Hotel use up for discussion

The public will get a chance to look at plans to turn the Plymouth Hilton into a senior citizen health care facility. A hearing is set for April 17 before the Plymouth Township Planning Commission.

By KEVIN BROWN
STAFF WRITER

Plans to turn the abandoned Plymouth Hilton into a senior housing-care development will soon get a public airing.

At an April 17 public hearing before the Plymouth Township Planning Commission, new owners, the PM Group, are scheduled to present their plans for the former five-story hotel.

Since the hotel closed nearly five years ago, there have been several break-ins. Some are concerned that the hotel is looking run down, so township officials say they're happy someone is trying to develop the property.

In an address to community business leaders on Wednesday, Township Supervisor Kathleen Keen McCarthy said the proposed renovation project was among some top positive changes proposed in the township.

But before the project can start, planning commissioners must approve it.

Commissioners were scheduled to get a first look at the developer's plan at the Wednesday planning commission meeting. But with three of the nine commissioners absent, the PM Group presentation was postponed to April.

The renovated hotel building and Congregate Building would provide 175 dwelling units.

The plan to renovate the 199-bed hotel was put together by Ann Arbor architects Hobbs and Black Associates Inc. It includes renovation of the five-story hotel structure and demolition of the lobby and banquet facilities.

The Mayflower has long been a place to eat and sleep in Plymouth.

But now it will bring dinner theater to the community. On Saturday, March 30, at 7:15 p.m., Entertaining People Productions will present a dinner theater production called "A Deadly Development."

"We have been doing this for about six years," said Steve Katz, who manages the group. "I've wanted to do something with the Mayflower for a long time."

Ordinance aimed at teen smoking

By KEVIN BROWN
STAFF WRITER

An anti-youth-smoking ordinance contemplated by city officials has been taken off the fast track.

Now, it's uncertain the proposed ordinance, which passed a first reading by city commissioners March 4, will become law.

Should it pass a second reading, the ordinance would require youths caught smoking to pay a $50 fine or perform community service.

In proposing the ordinance earlier this month, Assistant City Attorney Cameron Miller said police and school authorities want a local ordinance created for two reasons: This misdemeanor offense now goes on a young person's permanent record, if found guilty in county probate court.

Also, Miller said, the tickets are often dismissed as the courts must deal with violent and other more serious crimes. Passing a local ordinance would give local courts the authority to deal with offenders.

At the March 18 city commission meeting, commissioners were presented a letter from Wayne Probate Court Register Alexander Luvall. He challenged criticism of the county courts.

"It is important that you understand that the court has conducted hearings and assessed costs in a very high percentage of the cases heard," he wrote. "These hearings were established to assist the Plymouth-Canton community with its student smoking problem."

Charity game

The Plymouth Township Police All Stars will play a charity basketball game against the Detroit Lions on Thursday, May 2, at the Central Middle School gym in Plymouth.

Money for the event will go to support local charities such as the United Way, Salvation Army, Boy Scouts of America, Growth Works of Plymouth and others.

The Police Officers Association of Plymouth Township, which fields the team, also has a fund that assists in emergency relief efforts and other causes in the community.

Members of the Lions will sign autographs during the halftime.

The cost for the game is $45 for families and $15 for singles. Tickets are available by calling 453-1049.

Players from the Lions include: Thomas

Here comes the judge

With elections coming up in Plymouth this year for district court judge, there's a program on tap to help voters decide how to select one.

Part one of a two part panel discussion "How to Judge a Judge," will be at 6 p.m. on Thursday, March 28, at the Water Club Seafood Grill on Ann Arbor Road east of I-275. The public is invited.

The event is being sponsored by the Plymouth Republican Club. During the event, a panel of experts will field questions and provide an understanding as to why the job of judge is on the ballot.

For more information, contact club president Thomas Hickey at 344-5619.

Arena contract

A contractor has been selected to build a new ice arena in Plymouth Township that will be the home of the Detroit Jr. Whalers hockey team.

The arena, which will house a hockey rink and an Olympic-size rink, will be built by A. J. Etkin Construction Co. of Farmington Hills.

Administrator up for Clarenceville post

By M.B. DILLON
STAFF WRITER

Dr. Thomas Tattan, executive director of instruction for Plymouth-Canton Community Schools, is a finalist in the running for the Clarenceville School District superintendency.

Home to 1,750 students from parts of Redford, Farmington Hills and northern Livonia, Clarenceville has two elementary, one middle school and one high school.

Fifty-seven educators from communities ranging from Northport to Romeo applied for the job now held by David Kamish, who is retiring. Formerly Canton High School principal, Tattan is among the seven finalists chosen by the Clarenceville Board of Education. He was scheduled to be interviewed a second time at 3 p.m. Saturday, March 23.

Tattan couldn't be reached for comment Friday.

This is the third job Tattan has sought in the last few years. He applied for the Plymouth-Canton superintendency before Charles Little of New York was hired, and for the Canton principalship after Dr. Tom MacKenzie left.

In its search for a superintendent, trustees set these main qualifications.

- The educator has earned at least a master's degree, with graduate study in educational administration or leadership.

- The educator has worked at least five years as a teacher and five years as an administrator.

- The educator has established himself/herself as an educational leader through active participation in a variety of areas.

- The educator has met all the requirements for certification as set by the Michigan State Board of Education.

The other finalists are:

- E. Jack Hudson, who is retired from a district in Ohio.
- Elliot H. Burns, superintendent of the Armada School District.

- Mark A. Gualdoni, assistant superintendent of the Romeo School District.
- Alan K. McLean, superintendent of the Maple Valley School District.

- Shari A. Hogue, superintendent of Northport Public Schools.
- Michael J. Manor, interim superintendent of the Meridian School District.

After the last interview on March 24, trustees will reduce the field further. They'll spend the month of April visiting the communities of those educators who made the second cut.

The board expects to name a superintendent by May 1.

"We never dreamed we'd have this many applicants," said Vernice Dunklee, board president. "We had been told that people didn't want the job of superintendent. Clarenceville, because it's a smaller district, serves as a good stepping stone. They can get experience and move on to a larger one."

Among the finalists, all but Hogue have a Ph.D.

Kamish, who lives in Novi, spent two years in the U.S. Army and 36 years in education. He returned to Clarenceville in 1966 to become principal of Edgewood Elementary. When the school closed in 1980, he was named principal of Grandview Elementary. In 1991, he was named superintendent after former Superintendent Jerry Montecillo resigned.

No employee who applied is among the seven finalists. Montecillo, an outsider, came from Taylor Public Schools in 1989. His tenure lasted less than two years. The trustees said it was not a good match.

The board renegotiated Montecillo's four-year contract and agreed to pay him as a consultant for the 1991-92 school year at a fee of $80,000, his yearly salary at the time.

Lang Lebe Der Konig: Joy Large's eighth-grade German class took top honors at the University of Michigan's 12th Annual German Day.

Classmates savor fun of studying German

By M.B. DILLON
STAFF WRITER

It meant storming the Michigan Union stage in just his boxer shorts, in front of nearly 1,000 German-speaking students and several University of Michigan German professors/judges. But it was worth it for eighth-grader - alias Emperor - Kellas Brown and his Central Middle School classmates.

Brown, 50 fellow students and teacher Joy Large walked away from the University of Michigan's 12th Annual German Day with high honors. Their achievements were especially satisfying given the fact that nearly all their competitors were high school students from all over Michigan.

Brown and his fellow German students starred in the drama "The Emperor's New Clothes," adapted by Large from the German fairy tale. Their performance captured first place.

"It was kind of embarrassing, because I was the king and had to go around in my underwear," said Brown. "But after a while, I kind of got used to it."

Eighth-grader Lindsay Stallard played the queen. "I was surprised at how much German we understood after just one year. It was really amazing," she said.

Large's students took first place in drama competition, as well as in the "television commercial" category.

Central also won third place for its musical selection, "In dem Walde," (translation "In the Forest,") written by Large.

"The day was great fun, and inspiring as well," said Large of the March 15 competition that included 17 high schools and one junior high. "It was challenging to see the other skits and competitions, and rewarding to be able to understand quite a bit after only six-and-a-half months of German study."

Central's competition included high schools from communities including Frankenmuth, Grosse Pointe, Bloomfield Hills, Birmingham, Livonia, Ann Arbor and Dexter.

"I thought it was great, because we got to see how other schools were doing, and it made us all feel really proud, since we were the youngest," said Erica Thomas, who played a weaver.

Narrator Jeremy Majszak said "Emperor

Kellas" really helped. "The way he walked around in his underwear, he made the judges understand it was supposed to be a funny play," he said.

"I thought it was really cool we got to go in front of all those high schools," said Dave Koloski, who played the "burger."

This was Bryan Hewitt's stage debut. "I was a farmer. It was hard work, with so many lines to memorize. But it was fun," he said of the 15-minute skit.

"First minister" Shanna Ricks said she was "really proud" of her class, "since we were the only eighth graders."

"Second minister" Angela Uhring said, "When we were first walking around the room, and everyone was staring at us, it was kind of intimidating. But it was great, because we beat them all."

Student Jane Bube said, "At first, I was really nervous. I did the commercial. But I was really glad I did."

Committee helps students

Parents of elementary-aged students have the greatest impact on the children's development. With this premise in mind, the Elementary Parent Awareness Committee was formed in 1994.

The sub-committee of the Business-Education Partnership came together to devise strategies to help create a greater awareness among parents of the need for students to gain positive inter-personal skills at an early age.

The committee is comprised of parents, educators, and business representatives.

It has researched skills and attributes children need to in order to become successful adults. The group is looking for innovative ways in which to share this message with parents of elementary school students.

If you are interested in becoming part of the Elementary Parent Awareness Committee, or would like more information, call Betty Bloch at 416-4903.

By KEVIN BROWN

No big surprises were laid on about 50 local business leaders who showed for the annual "State of the Community" breakfast Wednesday at the Mayflower Hotel.

There, key elected officials representing the city, Plymouth Township and the county took a chance to highlight some positive changes around greater Plymouth in recent months.

They also had a chance to tout some planned improvements government would have a role in making happen.

Plymouth Mayor Ron Loiselle said the key challenge faced by city officials in recent years is stretching the city budget to provide services without raising taxes.

"We've had to try to be innovative looking for cost savings," Loiselle said.

The merger of the city and township fire departments 13 months ago, Loiselle said, "is one of our shining examples of how two communities can work together to create cost savings while not reducing service."

Plymouth city and Township are also working together to improve the look of the Ann Arbor Road business corridor, and on sharing the cost of a new system to videotape sewer lines to check for problems.

"The quality of life in our neighborhoods has to be maintained," Loiselle said, adding commercial and industrial businesses must also be maintained. Loiselle said city officials are reviewing street and sewer improvements along Main Street both north and south of downtown.

