchiladas)

- 1 medium onion, chopped
2 to 3 cloves garlic, minced as desired
1 tablespoon vegetable oil
2 cups finely chopped fresh broccoli
1 1/2 cups Pace Picante sauce

- 1 green onion, snipped fine
1/4 teaspoon, grated orange peel
1/4 cup water
1 teaspoon fat-free mayo
1/2 teaspoon spicy mustard

Cook tortellini, wild rice and brown rice according to package directions. Add other ingredients.

To make dressing, mix all ingredients except mayo and mustard in a big bowl. Mix with wire whisk until mixed well. Add mayo and mustard while mixing.

Pour dressing over salad, let marinate overnight. Re-toss before serving. serve cold. Serves 8.

2 cups shredded or diced cooked chicken

- 1 1/2 cups (6 ounces) shredded Monterey jack cheese
1/2 cup chopped cilantro
1/2 teaspoon salt
10 flour tortillas (7-inch)
Optional toppings: sour cream, shredded lettuce, diced tomato

Cook onion and garlic in oil in skillet until onion is tender but not brown. Add broccoli and 1/2 cup of the picante sauce; mix well. Cover and simmer about 5 minutes or until broccoli is tender. Add chicken, 1 cup of the cheese, cilantro and salt, mixing until cheese is melted. Spoon about 1/2 cup mixture down center of each tortilla; roll up.

Place seam side down in a lightly greased 13 x 9-inch baking dish. Spoon remaining picante sauce evenly over enchiladas. Cover tightly with foil and bake at 350 F. 20 minutes or until heated through. Uncover and sprinkle with remaining cheese; return to oven until cheese is melted, about 5 minutes. Top as desired and serve with additional picante sauce. Serves 5.

Betty Crocker tip of the week: To substitute for one cup buttermilk or sourmilk, add one tablespoon lemon juice or vinegar plus enough milk to make one cup. Let stand a few minutes before adding to recipe. You can also use one cup plain yogurt.

ART, AMUSEMENTS LIVE ON IN THE ETERNAL CITY

By Alan Cowell
New York Times Syndicate

As Europe's capitals go, Romans acknowledge with a mix of pride and regret that their best exemplifies the old adage that time is money. In other words, in this city it is virtually impossible to spend time without spending money in substantial dollops.

So the question arises: Is it still worth it now that youth's lost memories of dollar-a-bowl pasta are gone and the famed three coins in the Trevi Fountain won't even buy a cappuccino?

The answer, with some significant qualification, is: yes. And the reasons are as clichéd as ever.

For all the buzzing, high-decibel motorini, the purse-snatchers, the suicidal lemming-rush of the traffic and the pall of carbon monoxide over the Pantheon, this is still a city of art and amusement, of romance that extends from the young couples locked in a koalalike embrace to the sudden glimpse under some archway on some cobbled byway of a cascade of geraniums catching the sunlight by a fountain and a statue.

Starting at 5 p.m., especially on Saturday, Romans take their strolls and do their shopping and coveting along the main central arteries and their tributaries, from the Piazza del Popolo along the Via del Corso to the Piazza Venezia.

Follow the flow to the Piazza Novona with its fountains and curbside artists — $40 for a portrait in pencil, less for a caricature sketch; the Pantheon, where any number of ice-cream parlors in adjacent side streets offer exotic flavors for just under $2 a cone; and, for a morning outing, stroll through the open-air market of the Campo dei Fiori, where shoppers buy their fruit, vegetables and other produce from 7 a.m. to 10 a.m.

Whatever else has changed — and despite the traffic — central Rome is still a compact stroller's city, and it is still possible to experience that particular thrill of getting a glimpse of Italy beyond the monuments for nothing more than the price of a cup of coffee.

EVENTS

The major art exhibitions will be displaying the works of Caravaggio, Raphael and the Italian futurist Enrico Prampolini in May.

And, though its reputation is

Rome's most awe-inspiring ancient monument is the Colosseum, where Romans once flocked to see gladiatorial contests.

THERE'S NO PLACE LIKE ROME

nowhere near as exalted as La Scala's in Milan, the Rome Opera will be presenting a program of opera and ballet from May to early June.

The Caravaggio exhibition, smaller than "The Age of Caravaggio" at the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York in 1985, runs through May 24 at the Palazzo Ruspoli, at 418 Via del Corso. It is open from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. daily. Admission is $9.50. For more information call 6832177.

The drawings of Raphael, assembled from many parts of the world, are on display at the Accademia di Francia, at 1 Viale della Trinita dei Monti, through May 30. The exhibition is open from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. daily except Monday morning. Admission is $9.50. For more information call 67611.

At the Palazzo delle Esposizioni, at 194 Via Nazionale, the Enrico Prampolini exhibit offers a rare retrospective of the artist's work. Admission is $10. The exhibition runs through May 25 and is open from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. except Tuesday. For more information call 4885465.

The Rome Opera, at Piazza Beniamino Gigli, offers tickets ranging from $18 in the gallery to around $150 for seats in a central box.

The program includes Ruggiero Leoncavallo's "Pagliacci" and Pietro Mascagni's "Amico Fritz" on May 6, 10, 13, 16; Franz Lehar's "Merry Widow" on May 12, 15, 17, 19, 21, 23, 27; and Gaetano Donizetti's "Fille du Regiment" on May 26, 29, 31 and June 4, 6. For more information call the box office at 4874568.

Opera is also performed at the Teatro Valle, at Via del Teatro Valle, where Gioacchino Rossini's "Caliph of Baghdad" will be presented May 8 and 9. Rossini's "Cinderella," presented June 3 and 5, will be sung by award-winning young opera singers. For more information call 6543794.

The ballet program at the Rome Opera is Gluck's "Iphigenie an Tauride," which will be presented June 12, 13 and 14 with the Pina Bausch company.

For chamber music the National Academy of Santa Cecilia, at 4 Via delle Conciliazione, offers Friday-night concerts throughout May. Admission ranges from $18 to $30. For more information call 6541044.