"Our problem that we face is there are 32 miles of streets and sewers in Plymouth and we have an over 75 year-old sewer system," Loiselle said, adding city officials have established an ongoing street-sewer improvement fund.

Plymouth Township Supervisor Kathleen Keen McCarthy highlighted the new two-surface ice arena planned for the Five Mile Road-Beck Road area. Once completed in August, it will be the new home of the Ontario Hockey League's Detroit Whalers. The hockey rink will seat 3,500.

The township's new touch-screen voting system — even with a glitch or two in its debut during the primary election Tuesday — performed well, she said. "All our results were in by 10 after 9 — this was absolutely amazing," McCarthy said. Results of the former punch-card voting system were rarely available before 11 p.m. on election nights.

Leaders speak: Wayne County Commissioner Thaddeus McCotter, Plymouth Township Supervisor Kathleen Keen McCarthy and Plymouth Mayor Ron Loiselle answer questions from business leaders Wednesday.

building permit tracking system will soon go on line. "It will allow us to hook into the state and get updates on codes," she said, among other features.

Other recent improvements in the township include an upgraded police radio. "We have eliminated most of the dead spots in the township," McCarthy said.

Wayne County Commissioner Thaddeus McCotter said both city and township officials showed courage in joining him in rejecting the proposed Willow Run Tradeport. Local officials' decision was vindicated, he said, when the Michigan Jobs Commission found that the tradeport wasn't worth the money needed to build it.

"At the present time the tradeport is dead," McCotter said.

New circuit judge has community ties

By RALPH R. ECHTINAW
STAFF WRITER

Beginning today, Canton Township has its first-ever resident on the Wayne County Circuit Court.

Sean Cox, a 38-year-old partner in the Livonia law firm of Cummings, McClorey, Davis & Acho, was appointed to the circuit court March 11 by Gov. John Engler. The seat was vacant because Richard Kaufman resigned to take a job as director of the SMART regional bus line.

After 13 years as a practicing attorney, Cox begins his $110,000/year job today, but he must be elected by voters in November to retain the seat.

His first campaign fund-raiser is set for April 2 at Reedy's, a Detroit bar, with at least five more to follow at different locations, including three in western Wayne County. He plans to raise at least $75,000 for the campaign.

"People can file against me, but they'll be in for a hell of a fight because I intend to keep (the seat)," Cox said. "I'm going to be much more qualified to be on the bench than anyone who is going to run against me."

Although 13 circuit court seats will be up for grabs this year, Cox will run in a group of just two judges, himself and Judge Kristen Frank Kelly. The top two vote getters win the seats.

To take the new job, Cox gave up his chairmanship of the 13th Congressional District Republican Committee, a post he has held since 1993.

The Catholic Central High School graduate got involved in Republican politics while a student at the University of Michigan in the late 1970s, but never as a candidate. "Sean and I stood side by side in the Republican party fighting for certain things," said Ronald Lowe, now a 35th District Court judge.

Although influential in the party, Cox was relatively unknown outside Republican circles.

Following roll call and the pledge of allegiance, the agenda will be adopted and the Volunteers in Public Schools award will be presented.

After minutes are approved, there will be a presentation on the Transition Program.

Superintendent Charles Little will give an update on the Strategic Planning Committee.

Citizens non-agenda comments and board requests and reports will follow.

Approval of bills for payment and approval of leaves and resignations will be voted on as part of the consent calendar.

Action items include considering approval of non-renewal of administrative contract, and considering re-admittance of an expelled student.

Citizen participation and a closed session will conclude the meeting. Board members will discuss a personnel item and PCEA and PCA negotiations before adjourning.

Skaters will take to ice to celebrate their skills

The 16th annual Ice Show sponsored by Livonia Parks and Recreation will be Friday through Sunday at Eddie Edgar Arena.

"Celebration on Ice" will begin at 7:30 p.m. Friday, 2 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. Saturday, and 2 p.m. Sunday in the arena at Lyndon and Stark.

Livonia's outstanding ice skaters, ages 4 through adult, and precision teams will perform routines to popular music.

The theme for the first half will be music from different generations and the second half will be a Show of Seasons from winter to fall, plus some holiday fun.

General admission is $5, $4 for ages 55 and older, and $3 for 12 and younger. Tickets are available at the recreation office in city hall from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. weekdays or at the arena from 4-8 p.m. weekdays.

Some of the popular songs featured will include "Raindrops Keep Falling on My Head," "Sunshine, Lollipops & Rainbows," "September," "Pink Panther," "March of the Toys," "Lady in Red," "Blue Moon," "Walking on Sunshine," and many others.

Some of the seasonal songs include "Winter Wonderland," "Singin' in the Rain," "September Morn," "Surfin' USA," "Snowbird," "Summer Nights," "Here Comes the Sun," "Color of the Wind," and others.

"New construction to the north entails a 51-unit three-story apartment building and a one-story lobby-dining room linking the existing hotel and new three-story building," according to the architect's report on the project.

"The existing pool area will be demolished in favor of a generously landscaped garden area for the residents. Future plans incorporate a 48-unit independent living apartment building to the south of the current hotel," the report continued.

Township Planning Director Shirley Barney is among township officials glad to see something proposed for the Hilton site. But the currently proposed plan may need some adjusting to win approval.

"When I looked at the site plan, there were a lot of issues that need to be addressed," she said.

Barney said a main concern is the density of the project — the number of living units intended in the proposed buildings. "Overall the planning commissioners thought it was a worthwhile project, a benefit to the area there," Barney said.

The PM Group operates similar facilities in Frankenmuth and Brighton. "The PM Group envisions a Senior Living Campus that offers a unique blend of service catering to the changing needs of Senior Citizens," architects Hobbs and Black wrote in a report to the township.

Smoking Bills address crime committed by young citing the letter, asked the assistant city attorney, "is this now something that's been substantially resolved?"

Cameron Miller responded that police and schools officials still seek a local ordinance. "The probate court has more heinous cases, this is something they view as not as serious," he said.

Commissioner Miller asked if City Manager Steve Walters — in an upcoming meeting with Plymouth Township and Canton Township officials — could determine if these communities are considering such an ordinance.

Canton Public Safety Director John Santomauro reported that since mid-December, 29 tickets have been issued to youth smokers and 23 included a fine as part of the judgment.

After the city administration discusses the issue with officials in Plymouth Township and Canton, the issue is scheduled to return to the City Commission May 6.

Juveniles who commit crimes face tough punishment under recent legislation reported from the House Judiciary committee, said state Rep. Gerald Law, R-Plymouth.

The committee approved two bills, the first of which sets up militaristic "boot camps" for young offenders who can benefit from rehabilitation and discipline. A second measure creates a youth correctional facility for violent juveniles serving adult sentences.

House Bill 4723 institutes youth boot camps, to be established and administered by the Family Independence Agency. The camps will be modeled after military basic training, requiring juvenile offenders to participate in physical labor and exercise, in addition to counseling and education programs.

"We must break the cycle of crime early, while there's still time to turn these young lives around," Law said. "Boot camps will provide misguided youth with the regimentation and leadership they are crying out for, giving them the opportunity to get back on track before it's too late." Young convicts will spend a maximum of 120 days in the boot camp program, with another 120 days of intensive supervision in the community.

Under Senate Bill 681, violent juvenile offenders will be sent to a new youth correctional facility to serve the early years of their adult sentences.

"The average stay for a youth in this facility will be approximately two years," Law said. "After that, the criminal moves to an adult facility to serve out the remainder of the sentence."

Malls award scholarships to area high school seniors

Schostak Brothers recently announced the winners of its annual scholarship awards for graduating high school seniors.

More than $15,000 will be awarded by Schostak Brothers & Company Inc.'s malls to students who plan to further their education after high school.

The winners were announced at a special breakfast meeting at each mall to kick off its to promote the message that malls provide a clean, safe, comfortable and convenient shopping environment.

The scholarship awards were based on the essay question, "How will your college education benefit you and your community?" The essays were judged by a panel of teachers and guidance counselors from participating high schools.

To honor the winners, Wonderland Center and Laurel Park Place malls in Livonia had a scholarship award ceremony. The winners were awarded their prizes on stage and family members, local VIPs including the mayor, principals, and mall management attended.

Besides the scholarship award, special community related events are to be scheduled throughout the year at each mall.

Laurel Park Place mall at Six

Mile and Newburgh will gear much of its community efforts toward supporting the arts. Wonderland Mall at Middlebelt and Plymouth Road will host a variety of fund-raiser events for such organizations as Girl Scouts, YMCA, Burger Center for the autistic, and American Red Cross.

To highlight the "Shop in the Heart of Your Community" campaign brochures have been mailed to surrounding communities giving background information on each mall, community events, directory of stores, special services, and personal safety tips.

NURSING-BOTTLE SYNDROME

Parents of newborns and young children have recently been advised by pediatricians to cut back on their children's overly abundant intake of fruit juices in favor of a more balanced approach featuring more nutritious solid foods. Dentists would also like to add to this recommendation of restricted juice intake by saying that baby bottles containing sugared drinks should not be left in the mouths of children for prolonged periods. All too often, a child is allowed to drift off to sleep with a bottle in his or her mouth. This allows sugared liquids to pool around the teeth to provide for the bacteria that cause tooth decay. As a result, severe decay (first in the upper front teeth, and then in the back teeth of both jaws) may appear in the form of "nursing-bottle syndrome." In addition, if not dealt with, the implications of nursing-bottle syndrome for the health of future permanent teeth could be just as serious.

At LIVONIA VILLAGE DENTAL ASSOCIATES, we see and treat children of all ages. Being that ours is a family dental practice, we enjoy seeing all members of the family. # McCotter protests 'Dem agenda'

By BETH SUNDELA JACHMAN
STAFF WRITER

Wayne County Commissioner Thaddeus McCotter walked out of last week's state of the county address by commission chairman Ricardo Solomon calling the speech political posturing "that bore no relation to the real problems confronting our community."

Solomon's speech included a summary of Wayne County's progress over the past year from a legislative perspective.

The commission's reforms, which included reducing the number of departments and reducing the commission's budget, were among the accomplishments Solomon listed.

An approved $27 million bond issue to build a new youth home, was also cited among the accomplishments.

The commission's goals include strengthening the auditor general's office, a 10-year capital improvement plan, a debt policy and a refocused economic development plan, said Solomon, a Democrat from Detroit.

"The Pollyanna speech constituted political posturing that bore no relation to the real problems confronting our community. Thus, my only option was to leave. I could not tacitly condone the speech by enduring it," McCotter said in a statement issued Thursday after the meeting.

McCotter is a Republican from Livonia. His district also includes Plymouth and Plymouth Township.

Local commissioner Michelle Plawecki, D-Dearborn Heights, who also represents Redford Township and part of Livonia, said she thought the speech accurately reflected what the commission is doing.

Solomon downplayed the incident on Friday, saying it was no big deal and that he is not angry. "I think Commissioner McCotter is a very good commissioner," Solomon said.

McCotter said in his statement that the address was a surprise, but Solomon said all the commissioners should have known the speech was being held.

As part of the speech Solomon introduced each commissioner and listed each commissioner's accomplishments. McCotter was omitted from the introductions.

Solomon said he omitted McCotter because he wanted the commissioners to be present as he introduced them.

"I didn't know why he left. I wanted to introduce him when he came back," Solomon said.

As the meeting was adjourning, commissioner Bruce Patterson, R-Canton Township, said that a minority response from the Republican perspective should have been included. There are three Republicans on the 15-member commission.

Solomon said he hadn't yet come to a conclusion about whether to include a minority response. "I don't know how we're going to deal with that," he said.

A "1995-1996 Legislative Agenda" was presented during Thursday's meeting, which McCotter also criticized. "I repeatedly requested that my name be removed from this document, which is not representative of the needs of our community," McCotter said in a statement.

"This Democratic agenda amounts to nothing more than euphemisms for old enthusiasms - more taxes, more spending, more government. I am not, and will not, be a party to it," he said in the statement.

None of the three Republicans were pictured in the "Legislative Agenda."

Solomon said he is aware of this criticism.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
PLYMOUTH CHARTER TOWNSHIP
PLANNING COMMISSION

TO AMEND TEXT AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND PLYMOUTH CHARTER TOWNSHIP ORDINANCE NO. 83 BY AMENDING ARTICLE XXXII DEFINITIONS, OF SAID ORDINANCE RELATED TO CHURCHES AND LARGE SCALE CHURCHES, AND TO AMEND OTHER ARTICLES TO PROVIDE FOR LARGE SCALE CHURCHES TO BE LOCATED IN THE C-2, IND AND PUD DISTRICTS, SUBJECT TO SPECIAL CONDITIONS.

DATE OF HEARING April 17, 1996
TIME OF HEARING 7:30 P.M.
PLACE OF HEARING PLYMOUTH TOWNSHIP HALL, 42350 ANN ARBOR ROAD

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Planning Commission of Plymouth Charter Township proposes on its own motion to amend Article XXXII, Definitions, as follows:

I. Section 32.2, Definitions, presently has no definition of large scale churches.
Section 32.2 is hereby proposed to be amended to add a new definition as Section 32.2.18.a. as follows:
18.a. CHURCH, LARGE SCALE - A religious institution with a seating capacity of 1,500 people or more in its sanctuary or main area of assembly. A large-scale church may also be characterized by any one or more of the following features: region-serving accessory facilities such as high schools, colleges and seminaries; parking for 500 passenger vehicles or more, one or more buildings 100,000 square feet in floor area or greater, or other features. Large-scale churches are distinguished by their large size of assemblies and resultant traffic surges, large off-street parking lots, retreat and conference centers, and major institutional character. Large-scale churches have negative impacts on single family residential areas because of scale of buildings, parking, traffic and frequency of use, which are different from smaller churches which have traditionally been compatible with single family areas. Because of these impacts, large-scale churches are more compatible with non-residential districts subject to conditions, which minimize the impacts.

II. Section 32.2.18, Definitions, presently reads as follows:
18. CHURCH. A building for the sole purpose of holding religious services.
Section 32.2.18, Definitions, is hereby proposed to be amended to read as follows:
18. CHURCH. A site used for the regular assembly of persons for the conducting of religious services and accessory uses therewith. Such accessory uses may include rectories, living quarters for church ministry and other members of the religious order who carry out their duties primarily on the site, religious education classes, day care, outdoor recreation facilities (unlighted), religious office space, youth centers and others. Rescue missions, tent revivals and other temporary assemblies are not included in this definition.

III. Section 5.2.1, AG Agricultural District, Uses Subject to Special Conditions, presently reads as follows:
1. Public, parochial and private schools including nursery schools, churches, libraries, community buildings, hospitals, convalescent homes, municipal facilities, municipal parks and playgrounds and mortuaries excluding park and ride facilities.
Section 5.2.1 is hereby proposed to be amended to read as follows:
1. Public, parochial and private schools including nursery schools, churches, libraries, community buildings, hospitals, convalescent homes, municipal facilities, municipal parks and playgrounds and mortuaries, excluding park and ride facilities.

IV. Section 6.2.1, R-1-E, R-1-H, R-1-S, R-1 One Family Residential Districts, Uses Subject to Special Conditions, presently reads as follows:
1. Public, parochial and private schools including nursery schools, churches, libraries, community buildings, hospitals, convalescent homes, municipal facilities, municipal parks and playgrounds and mortuaries excluding park and ride facilities.
Section 6.2.1 is hereby proposed to be amended to read as follows:
1. Public, parochial and private schools including nursery schools, churches, libraries, community buildings, hospitals, convalescent homes, municipal facilities, municipal parks and playgrounds and mortuaries, excluding park and ride facilities.

V. Section 7.2.1, R-M Mobile Home Residential Districts, Uses Subject to Special Conditions, presently reads as follows:
1. Public, parochial and private schools including nursery schools, churches, libraries, community buildings, hospitals, convalescent homes, municipal facilities, municipal parks and playgrounds other than park and ride facilities.
Section 7.2.1 is hereby proposed to be amended to read as follows:
1. Public, parochial and private schools including nursery schools, churches, libraries, community buildings, hospitals, convalescent homes, municipal facilities, municipal parks and playgrounds other than park and ride facilities.

VI. Section 8.2.1, B-2 Two Family Residential District, Uses Subject to Special Conditions, presently reads as follows:

County board sets fees for canoe rentals, golf

The rates have been set for canoe rentals on the Rouge River in Hines Park.

Commissioners approved the rates at Thursday's board meeting.

Canoes will rent for $10 for the route from Newburgh Lake to Nankin. The rental fee is for two hours, plus $4 for each extra half-hour. A $20 refundable deposit is also required.

Rates were also set for $10 for the Nankin Lake to Merriman route and for $18 for rentals from Newburgh Lake to Merriman, but those parts of the Rouge won't be open to canoeists yet because of work still to be completed, according to Anastasia M. Pitses, recreation manager for the county's parks division.

A dozen canoes will be available for rental with more on order, she said.

The Newburgh Lake to Nankin Lake route is about 3.5 miles and about an hour-and-a-half canoe for the average canoeist, she said. Canoe rentals are scheduled to begin Saturday, May 4.

Tee fees

Golfers will face increased fees at the county-owned Warren Valley Golf Course after action Thursday.

Wayne County commissioners approved increasing golf fees by $1 during Thursday's regular commission meeting, but some commissioners raised concerns that the scheduled public hearing on the fees hadn't been adequately advertised.

COUNTY BRIEFS

Because of a commission resolution not to advertise in the downtown dailies while their unions are still on strike, the notice was placed in the Detroit Legal News and the Michigan Chronicle, which raised concerns for some commissioners as not reaching enough county residents.

Local commissioner Bruce Patterson, R-Canton Township, was among the no votes on the fee hike.

At Warren Valley Golf Course in Dearborn Heights, the league greens fee for nine holes is increased to $12, the weekday fee for nine holes is $12, the weekday fee for 18 holes is $17.

The fee for junior and senior citizens for nine holes between 6 a.m. and 8 a.m. and 10:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. weekdays is $9, and for 18 holes during the same times the fee is $12.

The weekday twilight (after 6 p.m.) fee is $10, the weekend fee for nine holes is $13, and the weekend fee for 18 holes is $20.

Golf cart rental is $11 for nine holes and is $21 for 18 holes. Golf cart rental for senior citizens is $8 for nine holes and $13 for 18 holes. Golf pull cart rental remains at $3.

More golf

Contracts were approved Thursday to buy Titleist Foot-Joy, Taylor Made and Karston golf equipment for the Warren Valley Golf Course pro shop and that had some commissioners raising questions.

A contract for $10,000 to buy Titleist Foot-Joy golf balls, clubs, gloves and other golf accessories, a contract for $10,000 to buy Taylor Made golf clubs, bags and golf accessories and a $7,000 contract to buy Ping Zing Golf Clubs and other golf equipment and accessories for resale at the Warren Valley Golf Course pro shop were approved Thursday.

Some commissioners questioned buying the equipment from manufacturers located outside of Michigan, but Parks Director Hurley Coleman pointed out these brands of equipment are only manufactured out of state.

Commissioner Bruce Patterson, R-Canton Township, asked if the county had considered privatizing the pro shop, and questions were also raised about the prices of equipment sold at the pro shop.

But Coleman said the county hasn't considered privatizing and that the pro shop's merchandise is appropriately placed in the marketplace.

Noises off

A $583,486 contract to sound insulate houses in the flight paths of Metro Airport in Romulus was approved Thursday.

Work will include noise measuring, engineering and installation services as part of the Residential Sound Insulation Program.

By TIM RICHARD

SEMCOG and Gov. John Engler are going eyeball to eyeball over splitting up road money. The construction season is almost here, and both sides are drawing their weapons.

"We'll either solve the problem or renegotiate," said a hopeful John Amberger, executive director of the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments, a seven-county planning agency. But SEMCOG delegates loaded their weapon by authorizing him to hire a lawyer and sue for a larger share of federal aid. The vote was 26-15.

Engler is using his weapons, too. "He has threatened aid to Detroit Metro Airport (run by Wayne County)," said Michael Duggan, deputy county executive. "He has threatened the deal in Oakland County on Clinton Valley Center land. Mayor (Dennis) Archer has been threatened on state aid to Tiger Stadium.

"I've listened to Brooks Patterson (Republican Oakland County executive), say I'm getting pressured statewide... my career is threatened." Brooks is putting roads ahead of party. Courage is contagious," said Duggan at the March 21 SEMCOG executive committee meeting.

To understand the duel, think of a two-house legislature. Engler is one; SEMCOG the other. Both must agree on identical versions of a bill for it to become law. The Federal Highway Administration has set an April 1 deadline for a deal. Contractors are sending out form letters warning SEMCOG officials to "reconsider your political posturing."

The "bill," in this case, is called TIP, for Transportation Improvement Program. It's a three-year plan for splitting either $1.8 billion or $2.1 billion in federal and state money. The total size depends on whether Engler and the Legislature can agree on $350 million in new fuel taxes. SEMCOG's version gives the Michigan Department of Transportation an 86-14 percent advantage in the first year and the time-honored 75-25 advantage in the second and third years. "The state ought to look long and hard at it," said SEMCOG's Amberger. "It's a workable solution."

MDOT spokesman Louis Lambert disagreed. He said SEMCOG's version leaves nothing for state bridges and safety projects in the two outer years. Supporting Engler, some Republican lawmakers from Macomb, Livingston and western Wayne counties accuse SEMCOG of "vetoing" Engler's plan.