SIGHTSEEING

Rome sometimes seems to be nothing more than sights waiting to be seen — from the Basilica of St. Peter's at the Vatican to the Coliseum. But there are other perspectives.

From June 1 through Sept. 30 the Aquabus will ply the Tiber on a 20-minute ride from the Isola Tiberina to the Ponte Duca da Ostia via the Ponte Cavour. It will cost about 90 cents — $1.80 round trip — and can be boarded at any of those three points.

The route goes nowhere near really ancient monuments, but it does perambulate through parts of the modern city — Trastevere, once working-class, now gentrified, and riverside apartments that might almost be in Paris. The boat runs, in theory at least, every 40 minutes from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m.

See what's cooking in Paris' many culinary, wine shops

By Everett Potter
special writer

In Paris, conversation about food and wine takes precedence over many things in daily life.

Not surprisingly, there are many shops devoted to every aspect of culinary art and viticulture. Two of them are especially well-known.

Dehillerin (18 Rue Coquilliere, Paris 75001; telephone 011-331-42-36-5313) has aisles filled with copper cookware, oyster knives, bread pans and wire whisks in sizes that range from a few inches to the height of a small child.

Au Bain Marie (10 Rue Boissy-d'Anglais, Paris 75008; telephone 011-331-42-66-5974) sells all the adornments of an artfully set table, from asparagus plates to breakfast sets designed with images of sunflowers.

A couple other shops are more off-the-beaten path, but just as much fun.

Lescene-Dura (63 Rue de la Verrierie, Paris 75004; telephone 011-331-42-72-0874) is the place many bistro and brasserie owners buy wine glasses. The shop has been in business since 1875, serving the needs of restaurant owners, as well as the average Parisian.

The interior has all the aesthetic charm of a plumbing-supply house. But there's usually a fire in the pot-bellied stove, a good place to warm the hands before holding a fragile glass.

It is an art to select the right glass for the right wine. The Institut National des Appellations d'Origine (INAO), a Paris-based organization, has made it easier by classifying the appropriate glasses to use for various occasions.

For example, the official INAO wine-tasting glass, made of lead crystal, is shaped like an elongated eggcup with a short stem and a wide base. It holds 8 ounces of wine and, at Lescene-Dura, is priced at about $15 (at the current exchange rate of 5.3 francs to the dollar).

The shop also has special glasses for Bordeaux, Beaujolais and Alsatian wines.

There are squat glasses for Ricard, at about $18.50 each. Gold-rimmed Armagnac glasses resembling large thimbles are about $40 each. Those who prefer strong spirits will find old-fashioned whiskey shot glasses priced at about $11.50 each.

Lescene-Dura also has thousands of corks in different sizes, corkscrews of every shape and description, wine carafes, wine-cellar thermometers and heavy blue-cotton aprons for about $18.50 each.

Just a few blocks away is Quimper Faience (84 Rue St. Martin, Paris 75004; telephone 011-331-42-71-9303), which is the Paris showroom for brilliantly colored pottery from Brittany.

For more than 300 years the Faïenceries de Quimper HB-Henriot have been producing "faience," earthenware pottery that is hand-painted using the company's famous "coup de pinceau" (stroke-of-the-brush) technique.

The signature pieces are decorated with the design of a peasant man and woman, colored in various shades of yellow and blue and covered with an opaque glaze. Each piece is initiated by the artist, with no use of stencils or decals.

For those who can't get across the Atlantic, there are two shops in the United States; Quimper Faience, 141 Water St., Stonington, Conn. 06378; telephone (203) 535-1712 and Quimper Faience, 1121 King Street, Alexandria, Va. 22314; telephone (703) 519-8339.

High court ruling throws workers comp 'wide open'

By Tim Richard
staff writer

Nurse Vera Weiss of West Bloomfield and widow Emaline Holden of Melvindale can collect workers compensation benefits after a major Michigan Supreme Court decision.

The high court last week upheld the power of the Workers Compensation Appeals Commission (WCAC) to overturn decisions of magistrates who rule on comp cases.

"This decision opens it up pretty wide," said A. Donald Kadushin, the West Bloomfield attorney who handled Weiss' case at the lower level.

"My view was that if you lost (before the magistrate), there was no sense for an appeal. This will increase the number of appeals dramatically."

LOSER, IN THE Weiss case, was Prentiss Manor in Southfield, owned by the Jewish Home for the Aged, where Weiss in 1985 injured her back moving a heavy patient.

Holden's husband, Carl, was food service manager for three Ford Motor Co. dining rooms and four cafeterias. He also was responsible for executive dinners and company-sponsored parties. In 1986 he collapsed in his Renaissance Center office and died an hour later of a heart attack "caused by job-related stress and precipitated by stair climbing," the Supreme Court said.

The Supreme Court combined the cases and ruled 7-0 in favor of Weiss and Holden's widow. It was a rare show of unanimity for the Michigan court in a labor case.

The legal issue was a 1985 state law designed, Kadushin said, to reduce the 6-8 year backlog of cases before the WCAC.

BEFORE 1985, Levin said, referees heard the cases, and an appeals board heard them de novo (from the start).

University of Michigan law professor Theodore J. St. Antoine, Gov. James Blanchard's special counsel on workers comp, recommended eliminating de novo review. The new WCAC, on appeals, would decide only whether the magistrate's decision was "supported by competent, material and substantial evidence on the whole record," the reform act, said.

Said Kadushin: "The WCAC is not a rubber stamp for the magistrate." But his study of 50 cases showed the WCAC let 46 stand.

Justice Levin, writing in the combined cases, said: "We conclude that the WCAC did not, on administrative appellate review, exceed its authority in reversing the decisions of the magistrates and in awarding benefits."

A MAGISTRATE awarded Weiss only "closed" (limited) benefits, ending Sept. 5, 1986, for her injury.

An orthopedist at the industrial clinic recommended by the Jewish Home testified she was able to return to work in April of 1986.

But her own physician testified that Weiss' problem was due to trauma rather than arthritic disease, and that she was disabled by the work-related injury.

Listening to the Jewish Home's witness, the magistrate found Weiss only temporarily disabled.