Not so, said John Grubba, Patterson's deputy county executive and former chief of the Oakland Road Commission. "Under federal law, the governor and the metropolitan planning organization (SEMCOG) must agree. ISTE (the federal transportation act) says a plan must be fiscally constrained... no projects to be guessed at," said Grubba, blistering MDOT's Lambert for failing to list the bridge and safety projects it wants.

Grubba said the latest SEMCOG TIP knocks out state bike paths, roadside parks and restroom improvements in the two outer years. "Our roads are going to hell. I'll go for better local roads over toilets," he said, declaring the Engler-MDOT plan "ridiculous, bizarre; it will be sent back by the feds."

How they voted
Supporting the SEMCOG position with its authorization to sue were all of the Wayne County and Detroit delegations, a majority from Livingston County, all of Washtenaw County, all of Detroit and half of Oakland County. Supporting the Engler-MDOT plan were all of Macomb County, half of Oakland and MDOT's Lambert.

All eight delegates from Wayne County voted yes, including County Executive Ed McNamara, Duggan, the executive's staff and suburban officials such as Livonia Councilman Mike McGee.

Oakland County delegates split 3-3. Favoring the SEMCOG plan were Grubba, representing Patterson; Birmingham council member Dante Lanzetta; and Walled Lake Mayor Bill Roberts. Among the no votes were Republican county commissioners David Moffitt of Farmington Hills and Nancy Dingeldey of Wixom and Milford Township Supervisor James Caswell.

Livingston County delegates split 4-1 in favor of SEMCOG's position. Voting yes: Richard Rudnicki, drain commissioner; Gary Cook, intermediate school district; Marjorie Carlon, city-village bloc; and Paulette Skolarus, Genoa Township. Voting no: David Hamilton, a county commissioner.

Projects:
In Wayne County, the SEMCOG plan moves several resurfacing projects forward from 1998 to 1997, including: Beech Daly from Warren to Joy; Cherry Hill from Merriman to Middlebelt; Northville Road from Five Mile to Hines Drive; Plymouth Road from Haggerty to Eckles; Van Born from Merriman to Inkster roads; Venoy from Van Born to US-12; Haggerty from south of Joy to north of Ann Arbor roads; and Seven Mile from east of I-275 to Newburgh.

In Oakland County, the SEMCOG plan restores three "shelved" projects to the 1997 TIP program: Campbell Road from 12 to 13 Mile, reconstruction; Elizabeth Lake Road from Cooley Lake Road to M-59, widen to five lanes; and Maple Road from Hunter to Adams, widen to five lanes.

CORRECTION

A recent Malls & Mainstreets article quoted a retail expert who said there is 20,000-square feet of retail space for each person in the U.S. The figure disturbed William Cook of Cook Real Estate & Research Co., Livonia, who called to report that as a member of the International Council of Shopping Center Research Advisory Task Force he found that figure "high."

"It's more like 18.7-square feet per person," he said. "And that is a 1994 ICSC figure." He also provided this 1994-based retail information: There are 376 shopping centers with more than one million square feet of retail space in the country. There are a total of 40,368 shopping centers in all. Retail sales in shopping centers topped $880.2 billion and generated $36.2 billion in state sales taxes.

BIRMINGHAM'S IMAGE

The Berline Group of Bloomfield Hills introduced a promotional campaign for the city of Birmingham's Principal Shopping District. Area residents have received a four-color, eight page advertisement in the mail touting the city as "The Freshest Downtown Around."

"Birmingham has a unique and very distinctive personality that can't be found in any mall," said Jim Berline. "With the changing retail climate and increased competition, we wanted to convey to the public that Birmingham has something for everyone, from classical and elegant to funky and way-out."

He said posters and flyers around town will complement the direct-mail piece.

ality type. Linda Maynard, Jacobson's vice-president divisional merchandise agreed.

"Our buyers have found that getting fashions for fuller figures is easier today than in past years," she said. "Women who need larger sizes will notice 'look better, feel better' designs of the quality in adjoining departments. At Jacobson's these include labels like Dana Buchman, Tamotsu, Peter Nygard, Lansford-Sport and Louben."

To start an investment wardrobe Dillon made these suggestions:

1. Buy a blazer tailored to perfection. It's the basis of all wardrobes. Good choices for spring might include a coat in red, pink-stripe or daffodil yellow.
2. Next get a long, black skirt with a slit up the side.
3. Now add a short skirt. (To find your-best length, stand before a full-length mirror and move the skirt-up the leg to where it is the most flattering. Have it

- hemmed at that point.)
4. Add a tailored pant.
5. Choose a sweater set, wear it with a "great" belt in printed croc or patent for spring.
6. Select a lace shell or vest-bottomed blouse, worn out.
7. Buy a white or cream linen blouse with an open neck.
8. Add a polka dot blouse.
9. Add a linen-walking short.
10. Have a loose tunic for casual days.

Dillon coordinates the fashion shoots for Big Beautiful Women magazine which marks its 18th anniversary this year with 850,000 subscribers. The spring issue was shot in South Beach, Miami with the clothing of 10 manufacturers across six pages — all available at Jacobson's in April.

Dillon has two grown children and a 3-year-old granddaughter. To relax, she loves to walk and "like all women, I try to watch what I eat."

Bell Creek Park to get face lift

A Corporate Family Picnic Center is close to becoming a reality at Bell Creek Park in Redford Township.

The Wayne County Commission approved a contract with LDS Contractors of Keego Harbor on March 7 for $206,467 to construct and install a handicap accessible picnic center.

Commissioner Michelle Plawcki, D-Dearborn Heights, who also represents Redford Township, said the project has been a long time coming. Bell Creek Park is in "desperate need" of additional facilities, she said.

Plans include improving the restrooms and constructing playground equipment. The work will start this spring and take eight weeks.

Dumping ordinance

Local city and township ordinances haven't worked, so the county is going to take on the problem on its property.

People who dump auto bodies and other debris on county property will be facing penalties under a new ordinance approved March 7.

Unauthorized dumping of scrap and waste materials; auto bodies, tires and parts, construction debris and similar mass litter on county rights of way, park land and drain district property has reached epidemic levels, according to the ordinance.

A person who dumps debris without a permit is guilty of a misdemeanor and faces a fine of up to $500 or 90 days in jail or both. Violators could also be required to reimburse the county for the $60 a day cost of incarceration, or a 90-day jail term would be $5,400.

A $500 reward is also being offered for people who report violations of the ordinance that result in conviction.

Summer Youth Employment Training Program in 1996

Hundreds of thousands of teens will be out on the street all summer if programs aren't funded, according to Vice Chair Kay Beard, D-Westland. "We need representatives and senators," she said. "Believe me this is not a partisan issue."

Commissioner Thaddeus McCotter, R-Livonia, said he didn't support the resolution, saying many available jobs for young people go unfilled. "I don't know if we need government to sponsor jobs," he said.

Commissioner Bruce Patterson, R-Livonia, disagreed. "I believe people should have the opportunity to work," he said.

Residency

Residency requirements, an issue in Lansing these days, raised some emotions among Wayne County Commissioners March 7.

A resolution supporting residency requirements for Wayne County employees was approved after commissioners on both sides of the issue spoke out.

Summer jobs

A plan to eliminate federal funding for the summer youth training program has some county commissioners upset.

The Wayne County Commission on March 7 approved a resolution urging legislation to restore funding for the Title II-B

TASTE BUDS

CHEF LARRY JANES

There's grace in saying thank you

I recently had lunch with a few friends from Canton. We ventured out to The Common Grill in Chelsea, had a delectable brunch and then strolled through town, enjoying temperatures hovering near forty degrees. One of the women commented on how nice it was to have her door opened as we entered and exited the car. I accepted the verbal gratuity and quietly thanked my parents for teaching me some element of manners.

I was raised to respect others, and just as important, to give thanks. The peoples of every religion have from time immemorial said prayers, blessings, and words of gratitude for the food they eat, but these days, you don't see many families bowing their heads at McDonald's or other popular family restaurants.

Last month, at the start of Lent, my parents were the only folks I noticed to be walking around with a gray smudge of ash on their forehead, and it was momma who reminded me to refrain from eating anything with meat on Ash Wednesday. I am not a person of conventional ritual, my rituals tend to be personal and familial, but I do give thanks for my food. I am deeply aware that there are many who do not have enough. When I volunteer to cook, clean, or work at a soup kitchen, I give thanks for my bounty.

When I taste a tomato plucked from my backyard garden, vine-ripened by the sun, chilled by the night air and bursting with juice, I am grateful, and awed by nature and its power. When I can get food without pesticides, I give thanks to conscientious farmers.

When a wait person offers me service that compliments the meal, I am grateful; likewise, when the chef prepares a treat for my tongue, I alert the management.

Lessons to share

I continue, to this very day, to share with my children my wonder and thankfulness at our bounty. I don't want my children to thank me for making them dinner, I simply want them to stop, slow down and savor what it is they are eating, to pause and appreciate it and where it came from rather than stuffing it down simply as fuel, a home version of fast food. Granted, there are days when my daughter utters "shall we say grace?" and everyone screams in unison "GRACE!" But we still take the time. The standard "Bless us oh Lord, for these thy gifts" still remains the most popular prologue to dinner, but occasionally, we go around the table asking each person to say what he or she is thankful for at that very moment.

The neighborhood kids seem to enjoy this version. If children are around when meals are prepared - mine do their homework at the kitchen table, much like I did mine - they may also learn that the ritual of cooking is important, normal, and God forbid, even easy. The dinner table continues to be the place where the Janes Gang has an opportunity to talk, even sometimes about food, about their achievements, hurdles, and the events of the day. Taking time to savor one another, to really listen to the doings, opinions, and emotions of all is a form of mealtime grace. Such expressions of gratitude are hardly prayers but they serve a similar purpose.

Giving thanks

Whether a formal grace is recited or a personal sentiment is offered, anyway you look at it, it's starting a gathering around a table, a table laden with food for which we are grateful. I am proud to say that grace (or the lack of it) is not something that used to be said and done thirty years ago. Last fall, when I attended the National Chili Cookoffs in Little Rock, Ark. a faux cowboy was called to the podium and offered a "cowboy prayer" of thanks.

Last week at an impromptu lunch at the Golden Mushroom in Southfield, I noticed a group of businessmen bow their heads and give thanks immediately after their appetizers were served. Movie stars and rock stars give thanks during their acceptance speech. Even at our church when the collection basket is passed, if there's no money to give, it's suggested that we "blow a kiss" into our hands and offer that as thanks. We must learn to extend grace and make it a part of gracious living.

It doesn't have to be sterling tea sets, fine china and servants, but as expressed in the preparation of meals, with a sense of pleasure, as a gift. Grace is something that is taught and shared. I am grateful that I was taught how to open car doors for others, how to pray, and especially, how to give thanks.