On appeal, WCAC modified the award to "open" benefits. It called the Jewish Home's witness' testimony "biased in favor of his employer." WCAC called the testimony of Weiss' treating doctor "always preferable" to that of a one-time examining physician."

A Court of Appeals panel upheld the WCAC, and the Supreme Court agreed.

Said Levin: "We conclude that the WCAC gave adequate reasons, grounded in the record, for reversing the fact finding of the magistrate."

Levin noted that at the time the case was argued, Weiss was performing electrolysis treatments in exchange for massage therapy and whirlpool treatments.

"Weiss never got a dime," said Kadushin. "They owe her (benefits) plus interest."

A MAGISTRATE denied benefits to Holden's widow, relying on expert testimony from Ford's witness.

The magistrate rejected testimony that Holden was a worrier as "grossly speculative and without foundation."

But the WCAC pointed to expert testimony by Dr. Werner Spitz, then Wayne County medical examiner, that the heart problem was caused by job-related stress and precipitated by climbing three flights of 10 stairs each.

Observerland Relays title goes to CC

Chiefs, JG tie for 5th; Salem 7th

By Steve Kowalski
staff writer

When trying to inspire his runners, Redford Catholic Central track coach Tony Magni knows it's just as important to be seen as it is to be heard.

That's why during Saturday's 22nd Annual Observerland Boys Track Relays Magni was standing almost by himself on the north sidelines across from the press box and cheering section at Howard Kraft Field. Magni's inspiration helped as the Shamrocks edged Livonia Churchill and won their first Observerland Relays since 1982.

CC, which won the Elks Relays last month, finished with 88 points, five ahead of Churchill. Northville was third (66), followed in fourth place by Farmington Hills Harrison (48). Defending champ Plymouth Salem finished in seventh place (34).

See statistical summary.
"I don't come over here with all these people, because they can't hear me," said Magni, pointing to the cheering section. "I'm on the other side, standing by the fence, just saying 'Go.' We have a nice relay team because a lot of our kids we can put here and there in different events."

THE SHAMROCKS led Churchill by one (78-77) with only the 1,600-meter relay race remaining. CC's foursome of Marc Eden, T.J. Kitchen, Aaron Sheposh and Eric McKeon not only won the 1,600 relay but they did it in a school record time of 3 minutes, 28.3 seconds.

McKeon, who earlier in the meet ran with Chris O'Keefe, Sheposh and Jamie Fitzgerald on the winning distance medley relay team (11:04), ran the final leg of the 1,600.

"I didn't even look at the time (on the scoreboard)," McKeon said. "I heard Northville's runner the whole way and I just tried to run as hard as I could down the back stretch. It's the best rush."

Kitchen anticipated running an even better 1,600 relay time before the end of the year.

"It's more than a goal. We're going to break it so no one else can break it," Kitchen said.

CC won four other events: the discus relay (Mike Grzywacz, Joe Suhajda and Kevin Jakubowski) threw for a combined 359 feet, 2 inches; 6,400-meter relay of Chris Kuzia, Brandon Dalziel, Damon Harris and Steve Witek (19:11); Eden won the 110-meter hurdles (14.65); and the 3,200-meter relay of Witek, Dalziel, Brian O'Reilly and Harris (8:29.7).

CHURCHILL, 3-2 in dual meets, led the Observerland Relays early after scoring 36 points in the field events. Terry Howery, Brian Johnson and Jim Kramer won the high-jump relay (17 feet) for Churchill and the Chargers also took second place in the pole vault, shot put and discus relays.

The Chargers had two points taken away when they were disqualified for unsportsmanlike conduct in the distance medley relay, but got a first place in the 1,600 run from Jeff Martus (4:39.4) and first place from its shuttle hurdle relay (Darian Muzo, Jedd Thorderson, John Fabrikiewicz and Nathan Loosle).

Churchill coach Fred Price enjoyed the Observerland Relays not only because his team took second but also since he wasn't in charge. Churchill hosted the last nine Observerland Relays.

"It's easier just to coach than to try to coach and run the meet," Price said. "If you don't get first place, you take second place and be

Canton's Eric Tomei won the 110-meter high hurdles Thursday in a dual meet against Farmington Hills Harrison. However, the Chiefs lost the meet, 79-58. See story on Page 3C. Both teams competed again Saturday in the Observerland Relays.

happy with it."

Perhaps Churchill's most inspiring effort came from Fabrikiewicz, a pole vaulter who filled in on the winning shuttle hurdle relay team. The win had given Churchill 10 points pulled the Chargers within seven of CC (78-71) with two events remaining.

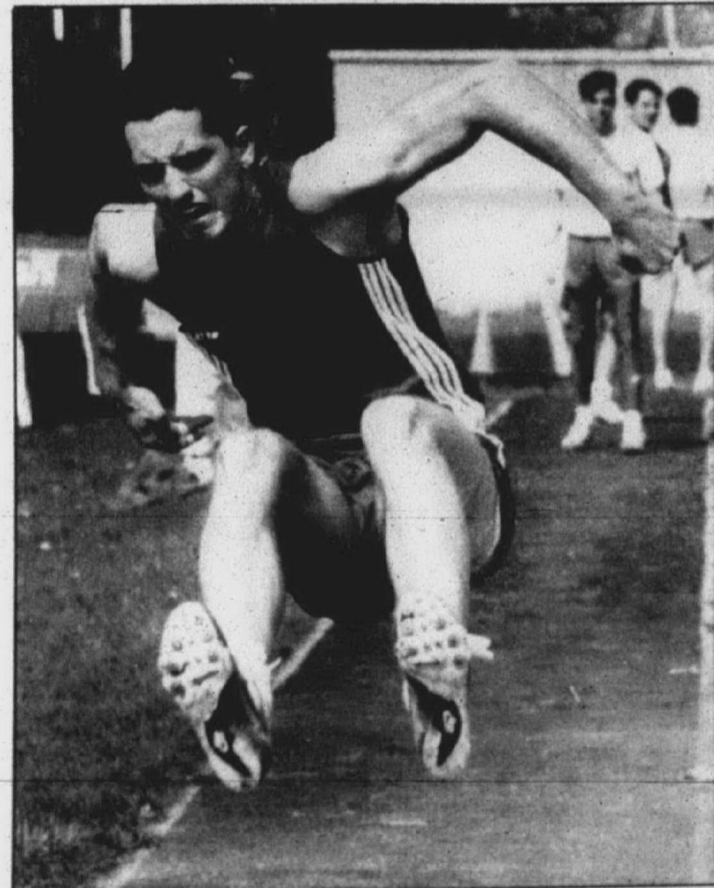

"ON TUESDAY John said 'I think I can run the hurdles,'" Price said. "Our third hurdler (Sean Platt) is in Tennessee for a school musical and I said John, 'Let's try it.' He's a pole vaulter, has good regular strides and a strong kid. It's just a case of a kid willing to try something new to help the team."

Northville made a strong push near the end as well, winning the sprint medley relay (2:32.1) and 400-meter relay (45.7). Harrison had 16 points after the field events and got 10 points with Granger's 100 dash title en route to its third-place finish.

Farmington, which had 18 points for ninth place, got a victory from its pole-vault relay of Chris Marting, Brandon Richardson and Jim Poin-dexter (34 feet); North Farmington took eighth place with 21 points and won the shot put relay behind Jeff Falcon, Very Ratliff and Brad Pawlowski (127.9); Westland John Glenn had the long-jump relay champion with Mark Kaiser, Brian Schultz and Brandon Buck (58.7) while Wayne Memorial won the 800-meter relay (1:33.7) with Steve Caldwell, DeAndrea Elliott, Lee Williams and Willie Bush.

Churchill coach Fred Price enjoyed the Observerland Relays not only because his team took second but also since he wasn't in charge. Churchill hosted the last nine Observerland Relays.

"It's easier just to coach than to try to coach and run the meet," Price said. "If you don't get first place, you take second place and be

Chiefs triumph over Stevenson

Plymouth Canton already had a state ranking in girls soccer, but the Chiefs should get increased respect after beating Livonia Stevenson 3-0 last week.

Sixth-ranked Canton got goals from Colleen Connell, Leah Hutko and Amy Tortora to topple the No. 2 Spartans, who were minus all-stater Ragen Coyne, who is playing in France with a national team.

"We knew we could play with them," Canton coach Don Smith said. "I think we could even with Ragen there."

"I think we're a little better than most people think we are. I guess we just have to prove it."

The win kept Canton unbeaten at 9-0-1 prior to a Saturday contest with North Farmington, 7-0-1 in the Western Lakes Activities Association. Stevenson suffered its first loss and is 5-1-1 in the WLAA and 9-1-1 overall.

JUNIOR GOALKEEPER Jori Welchans got her eighth shutout of the season, and the Chiefs, who led 1-0 at halftime on a breakaway goal by Connell, had assists from Hutko and Christina Stansell.

"There were a couple scary situations," Smith said, adding the Spartans had several potential breakaway chances. "But our kids always ran them down, covered up well and took it away."

"Jori took a couple good ones off their feet, but most were from a long ways out. Overall, the whole team played nicely. We moved the ball well at the offensive end and played good support defense."

While Canton started fast and has done well, the Chiefs still have a lot of big games ahead, beginning tonight when Canton plays host to Northville at 7 p.m. in a game that will determine the WLAA Western Division champion.

"We're beginning to reach our peak," Smith said. "The Easter break was kinda nice. It gave the girls a rest, and they came back playing hard, especially the seniors. There's only four of them, but they don't want to go out losers."

"We're a young team and we played well early in the season. We seem to get better each time out, but the next few weeks will be nothing but big games. We have a lot to get done yet if we're going to have a really good season."

Alicia King competes in the long jump Thursday during Canton's win over Harrison in girls track.

Canton girls win dual track meet

Plymouth Canton and Plymouth Salem kept their unbeaten division records intact Thursday in Western Lakes Activities Association girls track.

Karina Kilpelainen set a school record in the 100-meter hurdles and Canton had a number of athletes with multiple firsts as the Chiefs defeated Farmington Hills Harrison 110-18 at Canton.

Salem divided first-place honors among 11 individuals and won three relays in its 104-24 victory over host North Farmington.

Canton is 3-0 in the Western Division of the WLAA and overall. The Rocks lead the Lakes Division with a 3-0 record and stand 4-0 in all duals.

Kilpelainen won the high hurdles in 15.9, bettering the record she shared with teammate Angela Fountaine at 16.1. Kilpelainen also won the intermediate hurdles with a 49.4 time.

CANTON'S SELENA Bastine and Lana Boroditsch, also a contributor to the relays sweep, won two individual events each. Bastine threw the shot put 35-3 and the discus 108-5. Boroditsch ran the 1,600 run in 5:37.2 and the 3,200 contest in 12:25.1.

Also winning events for the Chiefs were Stephanie Gray in the high jump (5-2); Alicia King, long jump (15-7½); Ndu Okwumabua, 200 dash (28.1); Christie Saffron, 400 dash (1:05.6); and Kim Gudeth, 800 run (2:38.1).

Most had a role in the relay victories, too. Okwumabua, Michelle Dean, Becky Bockstanz, Saffron and Gudeth were on 2-2 overall.

King, Olive Ikech, Dean and Okwumabua finished the 400 relay in 54.5, and the 800 team of Dean, Bockstanz, Kilpelainen and Okwumabua completed the two laps in 1:54.3.

Saffron started the 1,600 and 3,200 relays and Gudeth anchored both. Bockstanz and Meghan Barresi complemented them on the 1,600 team (4:24.1). Jennifer Warnke and Boroditsch on the 3,200 unit (10:35.7).

Harrison's lone winner was Heather Conley in the 100 dash (13.3). The Hawks are 2-1 in the WLAA Western Division and 2-2 overall.

Dana Driscoll, Vanessa Benning, Sarah Hamilton and Tonya Wheeler won an individual event and also contributed to a Salem relay victory.