Walnut Cake: Make this cake the star of your Passover meal.

COOKS EMBRACE CHALLENGE OF PASSOVER DESSERTS

BY KEELY WYGONIK
STAFF WRITER

Deciding what to serve for dessert is one of the most difficult decisions for cooks planning Passover menus.

"No flour, no cornstarch, no baking soda or baking powder," explained Susan Friedland, author of "The Passover Table: New and Traditional Recipes for Your Seders and the Entire Passover Week" (HarperPerennial; March 15, 1996, $17). "Baking is definitely a Passover challenge!"

This year, the Jewish Festival of Passover will be observed from sundown on Wednesday, April 3 through sundown on Thursday, April 11. According to the Jewish Community Council, Passover commemorates the liberation of the Jewish people from Egyptian slavery in approximately 1230 B.C., and the resultant exodus from Egypt.

In their haste to leave Egypt, the Israelites did not have time enough to let their dough for bread-baking rise. To this day, unleavened bread is eaten during the eight days of Passover. Certain other foods containing yeast or other leavening agents, such as baking soda and baking powder, are forbidden by Jewish law to be eaten at that time. All leavened products are removed from observant Jewish homes, and matzos (unleavened bread) serve as the staff of life.

The first two nights of Passover are celebrated in Jewish homes with a feast called the Seder. The word Seder means "order" of the service. It is a ceremonial dinner marked by the retelling of the story of the Exodus from Egypt through the use of prayers, songs and ceremonial foods.

"After the Seder a long and heavy meal, fruit salad and macaroons are a good choice for dessert," said Friedland, a lifelong Passover cook, and one of the most influential cookbook editors in the country. During the rest of the week, cakes are welcome.

When considering dessert choices, Friedland suggests - "if the meal is heavy, keep the dessert light. You can't miss with fruit salad. Use whatever fruits look the freshest. Add dried fruits, grapefruit and oranges. It's nice to add citrus because of the juice."

In her cookbook, Friedland has recipes for a Dried Fruit Compote - "It keeps well and tastes good," she said. "It's delicious for dessert, a snack, or at lunch with yogurt or cottage cheese." She's a big fan of fruits, and uses them to add rich flavor to cakes and other desserts. Her Banana Nut Cake recipe contains three very ripe mashed bananas.

"Watch the restrictions, but don't be afraid to experiment," she said. "You can process a pint of strawberries in a blender or food processor with lemon juice and sugar, and use it as a dessert topping. Top apple sauce with a meringue."

"People think they can't do really nice desserts for Passover, but they can," said Marcy Feldman of Huntington Woods. "You can't use flour, but you can use matzo cake meal, which is a good substitute. You can be creative, there are dessert recipes that contain no flour. In 1996 there are kosher for Passover substitutes for baking soda and baking powder so you can use more recipes now than you used to. A tradition used to be to have sponge cake because there was no flour, but now there are other things you can adapt. I serve strawberry mousse because it's special."

Preparing for Passover is a lot of work.

"You clean out all your cupboards, if you are very traditional, and put away all your pots and pans, dishes and utensils. Then you bring out your Passover dishes, utensils and cookware. Everything in the cupboards is replaced with Kosher for Passover foods. What's so ironic in Passover is the festival of freedom, yet to prepare for this holiday we become slaves. But it's important that we remember that we were once slaves, and to appreciate others, and never treat anyone like a slave, or belittle them in any way."

Feldman cautions cooks preparing for their first Passover to make sure the foods they use are Kosher approved for Passover.

"Since the food at Passover can be described in one word: heavy, it was my mother's custom to serve a light, lemony dessert that tantalized the taste buds and delighted the eye," said Dorie Shwedel of Franklin. "I continue to call it Citrone Creme in honor of my German-born parents whose language lilt colored my childhood. An accurate, though pedestrian translation would be lemon-meringue curd. Yuck! I also serve the Citrone Creme in my mother's crystal dessert dishes, which appear only at my Seder table, against a wine grape cluster embroidered ivory cloth which I bought on my honeymoon in Spain 27 years ago. Thus, I have intertwined my mother's tradition with my own."

"She always made a Porcupine cake that was really a loaf sponge cake layered with bittersweet chocolate and wine, covered in chocolate and studded with almonds. A dollop of Citrone Creme on this luxurious cake was dangerously close to being excessive. And why not? Sitting in stupefaction (or was it the four cups of wine), pride and satisfaction in having survived this amazingly labor-intensive revived religious odyssey surrounded by family, kicking cousins, grateful friends, I, like my mother, think excessive is just about perfect."

Celebrate Oscar Night

BY KEELY WYGONIK
STAFF WRITER

Oscar Night at Excalibur Restaurant in Southfield is the next best thing to being there.

"We have a glitzy atmosphere and thought we should do something to celebrate the Academy Awards," said Victor Dazbaz, restaurant manager. "It's black tie optional, but 80 to 90 percent come in black tie. We were surprised."

"Actually the idea was conceived by my wife Karen," said restaurant owner Marty Wilk of Farmington Hills. "We roll out the red carpet and have sky tracking searchlights in front that can be seen in all counties. Many people come in limos."

Oscar Night begins with a five course gourmet dinner. This is Excalibur's fourth Oscar Night, and Wilk and his staff started planning the menu shortly after the Academy Award nominations were announced.

This year we designed the menu with a sense of humor," said Dazbaz. "For instance, our 'Sense and Sensibility' Salad - Organic Greens with Hearts of Palm and Alfalfa Sprouts with Meadow Honey and stone ground mustard vinaigrette - has nothing to do with the movie, but it's a heart-healthy, sensible salad."

Dinner begins with Smoked Scottish Salmon with toast points and garnish to commemorate "Braveheart," and Scallops with Fennel in Parchment Envelope, a special delivery for "The Postman."

The entree relates to "Babe," a comedy based on the children's book, "Babe, the Gallant Pig." No one had the heart to include pork or lamb, so they developed a Farmer's Table Medley - Beef Medallion, Roasted Stuffed Veal Loin, Hickory Grilled Chicken Breast and Corn Fritters with Morel Mushroom Sauce.

To launch the night's entertainment a Chocolate Cheese Mousse with Orange Tang and Grand Marnier Sauce will be served.

Chef Larry shares Janes Gang favorite dishes

See Chef Larry Janes' column on Taste front. Here are a few recipes that we frequently use at the Janes Gang house. Something the entire family will enjoy and be able to give thanks for!

CHICKEN GRAPE SALAD

2 cups cooked chicken, diced
3 ribs celery, diced fine

1 cup seedless grapes, cut in half
1/2 cup toasted pine nuts or almonds
3/4 cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
2 tablespoons dijon styled mustard
salt and pepper to taste
In a large bowl, combine all ingredients. Toss to mix well. Cover and place in the refrigerator for at least 30 minutes before serving. Serves 4-5.

Chef's secret: We cut the calories by using low fat mayonnaise or fat-free sour cream!

SESAME CHEESE MUFFINS

1 1/2 cup prepared reduced calorie biscuit mix (i.e. Bisquick)

1 cup grated cheddar cheese
1/2 cup chopped onion
1 tablespoon olive oil
1 egg, beaten
1/2 cup skim milk
2 tablespoons toasted sesame seeds

Combine the biscuit mix and half the grated cheese and mix well. Sauté onion in olive oil until tender. Add onion mixture and egg and milk to biscuit-cheese mixture. Stir only until dry ingredients are moistened. Fill prepared muffin pans with 1/2 of the batter. Sprinkle muffins with remaining cheese and remaining sesame seeds. Bake in a preheated 400 degree oven for 15-20 minutes or until done. Makes about 1 dozen.

Great with a good salad, tuna casserole or something light.

LEMON CHICKEN

4 chicken breasts, skinned
1 whole lemon
1/3 cup flour
1 1/2 teaspoon sweet Hungarian paprika
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 cup chicken broth

Grate peel from the lemon and set aside, cut lemon in half and squeeze the juice over the chicken pieces, making sure each piece is rubbed with the juice. Remove chicken and reserve juice. Shake chicken in a paper bag with the flour, paprika and salt. Melt butter or margarine in a skillet and brown chicken, about 3-4 minutes on the skinned side. Transfer chicken to a baking dish. Combine reserved lemon juice and chicken broth. Pour over the chicken. Cover baking pan with foil and bake in a preheated 350 degree oven until the chicken is tender, about 40-45 minutes. Serves 4. Great when served with cooked rice or steaming hot noodles.

New Dual-Acting Product Relieves The Pain Of Arthritis

Arthritis refers to more than 100 different diseases that can affect the joints as well as other parts of the body, causing pain, swelling, redness and loss of motion in the affected area. These symptoms may make it difficult or painful to move around or accomplish daily tasks. At this point, there is no known cure for most forms of arthritis, but there are a variety of ways to manage arthritis pain including medications, physical therapy, exercise, hot and cold treatments, joint protection methods and external analgesics.

Two proven external pain relievers

External analgesics - creams and gels that are rubbed on at the site of arthritis pain - are pain relievers known for their ability to provide quick relief that may not always last long. Menthacin™ is a new external analgesic that helps to overcome this problem. It has a dual-acting formula that combines two proven external pain relievers - menthol and capsaicin. Menthol, derived from a type of mint plant, is a common ingredient found in many popular external analgesics which works fast to relieve pain.

Capsaicin is derived from a type of pepper plant and its pain-relieving properties have been known for hundreds of years. It is thought that capsaicin stimulates the depletion of a powerful neurotransmitter known as Substance P. Substance P helps "communicate" the sensation of pain from its site to the brain. By depleting Substance P, the pain message is diffused and the sensation of pain is lessened or eliminated.

Medical research indicates that capsaicin is most effective with continued use and usually requires repeated application in a regular regimen to reach peak effectiveness. The result is long lasting pain relief.

Fast acting, long lasting pain relief

There are other products on the market that contain capsaicin or capsaicin oleoresin. Pain relief with these products may not be immediate. Menthacin's dual acting formula - with menthol and capsaicin - offers you both immediate and long lasting arthritis pain relief.

If you are among the millions searching for a way to manage arthritis pain consider the newest breakthrough to effective relief...Menthacin™.

April best time to enjoy asparagus

April is the peak month for asparagus — the time when prices are lowest and quality is highest. It's the time to enjoy the distinctive, succulent flavor of asparagus and benefit from its riches of vitamins A and C, iron and potassium.

Fresh, firm stalks with compact closed tips are the best to buy. Look for round, smooth, straight stems with rich green color, and choose spears of uniform thickness to ensure even cooking. At home, trim one-quarter inch from the spears, wrap them in paper towels and place in a paper bag, keep them refrigerated in your vegetable crisper and use within three days.

When cooking asparagus, snap off the woody ends where they naturally break. Or, trim away the tough skin by peeling so you can use more of the stalk. Boil, steam or stir-fry asparagus until tender-crisp. To cook thick asparagus, stand stems upright in two inches of boiling, salted water in the bottom of a double boiler with the top inverted — so the stems boil while the tips steam.

To roast asparagus, arrange in a baking dish, drizzle with olive oil and lemon juice and toss. Bake at 425 degrees F. for 12 to 15 minutes.

Linguine with Asparagus is a recipe from the American Institute for Cancer Research.

LINGUINE WITH ASPARAGUS AND RED PEPPER

- 1 pound linguine or other pasta
- 1 pound asparagus, cut in 2-inch lengths
- 1 large sweet red pepper, cut in thin strips
- 2 tablespoons olive oil
- 2 tablespoons low-fat chicken stock or water
- 3 cloves garlic, minced

Asparagus: Linguine with Asparagus and Red Pepper provides plenty of protein and carbohydrates, but very little fat.

- 1/2 cup freshly grated Parmesan
- 1/2 cup chopped fresh parsley
- 1 teaspoon dried basil or 1/4 cup chopped fresh basil

In a large pot of boiling water, cook the pasta until it is tender but firm. In the top of a pasta cooking pot or steamer, steam the asparagus and red pepper for 3 minutes or until tender-crisp. Drain.

Meanwhile, in a small saucepan or microwaveable dish, combine the oil, stock and garlic; cook over medium heat for 1 minute or microwave at High power for 20 seconds or until the garlic is tender.

Drain the pasta and return it to the cooking pot; toss with the cooked asparagus, pepper, oil mixture, cheese, parsley and basil. Serve immediately.

Salt and pepper to taste
1 sheet of parchment or baking paper

Saute scallops and fennel in butter for 2 minutes. Add dill sprigs, shallots and lemon zest. Salt and pepper to taste. Stir well.

Parchment envelope: Cut baking papers into 4 quarters. Brush with butter. Spoon scallop mixture on one side of the paper. Fold over the other half. Roll the 3 open sides until well sealed. When done properly the envelope should be a 1/2 moon shape.

Brush outside of envelope with butter. Bake in 350 degree oven for 5 to 8 minutes. Serves 4.

WALNUT CAKE

- 9 eggs, at room temperature, separated
- 1 cup sugar
- 2 cups walnuts, ground to a powder
- 2 tablespoons matzo cake meal
- 1 teaspoon pure vanilla extract
- 1/8 teaspoon salt

Preheat the oven to 350 degrees F. Dust a 10-by-3 1/2-inch loose-bottom metal tube pan or two 9-by-3-inch loaf pans with a little extra cake meal and set aside.

With an electric mixer, beat the egg yolks until pale in color. Beat in the sugar 2 tablespoons at a time, beating well after each addition.

Combine the nuts with the matzo cake meal. Stir into the yolks along with the vanilla.

Beat the egg whites with the salt until they are stiff but not dry. Fold them gently and carefully into the batter.

Turn the batter into the prepared pan(s) and smooth the top. Bake for 30 to 40 minutes, or until the cake shrinks away from the side of the pan(s) and a cake tester inserted in the center of the cake(s) comes out clean. Let cool in the pan(s) on a rack. Makes one 10-inch tube cake or two 9-by-3-inch loaf cakes; serves 10

BANANA NUT CAKE

- Vegetable oil
- 1 1/4 cups ground toasted almonds
- 7 eggs separated
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 3 very ripe bananas, mashed (1 1/2 cups)
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon grated lemon peel
- 3/4 cup potato starch

Preheat the oven to 350 degrees

F. Lightly grease a 10-by-3 1/2-inch tube pan or 10-inch spring form pan with vegetable oil and dust with a few tablespoons of ground almonds. make sure all surfaces have a coating of oil and nuts, or the cake will be difficult to remove from the pan.

Using an electric mixer, beat the yolks until they are thick and pale in color, about 3 minutes. Add the sugar and lemon juice and beat for about 5 minutes, or until the mixture makes a continuous ribbon when the beaters are lifted.

Stir in the bananas, salt, lemon peel, and almonds. Sift in the potato starch. Beat for a minute or two.

Beat the egg whites until they hold soft peaks. Stir one fourth of them into the batter until no trace of white remains. Gently fold the remaining whites into the batter.

Pour the mixture into the prepared pan to within 1/2-inch of the top; smooth the top. Bake for 30 to 40 minutes, or until a skewer comes out clean and the top is nicely browned. Let the cake cool completely on a rack; it will sink as it cools. Makes 1 10-inch tube cake or round cake; serves 8 to 10.

Recipe from: "The Passover Table: new and Traditional Recipes for Your Seders and the Entire Passover Week" (Harper/Perennial: March 15, 1996, $17) by Susan R. Friedland.

CITRONE CREME

Separate 5 eggs — keep whites at room temperature

- 1 cup sugar
- 2 lemons
- 1 orange

Squeeze juice from lemons and orange. Remove zest from one lemon.

Add sugar to egg yolks in saucepan and beat. Add juices, bringing mixture to a boil. Beat egg whites into stiff peaks at high speed. Gently fold lemon curd and zest into egg whites.

Chill. Serve with strawberries, sponge cake or carrot cake.

Beef pockets make great kid cuisine

As any parent can testify, kids have favorite foods they would eat every day if given the chance. Standards such as macaroni and cheese, Sloppy Joes and beef tacos. ON the other hand, parents also know that serving something different now and then can add spark to meals and make them more fun. One way to have it both ways is to put kid-pleasing foods in new packages, like three-way cheesy beef pockets from the Michigan Beef Industry Commission.

A super family supper, these easy-to-make pockets are filled with two favorites - ground beef and Cheddar cheese - and the family's choice of barbecue or taco sauces. Or, give the beef filling an Italian accent with mozzarella cheese and pizza sauce. Using canned refrigerated pizza dough makes the crust super-simple and the filling is a snap with versatile ground beef and a few on-hand ingredients.

The kids will want to help, and they can. With adult supervision, older children can brown the ground beef and onion, then, after the mixture is drained and seasoned, they can sit in the cheese and sauce. Little hands can take part, too. Give them the task of unrolling the pizza dough, they also can help form the pockets, which bake to golden brown in about 14 minutes (just enough time to supervise the kids in a little kitchen clean-up). Serve the pockets with crunchy carrot sticks and fresh fruit.

THREE-WAY CHEESY BEEF POCKETS (PREPARATION AND COOKING TIME: 40 MINUTES)

- 1 pound ground beef
- 1/2 cup chopped onion
- 2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 1 cup (4 ounces) shredded cheddar cheese
- 3/4 cup prepared barbecue or taco sauce
- 2 cans (10 ounces each) refrigerated pizza crust

Heat over to 425 degrees. In large nonstick skillet, brown ground beef and onion over medium heat 8-10 minutes or until beef is no longer pink, breaking up into 3/4-inch crumbles. Remove from heat, pour off drippings, season with salt and pepper, stir in cheese and sauce.

On lightly floured surface, unroll each can of pizza dough; cut each into quarters. Spoon approximately 1/3 cup beef mixture onto center of each, bring together 4 corners of dough over filling, pinching to seal. Loosely close straight edges of dough to form square-shaped pockets. (Not necessary to seal edges completely.) Carefully transfer to ungreased baking sheet.

Bake in 425 degree oven 12-14 minutes or until golden brown.

Makes 8 sandwiches. Kids like to cook and depending on their ages and abilities, they can help with family meals to help parents keep their cool, though, and to make sure that time spend with kids in the kitchen is safe and hassle-free keep these tips in mind.

Cooking smart with kids

•Choose an easy recipe. Read through the recipe with the kids first, then you assemble the utensils and ingredients, or ask older children to help.

•Give little ones a simple task. They'll love in and will feel part of the activity.

•Remind children to turn the handle of the skillet or saucepan toward the enter of the range so it will not catch on anything or tip over.

•Teach kids to choose thick, dry mitts or pot holder for putting something in or taking it out of the oven.

•Make sure the use of knives, ovens and appliance is supervised by an adult.

Having no-cook fun. Kids also can be creative in the kitchen without cooking. Here are some ideas for wholesome, no-cook foods for kids.

Super family supper: These easy-to-make pockets are filled with two favorites - ground beef and Cheddar cheese - and the family's choice of barbecue or taco sauces.

It won't be long now.

Seems like the winter and the snow and the freezing temperatures have hung around just too long. Just when we think we're home free, we're shoveling and slogging through white stuff!
 But cheer up.
 The winter winds will soon be over. It won't be long before we're out in the warm spring sunshine taking stock of what needs to be done to the house and yard. Is it time to paint inside and out? Does the roof seem to be missing a few shingles? Are those gutters sagging?
 Do we need new windows?
 Patio furniture?
 Or maybe you're ready for that deck you've always wanted.
 On Thursday, April 4, you'll be able to shop for all kinds of home improvement services and merchandise in our annual Spring Home Improvement supplement.
 Look for it.
 And until we turn the corner on March, think spring!

Comedy 'Flirts with Disaster'

Mel Coplin (Ben Stiller) is on a mission. Though he loves his wife, Nancy (Patricia Arquette), and their new baby son, he feels life is incomplete. What's missing is knowing the two people who brought him into this world, his biological parents.

Enter Tina Kalb (Tea Leoni), a psychologist from the agency where Mel was adopted. Tina is a former dancer. Her intent: to reunite Mel with his parents while videotaping the experience for her own research. The problem is, Tina seems interested in more than just research.

Meanwhile, Mel's adoptive parents are worried. Why isn't their son satisfied with the mother and father who raised him? What, exactly, is he looking for, and will he make it home in time for Dad's 60th birthday?

To answer those questions, Mel, Nancy, Tina and the baby set out on a cross-country trek that brings them more surprises than they bargained for. Clearly, Mel and company are "Flirting With Disaster." Miramax Films' new comedy opening Friday at the AMC Old Orchard and John R. Star theaters.

Also starring are Alan Alda, Mary Tyler Moore, George Segal, Lily Tomlin, Richard Jenkins, and Josh Brolin.

"I think the film's about how

the pictures we have in our minds never really line up with the relationships we have in our lives," said writer/director Russell. "That's the kinds of a human foible that's very fertile ground for comedy."

Russell based some of what happens in "Flirting With Disaster" on his own real-life experiences. "My sister was adopted and had gone through this process of searching for her parents a couple of years ago. And I just combined the comic twists of that experience with my own experiences."

One thing that is constant, says Stiller and Arquette, is the rich humor that permeates every relationship in the film. "I read the script, and I just loved it. Just laugh out loud funny," Stiller says.

Author visits Southfield

E. Lynn Harris, author of "Invisible Life" and "Just As I Am," will visit The Truth Bookstore at Northland Mall, 21500 Northwestern Highway, Southfield, from 7-9 p.m. Wednesday, March 27, to sign copies of his new book "And This Too Shall Pass." For more information, call (810) 557-4824.