Salem edges baseball rival Glenn

Plymouth Salem defeated rival Westland John Glenn by another one-run margin Friday and improved its baseball record to 5-1 in the Lakes Division of the Western Lakes Activities Association.

The Rocks, who had beaten Glenn 4-3 earlier and stand 6-2-2 overall, held off a late-inning rally by the Rockets to win 9-8 at Salem.

Dan Hutchinson pitched five innings for the victory, giving up five runs, striking out two and issuing four walks. After a brief appearance by Brandon Walton, Chris Tomas pitched the last 1 1/2 innings and earned a save.

Jeff Hopson hit a two-run single during a six-run second inning for Salem. Al Hysko had two hits. John Ward was 3-for-4 and had three RBI to lead the Rockets.

On Wednesday, Chip Wadowski hit a grand slam — his first home run in a high school game — as Salem defeated host Farmington 11-5. He had two hits and another RBI with a fielder's choice.

Rocks lead division

Plymouth Salem took over first place in its division of the Western Lakes Activities Association by defeating host Westland John Glenn 5-4 in eight innings Friday.

The Rocks are 6-1 in the Lakes Division while Glenn and Walled Lake Central are 5-2. Salem is 8-2 overall.

"The kids are reacting and playing super," Salem coach Al Campbell said. "What more can you ask for?"

Jenna Stanton was 3-for-4 and had three RBI to lead the Rocks. Jenny Garvey added an RBI single and was the winning pitcher, tossing a four-hitter and striking out 10.

In the top of the eighth, Amber Trombetta walked, took second on a passed ball and scored the winning run on Stanton's double.

On Wednesday, the Rocks whipped Farmington 11-3, with Garvey scattering five hits and getting a complete-game victory.

Kristin Stackpole and Amanda Tubaug had two hits apiece for Salem. Stackpole drove in four runs, three on a bases-loaded double.

CANTON 25, HARRISON 0: Jenny Holmes and Colleen Baker combined for a no-hit victory Wednesday as the Chiefs overwhelmed the host Hawks.

The hitting leaders included Karrie Drinkhahn, who was 4-for-4 with three RBI, Dani Mortiere, 3-for-3, five runs, two RBI, and Julie Nicastrì, two hits, four RBI. Michelle Metzger and Nicastrì hit three-run homers, and Nicole Sequin also had two hits.

avenging an earlier loss Wednesday. The win put Canton at 4-1 in the division and 7-3 overall.

Frank Learned pitched a three-hit shutout, going the distance and running his record to 3-1. He struck out five and walked two while extending his string of scoreless innings to 14.

"He's thrown two shutouts and, in high school ball, that's like throwing a perfect game," Canton coach Fred Crissey said. "He's been marvelous."

In the fourth inning, with the Chiefs ahead 2-0, Harrison put runners at second and third with one out, but Learned retired the next two batters on foul flies to catcher Todd Pniwski.

Mark Schankowski scored both runs, first on Mike Stafford's first-inning single and then a wild pitch in the third. Jeremy Hyde and Pniwski had the other Canton hits.

Mike Pesci was the losing pitcher despite pitching a three-hitter, striking out five and walking two, also. Dan Hight, Tom Donagrandi and Keye Smith had the Harrison hits.

REDFORD CC 15, DLS 13: The Shamrocks bounced back from their first loss of the season with a Central Division triumph Thursday at Warren DeLaSalle.

CC tallied seven runs in a sixth inning and two in the top of the seventh to run its overall record to 9-1 and 7-1 in the Central (Catholic League).

Brian Hicks, Scott Kapla and Paul Kuhn each collected three hits for the victorious Shamrocks.

Hicks had three RBI and scored three times. He belted a two-run homer.

Kuhn also knocked in a pair of runs.

Dan Gusoff (4-0), the starter who worked 3 1/2 innings before re-entering in the sixth, was the winning pitcher.

On Wednesday, host DeLaSalle beat CC in 11 innings, 3-2, thanks to Matt Wilczynski's bases-loaded single.

Scott Kapla, who pitched 7 1/2 innings in relief of starter Dave Susalla (sore elbow), fell to 2-1 with the loss. He struck out 10, walked six and allowed 10 hits.

Kapla had two hits and knocked in both CC runs. Gusoff also had two hits.

Brian Gorak worked 10 innings for the Pilots, but did not get the decision.

Alcock paces SC golfers

Dennis Alcock of Canton, a graduate of Plymouth Salem High School, was the tournament medalist Friday while leading Schoolcraft College to the Oakland Community College Invitational golf championship at Pontiac Country Club.

Alcock shot 75 and teammates Rick Quiton and Troy Denomme tied for second at 77. Scott Sandusky (82) and Ken Fennelli (88) rounded out the Schoolcraft score.

The Ocelots had a 311 team total followed by St. Clair (318) and Oakland CC (319).

"This is the first tournament the whole team has played well," Alcock said. "It was a good tournament for us to win, because it was the last one before the state. We're trying to build some momentum."

The 54-hole state final will be played Tuesday and Wednesday at Gull Lake View in Augusta.

Rocks stay undefeated in Lakes dual meets

Plymouth Salem remained unbeaten Thursday in the WLAA Lakes Division (3-0) with a 76-61 victory over visiting North Farmington.

Don Johnson won two events and participated in Salem's 400 relay win. He won the long jump (19-2) and high hurdles (15.3).

Marcus Zeyalkink, Johnson, Todd Forbes and Justin Fisher circled the track once in 46.7 to win the relay.

Salem had another double winner in Derek Cudini, who had times of 4:38.5 and 10:22 in the distance runs.

The Rocks also got first places from Dan Stevenson in the discus (125-2), Brian Herc the intermediate hurdles (44.1), Mike Richards the 200 dash (23.2) and Jayson McDonald the half-mile run (2:09.2).

The Raiders, 0-3 and 0-4, made a good showing with firsts in five individual events and three relays.

Tony Catchings won the 400 dash (52.8) and was the leadoff runner on the 1,600 and 3,200 relays.