The Atlanta, Ga., resident is a former computer sales executive with IBM and an honors graduate of the University of Arkansas-Fayetteville. In 1991,

Mr. Harris made a career change that resulted in the best-selling novel "Invisible Life."

This week at Borders Books and Music, 43075 Crescent Boulevard, Novi, Allene Boughton of Plymouth's Old Village Yarn Shop invites knitters and purloers of all skill levels to join her knitting circle at 7 p.m. Wednesday, March 27. Borders book discussion group will be held at 7 p.m. Thursday, March 28. For more information, call (810) 947-0780.

Bananas are an ideal fruit

BY LOIS M. THIELKE
SPECIAL WRITER

Bananas have a distinctive package, a long history, and are one of the most popular fruits in the United States. Americans consume an average of 25 plus pounds per person a year.

Bananas are actually a type of berry and the banana tree is botanically classified as an herb. Each plant consists of the very large leaves and tiny flowers that become bananas. These clusters of bananas are called hands with each banana called a finger. One of these plants produces seven to nine hands.

The best assets the banana has is that they are nutrient dense, easy to digest, not messy to eat or store and come prepackaged for you. Bananas have more potassium by weight than any other fruit except avocados which has fat. Potassium is important to regulate heart-beat and in older people may help to reduce the risk of fatal strokes and is vital for controlling the body's fluid balance. They contain less water than most other fruit so their carbohydrate content is higher and are quick a energy snack. They also contain come vitamin A, niacin, iron and protein. One medium banana supplies about 100 calories.

Cavendish is the variety generally found in the supermarket and readily available. Sometimes you can find manzano (also called apple or finger bananas), at the supermarket or specialty store. The manzano turn black when ripe and are a smaller size. Saba and Brazilian are straighter, medium size and a little tart. Red bananas turn purple as they ripen and are very sweet tasting. Plantains are large and green with a high starch content. Plantains are larger than other bananas and are usually cooked and served like a vegetable. Plantains are high in beta carotene which is different than a regular banana. They may look bruised but if you feel them and they are firm with skin intact, they are fine. Green plantains have a starchy flavor. A fully ripe black plantain will taste the most like a banana. A green plantain will turn yellow-brown within one week and then black a week later. A ripe plantain peels easily but unripe they are harder to deal with. Wrap ripe plantains in plastic and keep in the refrigerator for at least three days.

Plantains can be fried, added to stir-fries, soups, stews or baked. To bake green plantains, break the skin with a knife or fork, bake at 400 degrees about 40 minutes. They have a sweet flavor like a winter squash or sweet potato.

As hard as it is to believe, for peak flavor and small seeds in a banana, it must be picked green.

Even in the tropics they are ripened off the plant. Ripen green bananas uncovered or keep in a perforated paper bag and store at room temperature. Ripe, they will be good for a couple days, you can refrigerate them to slow the ripening but don't refrigerate unripe bananas, the cold stops the ripening cycle and it will not resume again at room temperature. The cold will darken the skin but the flavor and texture will hold up for a few days.

The taste and texture are related to the stage or ripeness. The carbohydrates in green bananas are starches that convert to sugar as it ripens. A very green banana is hard, rather dry and starchy, with an astringent taste. Choose firm plump bananas still in a bunch that have no signs of decay. Bananas bruise easily so handle with care.

When using sliced bananas, a citrus juice needs to be added to them to keep the color or they will darken. Lemon, lime or orange juice help to slow browning. Heat makes the banana taste stronger and smell sweeter. Bananas can be grilled or baked for an unusual taste. Bananas are always a good dessert or snack just plain. Strawberries and bananas are one of the most popular cereal toppers to start the day. Bananas added to milkshakes or malts or added to yogurt or skim milk make a breakfast snack.

Citrus juices and spices such as cinnamon, nutmeg or vanilla enhances a banana's flavoring. Over-ripe bananas can be added to the ever popular muffin or quick bread recipe. A hot weather treat is a frozen banana, the skin can be left on it and then frozen or peel, dip in melted chocolate and then freeze. If you bought too many bananas and they are getting over ripe, peel, mash, add a little lemon juice and freeze in the quantity you need for cookies, muffins or bread. Three medium bananas mash down to about one cup.

Bananas are ideal and packaged perfect for the hand.

Use salad bar savvy

"Restaurants, fast food establishments and even many grocery stores have salad bars for a quick meal nowadays. Sometimes, however, the salad bar scene doesn't look too inviting if careless patrons have been there before you," said Sylvia Treitman, home economist for the Oakland County Michigan State University Extension Service.

"Using a clean plate for each refill you take is essential to protect spread of germs," said Treitman. "When you use a clean plate this limits the chance of spreading germs."

Here are some more helpful tips:
Use serving utensils provided, never use your fingers.

Keep head and face outside of protection frames to prevent spread of germs.

Help young children to fill plates or do it for them, teach them not to touch food with fingers.

Try to keep from dripping salad dressings on other areas, notify the management when the area is messy.

Make sure that the cold food is cold.

Make sure the hot food is very hot.

Madonna splits

The trip west hasn't been easy for Madonna University's baseball team, but it has had its moments.

The Fighting Crusaders followed a 4-1 loss to Pacific Lutheran on Wednesday with a 7-2 triumph over PLU Thursday in San Diego. The split gave Madonna a 7-12 record; PLU is 7-4.

In Thursday's 7-2 win, Dan Pdyn improved his record to 3-1 with seven strong innings. He surrendered a two-run home run to PLU's Josh Pitts in the fourth, but nothing else the rest of the way. Pdyn was relieved by Jason Dubey in the eighth, with freshman Joel Fabris pitching the ninth.

Madonna trailed 2-1 after Pitts' homer, but scored in four-consecutive innings to turn the tide. Back-to-back doubles by Jason Renkiewicz (from Livonia Churchill) and Kurt Wilczynski delivered three runs in the seventh inning to put the game away.

Peter Quinn (Redford Thurston) led the Crusaders with three hits. Renkiewicz, Wilczynski, Eric Marcotte (Plymouth Canton) and Tim Kasubowski each had two hits.

In Wednesday's loss to PLU, Madonna was limited to three hits by Mike Olson, who went the first 4.3 innings before giving way to Jim Wellman. Wellman got the win, benefitting from a three-run PLU rally in the sixth.

Madonna led 1-0 after five innings when Danny Desmond started PLU's rally with a one-out double. He scored on Garrett Suehiro's single to tie it at 1-1; Mat Baxter followed with a two-run homer.

Craig Benedict (Plymouth Canton) started and took the loss for the Crusaders, dropping his record to 0-3. Benedict pitched six innings, surrendering three runs before being relieved by Jason Dubey in the seventh.

1st-year coach aims Salem toward lofty goals

BY C.J. RISAK
SPORTS EDITOR

Most coaches faced with this type of first-year problem would swallow hard and cope with it.

Well, maybe not too hard. After all, take command of a team that advanced to the state championship game the previous year, knowing almost everyone is back, and you can't expect much sympathy.

Doug Landefeld, who takes over for the retired Ken Johnson as Plymouth Salem's girls soccer coach, doesn't expect any. He'll gladly assume the pressure that comes with high expectations.

A small price to pay, indeed.

"We need to compete for the state title," he said. "The kids came in with that attitude, and I came in with that attitude."

The Rocks have some key personnel to replace, but not enough to convince anyone they won't make a serious run at a Class A championship once again.

They made it to the final last year, and did so rather easily, outscoring six state playoff opponents 22-7. Their only real challenge was a 2-1 triumph over Plymouth Canton in the district semifinals.

At least until the championship match. Birmingham Seaholm's talent and experience overwhelmed Salem, pinning a 4-2 defeat on the Rocks.

The major losses from that Salem team are Kelly Lukasik, who spent last fall playing for the University of Michigan, and Susan Parrish, who anchored the Rocks' defense.

Back are senior Mari Hoff, Salem's leading scorer; sophomore Mia Sarkesian, a stalwart in the midfield; senior Julie Buczek, a two-year starter at keeper; defenders Andrea Sudik, Amber Rabeau, Julie Katcherian, Missy Simons; and mid-

Canton's talent is top-notch

BY C.J. RISAK
STAFF WRITER

Most of the work has been indoors, what with the weather, and yet Don Smith believes he has a pretty good grasp on what kind of team his Plymouth Canton soccer squad will be.

And so far, he likes what he sees. Last season, the Chiefs posted a 12-6-1 record, including a regular-season win over Plymouth Salem. That was the good news.

The bad: Canton finished behind Livonia Churchill in the Western Lakes Activities Association's Western Division, then lost their state district opener to Salem. And the Rocks? They advanced all the way to the state final before losing to Birmingham Seaholm.

The opposition, particularly in the WLAA, isn't expected to be any easier this year. But Smith's Chiefs won't be easy, either. Not with their returning nucleus.

"It's going to be a nice season," Smith predicted. "Nobody better take us for granted."

A fair warning. For Canton, its prospects start in goal with Sarah Warnke. Now a senior, Warnke is entering her third season as a starter. Backing her up is sophomore Kristin Lukasik.

"Sarah's one of the best keepers around," said Smith. "She doesn't always get the recognition she deserves. But she's very good in the air, and big and strong."

Of course, it helps to have a tough defense in front of you - which Warnke does, with seniors Kelly West and Kristie Drinkhahn. West is in her fourth year as a varsity starter on defense, with Drinkhahn entering her third season as the starting stopper. Warnke, West and Drinkhahn will serve as tri-captains.

Other projected starters include Jill Rahnert, a junior marking back who broke into the starting lineup last season; and sophomore Elisa Esper, a "big, strong girl" who will start at sweeper.

"We've got size back there," said Smith. "And they're quick, too."

Other defenders include Angie

Wayne just can't keep up with Lathrup

BY BRAD EDSOES
STAFF WRITER

If only Wayne Memorial could only take back the final six minutes of Friday's state Class A boys basketball semifinal.

The Zebras turned in a sterling performance for nearly 3/4 quarters before Southfield-Lathrup roared back for a 77-67 victory before 8,496 fans at the Breslin Center in East Lansing.

The Chargers (23-3) showed why their victory over No. 1 Detroit Pershing in the regional final was no fluke by coming up with the big plays and big stops down the stretch.

In the end, it was the combined play of Lathrup's towering front line - 6-foot-9 Reggie Butler (19 points and 12 rebounds), 6-8 Duke signee Mike Chappell (20 points and nine rebounds) and 6-5 Harold Allison (13 points, nine rebounds and five blocks) - that made the difference.

Junior sharpshooter Greg Grays, who was lukewarm for almost three quarters, also heated up down the stretch. He scored 12 of his team-high 23 points to spark a 26-12 Lathrup fourth-quarter run.