Ryan Deuel, Dave Ashburn and Matt Link followed Catchings on the 1,600 team (3:46). Deuel, Yasu Kunieda and D.J. Otani also carried the baton in the 3,200 race (8:52.2).

North's Brad Pawlowski won the shot put (43-3), Chris Bouchet the high jump (5-6), Devon Richardson the pole vault (8-6) and Damon Hall the 100 dash (11.5).

FARMINGTON HILLS Harrison posted an important victory in boys track Thursday with a 79-58 defeat of visiting Plymouth Canton.

The win keeps the Hawks unbeaten at 4-0 overall and 3-0 in the Western Division of the Western Lakes Activities Association. The Chiefs are 1-2 and 2-2.

Harrison jumped in front early by winning every field event, including two by Brock Gove in the shot put (43-1) and the discus (127-3).

The other winners were Steve Bruni in the high jump (6-0), Jason Dreyer, long jump

(20-8), and Dave Gloetzer, pole vault (9-6). "We could not overcome the field events today," Canton coach Bob Richardson said. "We had nine points out of the field events and could not come back."

The Chiefs do not compete in the pole vault and always forfeit nine points there, but Richardson didn't expect Harrison to sweep the long jump. The Hawks also "did a number on us" in the sprints, he added.

Duante Anderson won the 100-meter dash (10.8) with teammate Roy Granger second (11.0). The order was reversed in the 200. Granger won that race in 22.8 and Anderson was second at 23.1.

Granger and Anderson also helped the Hawks win the 400 relay, combining with Dreyer and Gil Chavez to turn in a 45.9 time.

Harrison's Jason Zdyrski was a double winner with firsts in the 1,600 and 3,200 runs. He ran the former in 4:38.3 and the latter in 10:08.8.

Canton won both hurdle events, the middie-distance runs and three relays. Craig Miller had three firsts. Brett Kearney, Matt Demey and Dave Washenko were on two relays each.

Miller ran the quarter mile in 53.9 and anchored the 800 and 1,600 relays. Mike Gurchak, Paul Chudyk and Micha Kollie preceded Miller on the 800 squad (1:35.2).

Kearney, Demey and Washenko joined Miller on the 1,600 unit (3:41.2), and the same threesome combined with Kevin Gudeth for an 8:28.2 time in the 3,200 relay.

FARMINGTON EVENED its record at 2-2 and improved to 2-1 in the WLAA Lakes Division with an 86-51 victory over visiting Livonia Stevenson.

The Falcons had only one winner in the field events but rebounded to win every relay, five running events and one hurdles race.

Chris Martin, Nigel Whitt, Corby Laverty,

Mario Nordini and Dave Clinard had individual victories and contributed to Farmington's overwhelming success in the relays.

Martin, Whitt and Laverty were winners in the dash events with respective times of 11.4, 23.4 and 56.4 in the 100, 200 and 400 races. Nordini and Clinard won the distance runs with respective times of 2:11.8 and 11:10.2 in the 1,600 and 3,200 contests.

Farmington's winner in the field events was Jason Tucker in the high jump (6-4), and Dan Martinovsky won the high hurdles (15.7).

Kevin Koshowsky anchored the sprint relays. Whitt, Martin and Eric Kirwan joined him in the 400 relay (46.6). The 800 relay (1:38.2) included Ryan Lewis, Laverty and Kirwan.

Nordini was on both distance relay teams, being joined by Laverty. Mike Robies and Kirwan on the 1,600 squad (3:43.6). Clinard, Scott Carter and Kevin Afflerbaugh rounded out the 3,200 team that had a 9:02.4 time.

DRISCOLL WON the long jump (15-9), Benning the 100 dash (12.9), Hamilton the 200 dash (26.3) and Wheeler the 400 dash (1:03.7). Hamilton, Driscoll and Marcia Parker were on the 400 and 800 relays that won in 54.1 and 1:51.4. Benning anchored the 400 team and Wheeler the 800.

In addition to Driscoll in the field events, Salem's Katherine Ryan won the shot put (28-6 1/4), Nikki Santilli the discus (97-4) and Melissa Hopson the high jump (4-10).

The Rocks won both hurdles races, with Theresa Giachero running the high hurdles in 16.4 and Sarah Makins the intermediate hurdles in 50.7.

Salem also won the distance events in which Karen Boudreau had a 5:48.6 time for the 1,600 run and Emily Farrell ran 12:31.3 in the 3,200 run. Courtney Sheldon, Lynda Sebestyen, Sandra Von Holn and Sarah Lapinski gave the Rocks first place in the 1,600 relay (4:29.2).

North's Keegan Keefover won the 800 run in 2:31.7 and anchored the winning 3,200 relay. Lisa Wantuck, Alicia Crossland, Amy Roberts and Keefover ran the relay in 10:50.2.

The Raiders, 0-3 in the Lakes Division and 0-4 overall, got second place from Christin Glovak in the high jump. Wantuck in the 800 and Crossland in the 3,200.

• In the Lady Chiefs Relays April 25, Canton won five events. Stephanie Gray, Dawn Kersten and Selena Bastine combined to win the shot put (88-3 1/4) and the discus (269-8). Gray, Olive Ikeb and Ndu Okwumabua set a meet record and tied the school standard with a combined total of 14-9 in the high jump.

The Chiefs also established a school record in the shuttle hurdle relay in which Karina Kilpelainen, Erin Shriber, Erin Olenech and Angela Fountain were clocked at 1:08.9.

Canton captured first place in the 8-mile relay, which was conducted like a cross country race with runners scoring points based on their individual places. Lana Boroditsch, Kathleen Landelius, Laura McWilliams and Kelly Reeber scored 26 points — two less than Brighton.

Madonna ousted from district softball tourney

The hope was that Madonna University's young softball team — in only its second year of existence — would be good enough offensively and tough enough mentally to make a run at the NAIA District 23 Tournament title.

It turned out otherwise.

The Lady Crusaders' playoff stay was short — one day (Thursday), in fact. They lost their first game to host-team Aquinas College by a 4-1 margin, then were ousted from the double-elimination tournament by Northwood Institute, 8-3.

Despite the quick exit, Madonna coach Dave Racer wasn't disappointed. "We played real well," he insisted. "We came up a little bit short. We didn't have enough firepower."

Aquinas didn't have much firepower either — after the first inning. But the Saints had enough to score all four of their runs in that frame, putting together two doubles and a triple, then finishing it with a home run by Heather Woodcox. They got just one hit after that.

MADONNA MANAGED just four hits off Aquinas ace Jody Borowicz, the district's most valuable player.

Borowicz did not walk a batter, either, in outdueling the Crusaders' Tracy Vachon (four runs, five hits, one walk).

The Crusaders were further hurt by the loss of catcher Kim Supron, whose injured shoulder kept her out of both tournament games. Their only run against Aquinas came in seventh on a double by Jenny Marquette and a triple by Holly Jondro. Jondro had two of her team's four hits.

Kristen Wasil pitched the second game for Madonna, and she kept Northwood scoreless through three innings. But, as Racer said, "When they started hitting the ball, they just never stopped."

The Northwomen got a run in the fourth, three in the fifth and two in both the sixth and seventh to bury the Crusaders, whose season ended with a 22-20 mark. Jondro again led the attack with two hits. Jill Burt doubled in two Madonna runs in the third, and Jondro singled in the other in the sixth.

HOROSCOPES

By C.C. Clark

TAURUS (April 20 - May 20)
Be careful in your choice of a romantic partner. A co-worker could cause problems for you. Check your facts before making a presentation.

GEMINI (May 21 - June 20)
It may be time to see a specialist concerning that nagging health problem. It will give you peace of mind and you will feel better, too.

CANCER (June 21 - July 22)
A bizarre incident could astound you and possibly cause distress. See things as they are and you will be able to deal with the world a little better.

LEO (July 23 - Aug. 22)
An argument concerning financial or domestic matters could cause big problems if not treated with a gentle hand. Pay close attention to detail.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 - Sept. 22)
Curb your obsessive need for perfection, otherwise you could end up very lonely. Don't alienate yourself from co-workers and friends.

LIBRA (SEPT. 23 - Oct. 22)
Don't be afraid to make your true feelings known to those closest to you. Work or school pressures are getting to you. Take a short trip and relax.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 - Nov. 21)
Spend more time with your family. Turn off the TV and enjoy the wit of those around you. Accept legitimate criticism and keep your mind open.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 - Dec. 21)
Set yourself free and let your mind race with future possibilities. If you aren't happy with your current situation, get out of it.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 - Jan. 19)
Visit friends you haven't seen in a while. It will make you feel much better about yourself. Music figures prominently in your near future.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 - Feb. 18)
You have put off that new exercise program and diet long enough. You want to feel better, so do something about it. You will experience joy.

PISCES (Feb. 19 - March 20)
Surprise guests could disrupt a special evening, but things could turn out better than planned. Cultural pursuits bring knowledge.

ARIES (March 21 - April 19)
Take heed of a message from an important person in your life. Don't be too critical of those who are doing their best to look after you.

ABC celebrates 40 years of "American Bandstand"

Assembly of show becomes nostalgic journey for Dick Clark

By Steven Alan McGaw

It's kind of like looking through a scrapbook," says Dick Clark, describing the two-hour "American Bandstand's 40th Anniversary Special," airing Wednesday, May 13, on ABC. Putting together a show such as this, Clark says, is "a mammoth undertaking" that requires "a small army" to accomplish. "The biggest challenge we have before us," the veteran broadcaster explains, "is this: We really do have only two hours."

Clark admits "it's impossible" to sum up 40 years of historic television in two hours of commercial air time. Instead, he reports they've tried to assemble a fast-paced collage of vintage clips, recent performances and personal reminiscences. Montage segments "effectively deal with particular themes, like teen idols, stars who are now deceased and world events that helped shape the music of the last four decades. As a whole, the show is designed to place "Bandstand" in historical context. Besides, says Clark, "It's going to be terrific entertainment."

The "live" segments of the special were taped in the same ABC studio that "Bandstand" called home from 1964 on (where the network has installed a commemorative plaque, Clark notes proudly), and feature performances by Alabama, Boyz II Men, Neil Diamond and Gloria Estefan & The Maimi Sound Machine. Don McLean will be on hand to mark the 20th anniversary of his chart-topping single "American Pie" and doo-wop masters Little Anthony and the Imperials will reunite for their first TV appearance in 24 years.

Stars like Paula Abdul, Natalie Cole, Pat Boone, Garth Brooks, John Mellencamp and Pauly Shore will offer their personal reflections on the significance of "Bandstand," while Clark himself chats with former audience regulars from as far back as the show's Philadelphia days. In the segment, scrapbook-style stills from vintage episodes will dissolve to reveal the same folks in 1992. Regarding his own changing appearance being so graphically depicted, Clark laughs and says, "The ravages of time will be seen."

The bulk of the show will consist of vintage performance clips and feature an astounding variety of stars, including Bryan Adams, George Harrison, David Bowie, Fats Domino, Michael Jackson, the Rolling Stones, The Temptations, The Who and Stevie Wonder. Deceased stars spotlighted include Jim Morrison (with The Doors), Buddy Holly, Bill Haley, Marvin Gaye and Roy Orbison.

Rock pioneer Bo Diddley will head the special's roof-rattling finale, leading an all-star romp through his "Hey, Bo Diddley."

Participants in the jam include Greg Allman, Stanley Clarke, Clarence Clemons, John Entwistle, Lita Ford, Johnny Rivers, Tom Scott and Max Weinberg.

"American Bandstand," TV's longest-running music youth series debuted in 1952 on Philadelphia's WFIL-TV. Clark took over as host in July, 1956, and the wildly popular local program made the historic leap to ABC and national exposure in August, 1957.

"Even though I told everyone at the network that we'd duplicate our success in Philadelphia," Clark recalls, "it was a little overwhelming. Within one month, it was the number one daytime show in America."