"Our scouting report said he (Grays) would take a lot of shots, but he was also one of their better shooters, the streaky kind," Wayne coach Chuck Henry said. "He was two for nine in the first half and I wished he had stayed that way. But he's a competitor, and he wanted the ball. He did a nice job when they needed it."

Ironically, Wayne, whose tallest starter is 6-4, was able to hang with the Chargers despite the lopsided size disadvantage.

Six straight points by Wayne's Richard Johnson, including a two-hand jam off a nifty inside feed from Lavelle Guess with five seconds left in the third quarter momentarily gave Wayne a 55-48 advantage.

But the tide quickly changed as Grays nailed a 28-foot three-pointer just before the buzzer sounded to pull the Chargers to within four, 55-51.

That might have been the turning point, Lathrup coach Bob Herm said. "Instead of being down seven, we were down four and it gave us a fighting chance. It couldn't have come at a better time. It's the first time he's done that on the varsity, but I remember him making about four of those when he was on the JV."

Henry also agreed with his coaching counterpart on "the shot."

"That had a big impact on the game when he (Grays) hit the long 'three,'" he said. "It helped their surging crowd and maybe it made their half-court trap a little tougher. They got the momentum and we couldn't turn them back. They're big and quick and we were not doing a good job of attacking. For whatever reason we failed to execute."

However, Wayne senior guard Jameel Wooden (24 points) hit his sixth triple of the game to make it 58-51 to open the final period, but during a 10-0 Lathrup spurt, Wayne committed four straight turnovers.

Grays' acrobatic layup gave Lathrup a 59-58 lead with 5:11 to play. The Chargers then came up with a steal and Allison dunked off a Grays pass for a three-point advantage.

"I thought we outplayed them the first three quarters, but it seemed like in the fourth quarter we let our guard down," said Guess, whose pair of free throws cut the deficit to 63-61 with 3:39 left.

Lathrup then answered with six unanswered points, including a pair starts the 1996 softball season Sunday, April 14 with league play. A 14-game season costs $495 per team (plus refundable forfeit fee and cost for umpires). Men's, women's and co-ed leagues are offered. Call (313) 483-5600, ext. 103 for details.

The CSC Tournament season begins Friday, April 12 with the Early Bird Tournament. There's a four-game guarantee in the round-robin tournament, for men's, women's and co-ed teams. Entry fee is $125 (umpires additional). Call (313) 483-5600 ext. 103 or 104 for more information.

The Diamond at Knights of Columbus in Farmington Hills is accepting entries for the '96 season. There are openings in men's leagues Monday through Friday evenings and on Sunday. Openings are also available for morning leagues on Tuesday and Thursday.

There will be a 14-game schedule and playoffs. Entry fee is $500 plus an $8 per game umpires' fee. There is no residency requirement.

The Diamond is located at 21900 Middlebelt between Eight and Nine Mile. For further information or to enter, call (313) 255-7082 or (313) 563-9176. Registration closes April 5.

March 10 at the Wayne Ice Arena.

It was the second consecutive state crown for the Knights (54-12-3 overall), who won the Pee Wee A crown a year ago, made their third straight trip to the finals. They were runners-up in the Squirt division two years ago.

The Knights, coached by Dan Lerg, Bill Smith and Ron Griffin, will now play in the national tournament, beginning April 11 in Mentor, Ohio. It is the first team from the Livonia Hockey Association in 26 years to play in the national tournament. They have outscored their opponents this year by an average of 5.5 goals-for to 1.5 goals against.

There's more, too. It all adds up to a very formidable team. "They look good," said Landefeld, who last year coached at of Butler free throws with 1:54 remaining to clinch the victory.

"They (Lathrup) tried that trap once before (in the first half) and it seemed we walked right through it," said Guess, the Zebras' star guard who finished with 15 points and seven assists. "It was really hard to see when you'd take the ball to the corner."

"We had faced that before, but these guys were more mobile and quick, and their guards were tall, too. Once you'd get past somebody, then Butler came at me."

The 250-pound Butler, who was averaging only seven points, certainly made his presence known.

"We tried several different guys on him," Henry said. "He's most effective when the ball is missed and it comes off to him. We had a difficult job of blocking him out."

Wayne had a total of 11 three-pointers, over half coming from Wooden, whose deadly outside shooting enabled Wayne to lead 17-13 after one quarter and 36-35 at halftime.

Johnson, a 6-2 senior forward, added 14 points and 10 rebounds. Lavelle Guess came off the bench to score eight, including two treys.

"Our scouting report said they shoot terrific from the outside," Herm said. "That's a good ballclub. It plays good defense and runs a controlled offense."

"Our trap (1-3-1) made it tougher to try to skip a pass and we were looking to pick it off."

The victory by Lathrup put the Chargers in their first-ever state final Saturday against Saginaw.

Meanwhile, the loss ended Wayne's most successful season in nearly 51 years. The Zebras finished 23-3 overall.

"I'm very proud of the kid's season," Henry said. "We've got some key players back next year."

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

The Downriver Community Conference/Southeastern Michigan Substance Abuse Services will hold its first Public Hearings on Tuesday, April 9, 1996, at:

DCUSEMSAS at 9:00 a.m. 15100 Northline Road, Room 202 Southgate, MI 48195-2492 and Monroe Board of Commissioners Chambers at 2:00 p.m. Monroe County Courthouse 125 E. Second Street Monroe, MI 48161 to hear testimony regarding the FY 1996-97 allocation of public funds for substance abuse services in Monroe and Wayne Counties, excluding the City of Detroit. Interested parties should prepare written/verbal testimony for inclusion in the public record. A list of licensed substance abuse programs that are up for renewal in the next 12 months will be available for review and input.

Lebbon, a sophomore with varsity experience; Emily Stachura, a junior who also has varsity experience; Lisa Erickson, a sophomore; and Cheron Rice, a freshman.

Canton's midfield may best define the team: lots of depth, lots of experience.

The seniors are Julie Majewski and Dawn Kooztz, both four-year varsity players; senior Becky Vachow, a three-year varsity team member; juniors Jessica Bradley and Emile Mejer, both with two years of varsity experience; junior Beth Knight, who ran track the two previous years; and freshmen Lisa Tomasso and Kelly Connell.

"They're all pretty even," said Smith. "I know some teams that would like to have my second group as starters."

Canton's weakness last season was scoring goals. With two of the team's top three scorers returning, each with an additional year of experience, that should change.

Jenny Parviainen leads the forwards. A junior entering her third season as a starter, she scored 12 goals and had 10 assists in '95.

Smith is moving Melissa Marzolf, a sophomore, to forward from the midfield. A year ago, Marzolf scored 10 goals and collected 12 assists.

Backing them up is Jennell Cobor, a freshman, and Lisa Reissenweber, a sophomore who played on the junior varsity last year.

The team will fit Smith's style, that's certain. He likes using a lot of players. "We've got a good group of 22 players, and there's not much difference between them," said Smith.

"We're pretty well-balanced. I think we'll be a better scoring team than last year. The girls have a bit more experience, we're a little faster, we move the ball a bit better."

"I think the midfield will be stronger, too. There's a lot of experience."

Salem, Livonia Stevenson, Livonia Churchill and Northville figure to be the top challengers in the WLA. So guess what? Canton is supposed to open its season Wednesday at Stevenson, then - after a non-league match against state-ranked Troy Athens next Friday - the Chiefs host Northville April 1.

Quality-driven Cadillac STS wins points for innovation

By Anne Fracassa
Avanti NewsFeatures

When I started doing test drives for newspapers, I hated Cadillacs. All of them. Not one of them pleased me. The used to be clunky boats, as far as I was concerned. They were cars only an elderly person would buy.

But that perception started to change about five years ago. Softer lines, sportier and more contemporary styling, better technology and stronger engines crept into most of the brand's lineup, which gave it a shot in the arm and made people take notice that Cadillac wasn't just for older folks any more.

The 1996 Cadillac Seville Touring Sedan — STS — is no exception in the Cadillac brand's new image.

It's been updated for a fresher interior, sportier styling a better ride and an even stronger (if that's possible) Northstar system.

Let's talk about the Northstar system first. You can't buy a Cadillac without the Northstar and that's the best news to come out this luxury carmaker ever.

ROAD TEST
By Anne Fracassa

Northstar and perform it does. The zero-to-60 time is 7.3 seconds. There's perfect control of that power as well.

The Northstar has been around now for around three years, so its reliability, durability and efficiency has been proven. It's what Cadillac, down the road, will be known for.

The ride and comfort of the STS, is, well, Cadillac quality. The STS glides through the road like a fine yacht — no pun intended. It's smooth ride and wonderfully comfortable heated eight-way power seats makes you feel at ease and in control — one with the road.

This year, Cadillac added something called Magnasteer and a variable-assist power steering system to the STS to optimize ride and handling over a wide variety of road conditions.

Inside, the instrumentation has been moved around for better use of analog gauges. You'll find the heating, ventilation and air conditioning (HVAC) controls located under the stereo system. The HVAC system now allows you to manually operate the controls, rather than setting them.

The only thing I didn't like about the new placement is that when in the park position, the shifter is nearly right up against those controls. It makes it hard to operate the controls with this huge shifter right in front.

The analog cluster is widened and provides a better view of the larger speedometer and tachometer.

Everything in the instrument panel flows around the driver and passenger, making it look complete in form and function. The STS is outfitted with a superb AM/FM cassette stereo and an optional 12-disc trunk-mounted CD changer. I don't know if I'm right, but it seems the controls on the stereo are a little bigger this year, giving you a little better control.

The steering wheel controls are now illuminated. Radio and climate controls, located on opposite sides of the steering wheel, can be operated easily without taking your eyes off the road.

As with most General Motors products, daytime running lamps are standard, as are the passenger and driver air bags. Another new feature on the STS has safety in mind. If the air bag is deployed, the interior lights come on within a second and stay on for 25 minutes or until the driver turns them off manually. The automatic door locks will also unlock within 15 seconds after deployment. A true safety issue resolved effectively.

There's something new on the STS that's really cool: A Rainsense Wiper System. This sensor activates the windshield wipers during inclement weather. On the wiper stalk, there's an "auto delay mode" — much like the intermittent wiper control of old — that allows it to automatically turn on your wipers when it starts to rain.

There's a small module located on the windshield next to the inside rearview mirrors that sense moisture on the windshield. It analyzes the number and frequency of raindrops falling and automatically determines the speed of the wipers. This is a really neat feature that's not only standard on STS, but also exclusive to the Cadillac brand.

There are a couple of buttons located in the glove box that can disable traction control, and a valet lockout button that allows you to deactivate the trunk, fuel door and garage door opener functions.

I think I could go on and on about the STS and the Cadillac brand. This is a good, strong premium luxury car with great styling, innovation and comfort. My mind's been changed. This is truly an outstanding automobile.