Clark believes the success of the show stemmed from its relationship with the audience, as well as just being in the right place at the right time. "When it started," Clark says, "it immediately became the national corner drugstore for a generation that had just found its own identity." Referring to Wednesday's special, Clark says, "Forty years of youth culture are reflected in this show."

And how does it all affect Clark himself, a consummate businessman and practically his own media conglomerate? "This touches me very deeply. I've spent all my adult life with this show," Clark reflects.

"It's been with me longer than anybody in my family. My parents are deceased. My oldest son is one year younger than I was when I started with it. It's just been with me for so long."

LET'S TALK

Magician Copperfield too busy for romance

By Taylor Michaels

Q: Could you tell me a little about David Copperfield? Is he married? Could I please have an address where I could write to him? —Janet Remington, Marinette, Wis.

A: The illusionist who performs STW shows a year is single. He says, "Having relationships with ladies is very difficult" because of his busy schedule. When he's not working, he enjoys taking "incredible vacations." You can write him in care of Jennifer Friedmann, 2900 S. Gessner, Suite 110, Houston, Texas 77063.

Q: My son and I were wondering what happened to the Young Riders. We only get two channels and it was a good show. We both looked forward to watching it on Saturday nights. Will it be on the air again? —Jeremy Richardson, Stamford, Conn.

A: Stars, the show has been canceled and it doesn't look like it's coming back.

Q: Can you tell me what has become of Eddy Arnold and why we never hear his music anymore? —Penny Martinez, Atascadero, Calif.

A: Arnold, whose hit songs gave him more time in the No. 1 position than any other country music artist, released his latest album, "You Don't Miss a Thing," last year. The Nashville Network is airing A Celebration of Eddy Arnold on Monday, May 18.

Q: Can you tell me if the continuation of Stephen King's Golden Years is going to be aired on television? I hate it when they don't follow through on a serial. They did that with The Fugitive and I didn't see the end for about 20 years. —J. Long, McCloud, Calif.

A: Golden Years, which aired last summer on CBS, is not coming back. I know it's frustrating, but such is the way of network television.

Q: This family of fans misses Richard Dean Anderson of MacGyver. Monday evenings are empty now. My neighbors and I believe the stimulation of imagination and suspense are healthy within limits, of course. We want MacGyver back! Is there an address where we can reach him? —Rita Conner, Novi, Mich.

A: Write to him in care of Paramount Domestic Television, 5555 Melrose Ave., Los Angeles, Calif.

works. It was Paramount that produced MacGyver, and they will forward mail to Anderson. If you wish to register your displeasure about the show's demise, write to Robert Iger, President of ABC Entertainment Capital Cities ABC, Inc., 2040 Avenue of the Stars, Century City, Calif. 90067.

It's surprising to me how many letters I still receive concerning Richard Dean Anderson. Please fans make a note of the address above and keep it for future reference. It will save you the cost of a stamp! Also, please note that you can see MacGyver in reruns every day on various USA network.

Q: I'm an avid fan of Star Trek: The Next Generation. I can sit for hours watching Capt. Picard and his crew. My husband is taping them so we will have them to watch later. I would like to know where I can write the Captain and his crew. —Camilla Stanton, Macon, Ga.

A: You can write to the cast of the show, care of Paramount Domestic Television, 5555 Melrose Avenue, Los Angeles, Calif. 90067. A spin-off series, tentatively titled Star Trek: Deep Space Nine, is currently in development for January 1993. Star Trek: The Next Generation, one of the highest-rated non-network shows, is currently in its fifth season.

ESPN has yachting's wind at its back

By Steve Paschal

Last month when the Stars & Stripes defeated rival Kanza in a sudden-death sail-off, executives at ESPN must have breathed a sigh of relief.

A Kanza victory would have meant that her triumph in the finals would have been overshadowed by a single incident that turned what should be an exciting dramatic duel into a battle between an academic and a sailor. The sports network could have found its ratings slumped by a sail-off on a windless day, but Stars & Stripes' victory ensured a ratings swell with eventual veteran skipper Dennis Conner taking Bill Koch and the America's Cup Foundation to the right to meet the successful challenger in the America's Cup finals.

Koch's victory was an interesting footnote to the sport's successful 1987 and ESPN's made an unprecedented commitment to broadcast his voyage. Host Jim Kelley and crew Capt. Jonson, Peter Isler and Sharon Hawkins will sail the boat to the 1992 America's Cup finals, but except for the first, which airs Saturday, MacGyver's big sister broadcast on ABC.

Fans can warm up for the finals of Friday, May 8, when A&E presents America's Cup 1987: The World's Greatest Race Report. The special will highlight the adventures of MacGyver's first voyage from the origins of the sport to the 1987 America's Cup back to the trophy in the Australian 1987.

Jackee joins Designing Women as Anthony's (Meshach Taylor) fiancée Monday on CBS.

STAIR NOTICES

Cybill Shepherd says a mouthful

By Suzanne Galt
Cybill Shepherd may not have had a series since Moonlighting, but she hasn't been idle. She's spent the last few years developing her own production company, according to Shepherd, this means she requires the woman to be the victim or the victim of the monster.

On Monday, May 4, Shepherd will be in the tuxedo. She's wearing a white, high-collared private eye shirt. It's a bit of a belt in karate (Shepherd is a black belt) and she does some of her own stunts. She walks barefoot, tracking her steps on a computer.

It's the kind of thing she's done for herself, but for the show, she sets. An ardent feminist at heart, Shepherd is outspoken about the rights of women causes.

With 4-year-old Annie as the lead, Shepherd plays an attorney who is taking on the world and the state of mind. She's a feminist, she's a private investigator, she's a woman who can take care of herself and share her own experiences. She insists on having it all, and she's not afraid to tread her own path. She's a woman who can do it for 20 minutes, and she's a woman who can do it for 20 minutes. She's a woman who can do it for 20 minutes.

Veteran newsman Hugh Downs is the longtime co-host of 20/20. Ends on ABC.

Jeff Daniels stars in the time-travel adventure Disaster in Time, premiering Saturday on Showtime.
